"Before I proceed to show this I must express my surprise that in this dissolution of partnership and the starting of new accounts the Government has published neither the accounts nor the Budget estimate for Eastern Bengal and Assam. I applied to the Bengal Government for a copy and I was told that even your Honour's Government has not been furnished with a copy of the Financial Statement for Eastern Bengal. I then applied to the Government of Eastern Bengal and Assam for a copy and hoping against all hopes expected to be favoured with one. But Mr. Lyon has not had the courtesy of even acknowledging, much less of giving any reply, to my inquiry which was addressed to him.

"But through the courtesy of the Hon'ble Mr. Baker, the Financial Member of the Government of India, I was furnished with an abstract of the Budget estimate for Eastern Bengal and Assam. This statement, though it does not give such details as we would desire to have, yet confirms my suspicion that the fifteen districts have in no way been gainers by the change. I can show this to you even without any reference to the tabular statement with which I have been favoured by the Hon'ble Mr. Baker. If you will only refer to paragraph 218 of the Financial statement of the Government of India for 1906-1907, you will find that it has been necessary now to assign to the Government of the new Province a half share from all sources of revenue out of the fifteen districts. Had they remained with this Province and a half share of their land-revenue, excise, assessed taxes, &c., been handed over to this Government, every pice of it might have been given back to those districts in the shape of works of public utility. I would not detain the Council with figures which your Government furnished me with last year, disclosing the appalling rate of mortality and the decline of population, that have been noticeable for some years past in some of the districts in the Rajshahi Division. Yet I would mention that in the last Sanitary Commissioner's Report for undivided Bengal, the Dinajpur district stands first on the death-roll for fever, and Rajshahi comes next. Had we remained undivided, there was some hope for us. But now that we are cut adrift from the old Province, all hopes for the betterment of our lot are lost. Not only will the surpluses of our districts go now to contribute to the increased cost of a newly organised Administration, but even our prospective gains from a $\frac{1}{4}$ share more of our land revenue, &c., will also be frittered away for other purposes. So far as I can make out from a comparative study of the abstract of accounts of both provinces, the cost of central administration in the new Province has gone up under 'General Administration,' 'Police,' 'Law Courts,' besides some other minor heads and stating in round figures we may fairly put down the total increase at about 10 lakhs a year, that is, to the extent of the estimated surplus from the 15 districts. This also agrees with what was stated by the Secretary of State as the estimated cost.

"I do not here take into consideration the 30 lakhs of lump grant given by the Government of India to the Government of Eastern Bengal and Assam this to meet the initial expenses of partition.

"The Assam Administration has all along had a half share of its revenue for the management of its provincial affairs, but still it could not get on without an annual assignment of 12 lakhs from the Government of India. Now that a half share from all sources of revenue from the partitioned districts has been made over to the new Province, the Government of India have in consideration for it withdrawn from Assam the annual grant of 12 lakhs and have made an annual assignment of a minus quantity of nearly $6\frac{1}{2}$ lakhs. So it is apparent how the larger share of revenue made over to the new Provincial Government also practically becomes lost to us. So financially, Bengal as it was, is now loser by about 20 lakhs of rupees a year and that on account of the increased cost of central administration consequent on the Partition. Has the price that we are annually called upon to pay for this Partition gone in any way to increase the efficiency of Government on either side of Bengal? The less is said the better of the measures with which Sir Bamfylde Fuller has inaugurated his rule in Eastern and Northern Bengal.

"I would invite the attention of the Hon'ble Members of this Council to a remark at page 25, Schedule A, column 6, paragraph 3, of the present Provincial Financial Statement where it is stated that the increase under the head of 'Law officers' of the Crown 'in the revised estimate (i.e., for 1905-6) is under charges for conducting law suits.' This is, I presume, to some extent due to our fighting the battles of the new Province. A litigious tendency either in a Government or in individuals is always very deplorable.

"I may here remark in passing that the observation in your Honour's Minute on Partition, dated 6th April 1904, that the lawyers have opposed the Partition out of self-interest, is wholly without foundation. Professionally they as a class have been and are likely to be more benefited than prejudiced by the Partition. But the love of lucre can never wipe out the moral nature in communities although it may in perverse specimens of human nature. The lawyers of this country are all men of education and of good social status in the country, and they have all along opposed the Partition even against their own self-interest because they regard it as prejudicial to the interests of their own people and country.

"Now that I have made good my point, that we have been financially the losers to no inconsiderable extent by the Partition, I shall proceed to offer a few observations with regard to the general administration of this Province as disclosed by the Financial Statement.

"I must offer my congratulations to your Government for the contributions of Rs. 75,000 to the Monghyr Municipality for water-works and Rs. 25,000 for the Bhagalpur water-works in addition to Rs. 40,000 given last year. But at the same time I must express my regret that no portion of the Budget provision of Rs. 3,60,000 made last year has been made over either to Rampur Boalia for water-works or to Rangpur for drainage. Similarly the sum of Rs. 20,000 budgeted last year for drainage at Berhampore seems to have lapsed. In this case it may be due to no scheme having been got ready in the course of the year, but I know that was not the case either with Rampur Boalia or with Rangpur. I know it of my personal knowledge that schemes for the water-works and the drainage referred to, were ready when I met the Sanitary Engineer of this Province at Rangpur in the middle of June last. The Chairman of the Rampur Boalia Municipality and the Vice-Chairman of the Rajshahi District Board approached your Honour's Government at Darjeeling for obtaining the grant, but I am sorry to say that they were unsuccessful. It is, however, assuring to find that the lapsed grant to the Berhampore Municipality re-appears in the next year's Budget.

"It pains me, however, greatly to find that the claims of Nadia, one of the unhealthiest districts in this Province, have again been overlooked. Referring to the Resolution of Your Honour's Government, dated the 18th of January of this year, on the Administration Report of the Presidency Division for the years 1900-1901 to 1904-1905, I find the following observations:—

'The general health of the Division was not satisfactory, the year 1902 being particularly unfavourable. The number of deaths recorded in that year was no less than 295,961, or 39·2 per mille, while in one district, Nadia, it reached 50·64 per mille, and in Jessore 42·66 per mille. Fever was responsible for the largest number of deaths, while cholera was prevalent in one part or another of the Division in every year of the quinquennium. In Nadia, Murshidabad and Jessore the rates of birth per thousand of population decreased, while those of deaths increased with the net result that in Nadia and Jessore the number of reported deaths exceeded that of births. This occurred in Jessore in every year of the quinquennium, and exhibits a lamentable record of the vital energies of a people sapped by fever and of the general unhealthiness of the district.'

"The answers that the Hon'ble Municipal Secretary to this Government gave me last year and this year go to show that the health of Nadia is by no means any better than that of Jessore. Under such circumstances I think that the health of the district of Nadia is deserving of as anxious care as that of Murshidabad or of Jessore. These three districts of the Gangetic delta are in fact the unhealthiest areas amongst the territories under your Honour's charge. I have lived in two of these districts and am fairly acquainted with the third. It is a matter of common experience that the chief cause of their unhealthiness is the want of good drinking-water. The defective drainage of the country, too, is no doubt a contributory cause of malarial fever. But the drainage of the Gangetic delta which has been deteriorating for a number of years with the decay of its river system cannot be remedied in a day. We can do a great deal, however, by improving the sources of water-supply. Most of the people of this country do not live in municipal towns. Contributions for better water-supply in municipal towns are good in their way, but they do not reach the people. What is urgently needed to save the people from the ravages of cholera and malaria is a supply of good drinking-water of which there is a dearth all over rural Bengal.

"I have no pretensions to professional knowledge. But the perusal of Captain Rogers' Report has confirmed my experience of malaria-stricken districts, that areas within them which have a good source of water-supply are comparatively immune. I commend to your Honour's attention the following extract from Captain Rogers' Report embodied in the notification from the Municipal Department of the Bengal Government, dated the 7th of July 1900—

'The most striking exceptions to the rule that the areas at a distance from the river bank have a high spleen-rate is that of Maniktalla, and the eastern portions of Ohitpur-Cossipore between the Grand Trunk Road and the railway, both of which, together with the rest of the last named, have the lowest rates of all. Moreover, they are the most water-logged of the whole area under consideration, both the ground water-levels of the cold weather and rainy seasons having been the highest recorded; so that it is evident that there must be some other factor to account for their marked immunity from malaria. This is certainly not the absence of the malaria-bearing mosquito, for it was in the first-named place that they were found during the minimum fever season to be more widespread than has hitherto been reported from any part of India. The only possible factor which remains is the water-supply, and it is noteworthy that these two water-logged municipalities are the only ones which have a full filtered water-supply from the same source that Calcutta itself is supplied by. That this is the true explanation is borne out by the very low spleen-rates of certain wards of other municipalities which have a partial filtered water-supply from various mills, as also of the wards of South Dum-Dum and Baranagar which border on Cossipore, from whose standpipes some of their inhabitants were obtaining filtered water.'

'So of all preventive measures for malarial fever that of rural water-supply in Bengal should take precedence over all others. Any attempt for the extermination of malaria-bearing mosquitoes in Lower Bengal would be 'utter folly' in the opinion of Captain Rogers. Bengal, which abounds in pits and pools, furnishes a good culture-ground for various varieties of mosquitoes, some innocuous, others anopheles of the type which propagate malaria. So, the expert says, 'great circumspection is required' for the destruction of anopheles in Lower Bengal, and any indiscriminate attempt to annihilate mosquitoes in tanks and pools would be 'so much money thrown away as far as malaria prophylaxis is concerned.'

'As for the other remedy, namely, the filling up of pits and hollows, which Bengal abounds in and of which the railways have contributed by far the largest number, this is also a physical impossibility. The capital we have invested on earthwork in our railways we cannot sink back again into the pits and hollows. Even if we were reckless enough to risk that, where would we get the earth to fill them without making fresh pits and hollows? At any rate we may increase the number of culverts along the railway lines and take care not to dam up water-courses to make a saving in the construction of suitable bridges.

'So ultimately the least costly and the most urgent of the preventive measures for malaria reduces itself to the question of a supply of good drinking-water to our people.

'If we are asked where we are to get the money, I would point to items of expenditure such as the contribution of one lakh and thirty-eight thousand for filling up a portion of the tank at Dalhousie Square and for returfing it. If we indulge less in æsthetic experiments of the kind, we can surely afford to supply reserve tanks of drinking-water in rural areas. Next I would for a moment draw your Honour's attention to the enormous sums of money that are being locked up or wasted annually on works of no public utility, under the head of non-recurring expenditure. Two years ago the Tramcar Depôt and adjoining land was acquired by the Bengal Government at a cost of 9 lakhs for the housing of its highly paid officials. I do not think that Government is at all justified in investing taxpayer's money in house property except in places where no houses are available for its officers to live in. As investments, the officers' quarters are likely to prove unprofitable in the hands of Government. They can at the most deduct 10 per cent. out of the salary of their officers and that only when these officers come down from the hills and reside in town during the cold weather months. The rents realized on this scale would hardly yield 2½ per cent. on the capital outlay since we know that Calcutta house property when occupied for a whole year yields not more than 5 per cent. I would suggest the resale of the land and the appropriation of the sale-proceeds for our more urgent sanitary needs. Last year's budget put down 9 lakhs more for officers' quarters at Howrah and Burdwan and this year's too Rs. 3,80,000 again for officers' quarters, &c., at Howrah. Of these sums only a small portion is intended for jail buildings. The annual drain in the successive provincial budgets on account of the proposed removal of the Presidency Jail from a healthy locality to a less healthy one is also a wholly unjustifiable waste. Not only have we paid heavily for the provincial partition, but we have also to pay 4 lakhs as the price of land and building for the division of the Midnapore district into two. Such schemes can surely wait but not the dearth of good drinking water. I do not also understand why we should invest Rs. 50,000 for the Judge's House at Gaya, Rs. 33,000 for the Judge's House at Darbhanga, and Rs. 81,000 for the purchase of bungalows in Cuttack. If the Government think that Judges should not live in houses owned by private persons, then I would suggest that Government should take lease of houses from private individuals and sublet them to their officers. On no principle of economics can the State be justified in blocking up taxpayers' money in the acquisition of property even if it be with an eye to its rents or profits. Every pice of taxpayer's money left after defraying the costs of administration ought to be paid back to the community in works of public utility, and their sanitary needs should be assigned the first place amongst them. Their educational needs come next. But here again we regret to find that almost the whole of last year's Government of India grant for Primary Education has been set apart for buildings. The rural people who live in huts do not require masonry buildings for their school rooms. Thatched bungalows can be provided at a much less cost and will be equally suitable for such purposes.

"I must thank you, Sir, not only for the various allotments that you have made in the present Budget, for the improvement of hospitals and in aid of educational institutions, but also for the improvement of water-ways in Bengal. The grants of Rs. 75,000 for the Bhairab-valley drainage and of Rs. 4,50,000 for a suction dredger, besides Rs. 3,90,000 for the latter in the revised estimate, testify to Your Honour's desire to help us in this direction. Such sums of money spent for the improvement of the water-ways in Bengal are not so much money thrown away but repaid to the people in benefits of many times their value. I am glad that the question of the improvement of the water-ways of Bengal has received now the attention of the Secretary of State and the Government of India. Let us hope that the assurances given by Sir Denzil Ibbetson on the day of the Budget discussion in the Viceregal Council will be given effect to before grass grows underneath our feet on the river-beds of Bengal. I see that the improvement of the Bhagirathi and the Tolley's Nala is already being considered. Let us hope that these two schemes may not exhaust all our energies and resources. The Gorai which has been fast silting up within the last five years deserves urgent attention of Government.

"I was told by the Hon'ble Secretary of the Public Works Department last year that in dealing with the rivers of Bengal we must remember that we would be dealing with vast forces of nature and therefore, he suggested, we should pursue a policy of inaction. I was very much surprised to hear an Engineer talk to us in that strain. Every student of applied sciences is taught at school that the object of such scientific knowledge is to turn the forces of nature to the services of man. The vaster are such forces at the command of any country the greater is the fund of its potential wealth. I am sure that the Hon'ble Member made those observations last year in a moment of indiscretion, and I have no desire to make much of it. I would, however, invite his attention to a very interesting paper read before the Society of Arts by our late Public Works Secretary, Mr. R. B. Buckley, on the 15th of February last, and published in the journal of the Society on the 2nd of March.

"I need only add that if a current could be maintained along the Bhagirathi and the Jalanghi which drain the Murshidabad and Nadia districts and along the Mathabhanga, the Kumar and the Gorai, which drain the Nadia and the Jessore districts, it would not only increase the facilities of inland transport, but would greatly solve the problem of drinking-water-supply for men and cattle and also vastly improve the drainage of the districts. Any money spent on such schemes will trebly repay itself in health, wealth, and contentment of the people concerned. The ghastly Administration Report of the Presidency Division would probably then become a thing of the past. There need be no apprehension on account of our State-owned railways. These water-courses will serve as feeder-roads to them and, as I observed last year, will surely go to increase the traffic along them. The railways are owned by the State in Germany, and during the last thirty years they have spent 22½ crores on their water-ways. During the same period only 7½ crores have been spent on navigable water-ways in all India. By recent legislation in Germany a further sum of 25½ crores of rupees has been sanctioned for further improving the facilities of water-transport. I see, therefore, no reason why we should not spend as much of our provincial resources as may be available, for the improvement of our water-ways instead of blocking them up in unprofitable brick and mortar. We should also ask the Government of India, so far as it is beyond our resources, to undertake the improvement of our water-ways out of borrowed capital.

"I will take this occasion to express our alarm at the allusion made by the Financial Member of the Governor-General's Council to the question of a railway cess for guaranteeing local lines.

"I have the experience of a proposal of a railway line that came up before the District Board of my home district and for which pressure was put on the members of the Board to agree to the giving of a guarantee. If the members had yielded to the pressure, I know that it would have been a sad day for the Board. For then it would have had no money left by this time to carry on its ordinary work. If Local Governments are empowered to levy cesses for railway lines, the responsibilities of the District Boards would be far less and they may launch themselves in schemes which may benefit only a few but would be a source of burden to the toiling raiyats of the district. When the Hon'ble Mr. Baker is anxious to relieve us of the Public Works Cess or, at any rate, to surrender it to us for our local needs, of which he gave indications in his Budget speech, I would beg of him to put the idea of a local railway cess out of his mind altogether. A cess of this kind is bound to be exceedingly unpopular and irksome to the people of Bengal.

"I notice with pleasure that the Government of Bengal proposes to start a Central School of Weaving at Serampore, and that it has set apart a lakh of rupees besides the grant of Rs. 35,000 from the Government of India, for the purpose. The art of weaving had a great past in Bengal and let us hope that it will have a great future. I am somewhat familiar with the weaving industry in Bengal and have reasons to believe that with improved methods and appliances the weavers of Bengal will be able to hold their own even against the power looms. But I must express my regret that only a special school falls far short of our requirements in the direction of technical training. We are in urgent need of such training in this part of India and why should not the Government establish in this city a polytechnic after the up-to-date European or American model? If the Government is in earnest about it, I know of individuals who will gladly contribute or co-operate.

"The Swadeshi movement in Bengal is chiefly confined to three things. The first is cloth, and I may inform this Council that the Swadeshi has given a greater impetus to the weaving industry of Bengal which has been struggling against foreign competition for many years past. Since the start of the Swadeshi movement I have been to many places in Bengal and everywhere the weavers, both Hindus and Mahomedans, who were before this almost starving assured us that God had at last given them food. So any one who did not support the Swadeshi movement, be that Government or individuals, will be sinning against both God and man.

"The second article against which the movement is directed is foreign sugar. The countervailing duty has failed in its object. But the Hon'ble Financial Member of the Governor-General's Council in his Financial Statement for this year, in para. 90 observes that the aggregate annual yield of raw-sugar in India is from 4½ to 5 million tons and that the imports of foreign sugar, both cane and beet, in 1904-05 represent considerably less than one-tenth of the local products. The people were not acquainted with these figures, but their action shows that they have an instinctive insight into these matters. The countervailing duty has now failed and the only course left for the Government is to see that the Swadeshi movement is kept up in full vigour in the interests of India. If these 5 million tons of sugar or any very material portion of it be driven out by foreign competition it would throw many more millions of men out of occupation. The condition of the Bengal date sugar industry is in a very pitiable plight. It was a thriving industry within my memory. The Government of Bengal ought to inquire and take steps to revive it. In any other country the Government would not sleep over such facts. If a school of chemical technology is established in this city, among other things, sugar refinery on the most scientific and economic lines may be taught to our people. I do not see any reason why even beet sugar cannot be manufactured in Bengal where the soil is good for anything that people would care to grow on it.

"The third item is salt. Bengal used to consume its own salt before Lord Clive made a monopoly of it in the interests of the Civil Service and to prevent corruption amongst its members. But those days of the Civil Service are gone. I do not wish to take you through all the vicissitudes of the salt industry in Bengal. But I know that Government was not very long ago contemplating the revival of salt manufacture in Bengal. This is the most opportune moment to do so. It will not be wise or politic to defer it even in the interest of English manufacturers. The examination of the Commercial Statistics shows that since 1890 Hamburg, Aden and Red Sea salt has been fast cutting into the English salt trade. The figures of 1903-4 show that the import from Hamburg, Aden and Red Sea ports almost equals that from England—in each case it being $5\frac{1}{2}$ millions of maunds. It is stated in the last Financial Statement of the Government of India that the people of Bengal are using very little of European salt. Under the circumstances it can serve no useful purpose to continue to sink the Indian consumer's money into the Red Sea. If the Salt Department of Bengal will confine their activities not only to punitive measures but would also devote their time and energy to the reviving of the salt industry in Bengal it will benefit the Government and the people alike. When the people of the Madras and the Bombay Presidencies consume their own salt, it is a hard lot, that we should be condemned to import salt from across the seas. It is an error to suppose that people can be tutored to contraband articles of prime necessity of life by individuals. They have a legitimate grievance in the matter of salt and the Salt Department of Bengal and that is why the people of their own motion have included salt among the commodities that they would prefer to procure locally. I may suggest to the Hon'ble Member for the Board of Revenue that he should consider the scheme for the introduction of the pan-system of salt manufacture in Bengal. This may put into the pockets of the people of Bengal a crore of rupees and also go to swell considerably the salt revenue.

"Lastly, I may mention that cigarette-smoking was developing into a regular vice amongst our youths. We must all be thankful to the Swadeshi movement for stamping out at one stroke this growing vice from amongst them. The Swadeshi movement has thus done what America has been trying to do for a number of years by local legislation.

"The Swadeshi instincts of the people of Bengal are quite correct and deserve every support from the Government.

"In conclusion, I cannot help expressing my regret that a member of the Civil Service has been appointed to succeed Sir Alexander Pedler, as the Director of Public Instruction, in disregard of the persistent opposition of educationists in this province. I must not be understood to make any personal reflections against Mr. Earle. But there can hardly be any doubt that the supersession of the superior claims of many capable members of the Educational Service is likely to operate to the prejudice of that service.

"I cannot but also express my regret at the issue of a recent circular by the retiring Director of Public Instruction for the establishment of a closer connection between Magistrates and heads of colleges and schools. Such circulars, as recent experience has shown, are always a source of friction between Magistrates, teachers and students, which is certainly not conducive to the interests of education.

"The Magistrates may be better employed in exercising supervision over the Police. If they are charged with such duties, they may be relieved of their judicial functions. The lakhs that are now being spent annually for the so-called police-reform might be saved to the Indian taxpayer, and the much-needed reform known as the separation of the Executive from the Judiciary may be carried out at a considerably less cost to the State.

"We have had enough of police and magisterial meddlesomeness with our boys of late, and it will not be to the interests of the State or of the boys to perpetuate executive interference with our schools and colleges. Boys are boys all over the world, and, as in other countries, they should be left to the care and control of their guardians and teachers."

The Hon'ble BABU AMBIKA CHARAN MAZUMDAR said:—"Your Honour—Before I say anything about the Budget I think I owe it to myself to acknowledge with gratitude and respect the concession which Your Honour has so generously granted to us as regards the time allowed for the consideration of the Budget. I had to complain last year about the shortness of time usually granted for the purpose, and the Government has this year allowed us full two weeks' time to study the Budget in all its details. I hope and trust this salutary change will form a precedent for all future Budget discussions in this Council.

"Sir, it was about this time last year, when the Budget was taken up for discussion that I had the temerity to say that for most of us the discussion possessed only an academic interest. Little did I dream at the time that for some of us, at all events, that interest would, within a period of 12 months, be reduced to a historic one. A great change has taken place in the meantime. Your Honour's satrapy has been shorn of little less than one-fifth of its territories and more than one-third of the population that owned its sway. Its magnitude, its importance, its pride and its grandeur must now all be things of the past, while Your Honour will probably be reckoned as the last Lieutenant-Governor with whom the historian will close that chapter in the history of Bengal under Lieutenant-Governors which is illuminated with the brilliant record of a galaxy of administrators beginning with Sir Frederick Halliday. Here drops the curtain over the progress and development of a growing nation, and here breaks a glorious tradition of the proudest service in the world. Divested of all the historic seats of Hindu and Muhammadan greatness, cut off from the historic associations of centuries past and stripped off of nearly three-fourths of the Bengalee-speaking people, the Government of Bengal is now essentially a misnomer. Your Honour has, like the fringes of an old garment, cast away a people who have vainly struggled to cling unto your Government. Whether that people were a source of real strength or of weakness to your Government time alone will prove. The truth, however patent on one side or the other, will not probably be admitted in the present disturbed state of the country. Your Honour wanted relief, and relief has been granted to Your Honour; but the fact remains that this has been done at the sacrifice of the cherished interests, hopes, sentiments and associations of the people committed to your charge. It is to be regretted that while there were many methods of carrying out a most unpopular measure, the one that was most irritative, most retrograde and most disturbing found favour with the Government. It would be idle to disguise the fact that it has given a rude shock to the confidence which the people have always reposed in the sense of justice and fairness of British statesmen and administrators, and as a consequence there is feverish excitement all over the Province. In spite of all the efforts to cry it down, the feeling underlying that excitement is gradually deepening and spreading far and wide into the country. From my anomalous position in this Council I understand I have no right to voice forth the grievances of those whom I am supposed to represent in this august assembly. But although it has to be acknowledged with a sense of relief and gratitude that repressive methods have not been generally countenanced by Your Honour's Government, injudicious arrests and ill-advised prosecutions, even of students, have not been wholly unknown in this Province also. How far the present state of things may be conducive to good government either in this or in the other Province, and how far the remote consequences of the methods employed to allay the present excitement may be justified on even administrative grounds, must be left to the verdict of the next generation. It has, however, to be presently said that the new arrangement has been a source of not a little financial embarrassment to this Government. Most of the expensive institutions, whether educational or otherwise, have fallen to the share of Your Honour's Government. Whether they will ever have their proper counterparts in the other Province is more than one can foretell at the present moment. The Supreme Government having divided the Province into twain was obliged to make provision for feeding two mouths with the earnings of one. It has accordingly been obliged to surrender a portion of its surpluses and to raise the provincial shares under certain heads of revenues; but this was hardly sufficient to meet the extraordinary requirements, and the old, orthodox, mysterious 'expansion of revenue' has been largely called into requisition to make the two ends meet. These enormous surpluses in the Imperial revenues have been to a large extent responsible for many an extravagant project and mischievous activity in this country. The increase of the Indian army and the consequent punitive expeditions, such as the Tirah expedition and the Tibet mission, were all due to the itchings of these superfluities. The Argonautic Expedition, undertaken by Sir James Westland for the introduction of gold currency, also owes its origin to these surpluses; and now they have accomplished another conquest—the conquest of East and North Bengal by Assam. The Budget before us is a proof positive of the fact that but for a surplus of 130 crores of revenue it would have been an impossible feat even for the strong Government of Lord Curzon to divide Bengal. But what about the bold, refreshing statement which Mr. Brodrick was led to make about the extra cost of the Partition? Ten lakhs, or properly speaking, about 12 lakhs would be the cost of the various offices and establishments only. Much more would be required to keep the two Administrations going. The present Budget itself shows that the Imperial Government has surrendered about a crore of its revenue to keep up the Bengal Government as a living Administration, and at least one-quarter of that sum must have been provided for the new Province also. It is now evident why the financial aspect of the Partition question was never made public, and how the equanimity of the Government never disturbed in hurrying the measure with such indecent haste in the teeth of a frantic opposition of the people. But, however complacently has the able Financial Secretary tried to submit to his half rations and heave a sigh of relief that it was not worse, it is perhaps not difficult to perceive that he was not altogether insensible of the pinch. Sir, we have had ere this prosperity Budgets, as well as adversity Budgets. We have heard of bread-and-butter Budgets also. But to-day we have met to discuss the mutilated Budget of an emasculated Province. May I still venture to express the hope, however extravagant or unreasonable that hope may appear to be in certain quarters, and however much the light may have at last dawned as an inspiration upon the Bengal Chamber of Commerce to reveal to the blind world the future benefits of the Partition, that should an opportunity yet present itself, Your Honour's sympathies may be enlisted on the side of healing the bleeding wound that has been caused in the heart of the Province which had been committed to your care and protection.

"At the outset it appears to be somewhat remarkable that while the Province has lost nearly one fifth of its territories and more than one-third of its population, its revenues, as shown in the budget before the Council, have not suffered a proportionate diminution. In the budget of 1905-06 the total revenue was estimated at Rs. 5,60,00,000 with an expenditure of Rs. 6,00,00,000. In the present estimate the revenue stands at nearly Rs. 5,00,00,000, while the expenditure is put down at Rs. 5,20,00,000. On examining the various heads of receipt it would appear that in land revenue there is an increase of about 53 lakhs; in assessed taxes the estimate is for 23 lakhs, being double the assessment for 1905-06; while in excise there is an excess provision of nearly 3 lakhs over the estimate of the last budget for undivided Bengal. Similar overestimates are observable under several other principal sources of revenue in this budget. It would be interesting to learn how these results have been obtained. Deducting even the 5 lakhs on account of survey and settlement charges in Purnea and Ranchi, and taking into account the increased share allowed under the present settlement, there still remains a very large excess in the estimated land revenue for which no explanation is given in the statement, save and except a vague assertion that larger collections are anticipated from Government estates. It would, however, have been more intelligible if it had been clearly stated how much of it was due to the generosity of the Government of India and how much to the elasticity of Indian revenues. In the case of excise we are simply told that the estimate allows an excess of $4\frac{1}{2}$ lakhs, and that the provincial share has been raised from $\frac{1}{8}$ to $\frac{5}{8}$ or $\frac{1}{2}$. Of course the able Financial Secretary has given his own calculations; but let us broadly test the results by another process. In the budget of 1905-06 for undivided Bengal the sanctioned estimate for excise was Rs. 75,91,000. Add to this $\frac{1}{8}$ of this revenue under the present settlement and we get Rs. 80,65,000. But this would ordinarily represent the revenue for the whole of Bengal as it stood before the Partition. Deduct one-third of this, or about 27 lakhs, for the severed districts, and there ought to remain Rs. 53,77,000 for new Bengal. Even allowing for a normal expansion, as it is called, of $4\frac{1}{2}$ lakhs, the total revenue ought not to exceed 58 lakhs. Thus it will be observed that whereas in 1905-06 the estimate for whole of Bengal was Rs. 75,91,000, in the present budget the estimate for new Bengal alone is put down at Rs. 78,50,000, while the population which furnishes the revenue has fallen off by over 20 millions. Then, again, the revised estimate for new Bengal, after readjustment of territorial jurisdictions between the two Provinces, including the actuals for the first $6\frac{1}{2}$ months of the severed districts and the last $5\frac{1}{2}$ months of Sambalpur, amounted to no more than Rs. 73,67,000. It is perhaps not difficult to understand how this has been levelled up to Rs. 78,50,000. It will be observed that a considerable portion of this overestimate is made up of very large enhancements allowed in the probable receipts under every minor head of the Excise revenue. Then, as I understand, $4\frac{1}{2}$ lakhs was the normal expansion allowed for Undivided Bengal in previous years, and if I am right in this assumption, surely some allowance ought to have been made for the dormant partner. I complained last year about the overassessment of the Excise revenue; and I regret very much that the tendency towards expanding this revenue seems to be insatiable. In this connection I should have liked to know how the contract distillery system introduced in Midnapore last year has worked, and how far it has fulfilled the expectations of Government to justify its retention in preference to the central distillery system. As regards the assessed taxes the increase seems to me to be still more striking. In the budget of 1905-06 the estimated revenue was Rs. 12,75,000. I had the honour of drawing attention of Government to the somewhat awkward figures furnished by a return which the Government was pleased to lay on the table. Government promised an inquiry into the matter; but so far as I can see the present budget bears no indication of any effective steps having been taken either to explain or to check the abuse to which the return pointed. So against the 12 lakhs of the last budget we have now got for new Bengal alone an estimate of over 23 lakhs. The provincial share has no doubt been raised to one-half, and this might well give us 23 lakhs for the entire Province as it stood before the Partition. In my humble opinion some remarks were needed to explain away this extraordinary increase. In the details of minor heads of receipts, as given in Appendix A, the assessed taxes find no place, and in the absence of any explanation it seems difficult to judge how far this glowing forecast of increase under this head is justified. I am sorry to have to say that the arrangement of the budget before us does not appear to me to be as satisfactory as it ought to have been. It is the first budget which has to deal with adjustments between the two Provinces and to indicate an equitable distribution of their financial liabilities. Neither the detailed remarks nor the new Appendix C throw sufficient light in this direction. Of course that distribution was in the hand of a higher Government; but where there has been addition and subtraction in our estimates, the sanctioned estimates with their distribution, as well as the loss and gain of this Government, might well have been shown under each of the principal heads of revenue. It would then have been possible to judge of the real merits of the forecasts taken in the present estimate. Here I desire to acknowledge with sincere thanks the courtesy with which the Hon'ble Mr. Shirree was pleased to furnish me with clear explanations of certain items in the Budget which appeared to me to be somewhat puzzling. If the Budget had been only framed in the lines of those explanations, which,

I am glad to find, exactly coincide with the lines which I have indicated in the above remarks, the Budget before us would have been indeed an enimently lucid document. It is somewhat remarkable that very scant notice has been taken of the Partition, although it is undoubtedly the greatest change that has ever taken place in the Administration of Bengal. But perhaps it was either unnecessary or inadvisable to take any very pointed notice of the effect of this change on the financial position of this Government; and so long as there is a vast surplus in the hand of the Imperial Government and there is also the possibility of forced expansion of local revenues, such effects may safely be ignored or discounted. But, Sir, after all I do not quite understand why it becomes at all necessary to make overestimates upon mere assumptions of progressive increase or normal growth of revenues. There are the actuals of the previous year, or at all events of the greater portion of it, and I do not see why it is not possible to take these as the probable receipts in the new budget, and then if there are any increase, or the revised estimate shows any expansion under any head, such increase may reasonably be allowed to swell the estimate in the next budget.

"The reason why I have taken so much pains to complain about this so-called "normal expansion" of revenues is plain enough. An overestimate of its revenues by Government necessarily implies an increased demand upon those who are entrusted with the levying and collection of such revenues, and experience has shown that such overestimates have invariably been followed by overassessments. The forecast of every division and every district is increased, and then it becomes incumbent on those who are entrusted with the actual working out of the various taxes artificially to level up their assessments so as to meet the demand of the estimate. Thus the excise revenue has been steadily increasing despite the high duties set upon all excisable articles, and it is thus that the income-tax, in spite of the raising of the minimum taxable limit from Rs. 500 to Rs. 1,000, has suffered no diminution. Have the actual receipts in any year under any of the principal heads of revenue been ever known to have fallen perceptibly short of their probable estimates? If not, what are we to think of a country whose public revenues have such an irrepressible tendency towards expansion that in spite of all the arrangements that the Government has generously provided to curb their overgrowth they must double themselves in 15 to 20 years. The people are groaning under the burden of taxation. To my mind it is not so much the taxes themselves, onerous as they are, as the manner in which they are actually administered, that is mainly responsible for this burden, and I feel it my painful duty to say that our budget estimates to a large extent encourage overassessments, with the result that if no new taxes are added every year, the annual increase allowed to those that are in existence practically acts as a substitute, leaving very little room to the taxpayers either for relief or for consolation.

"The first thing that would strike one in glancing over this Budget is that the enormous closing balance of last year, amounting to over Rs. 1,17,00,000, which was due to Undivided Bengal, has been wholly appropriated to this Province. If a proportionate allowance had been made for the severed districts the revenue under this Budget would have been still further reduced. It would be no argument to say that the new Province did not make any claims for a part of this large surplus. That Government may have had enough of consolation of its own not to press even its legitimate claim to a treasure trove; but the money which has been surrendered did not belong to His Honour the Lieutenant-Governor of East Bengal and Assam, but to the people of East and North Bengal; and, as such, a fair share of this opening balance ought to have been credited to their account. Here, again, the dominant partner has had his advantages over the dormant partner. Another feature of the Budget also seems to me to be rather disappointing. It will be noticed that while the revised estimate, which is a more correct index to actuals, shows a net improvement of over 8 lakhs on the side of revenues, on the expenditure side it shows a net decrease of over 28 lakhs. This evidently means that while the receipts have gone on increasing, several of the important projects upon which Government was congratulated at the last Budget have been left unaccomplished, or if at all taken up in hand, have been imperfectly carried out. Thus we find the promised increase of Munsifs and Deputy Collectors, whose numerical strength has long been found to be extremely inadequate, remains unrealized; about 7 lakhs of the allotment for the improvement of the Police have been saved; and over 9 lakhs of the provision for the Education Department have been left unexpended; and last of all, what about the poor, hard-worked and ill-fed Ministerial officers? About 4 lakhs was provided in 1904-05 for relieving their hard lot. Nothing was done within the year; and in the next Budget it was reduced to about 2 lakhs. Then came the Partition which swept away the prospect of about a third of these unfortunate people; and now in the present Budget, the item has quietly slid down to Rs. 1,50,000. The Government was repeatedly pressed for a solution of this question; but all that it could say was that the scheme was under the consideration of the Government of India. Surely the grant of a few rupees increment to the salaries of a number of clerks was not a more complex question than either the Army organization, or the Partition scheme; and yet both the latter have long become accomplished facts, while the former yet suffers from indefinite postponement. I have ventured to say all this because I am assured of Your Honour's genuine sympathies for the poor. It is also noticeable that the original estimate of 25 lakhs for contributions to Local Funds was reduced to 23 lakhs in the revised estimate to meet the pressure of other departments, while the estimate in the Budget under consideration is still less, the allotment being reduced to 19 lakhs. In this connection I would invite Your Honour's attention to the grievance from which Bengal suffers as regards the Provincial rates. In Bombay, Madras and most other provinces the whole of these cesses belong to the Local Boards. In Bengal, however, strictly speaking, not even one-half is credited to the District Boards. The Hon'ble Mr. Baker from his place in the Supreme Council, referring to this very subject, said: "I shall be very happy if within my term of office it should be in my power to redress this injustice to the province to which I have the honour to belong." The District Boards of Bengal have been long pronounced to be successful and have proved themselves to be very useful adjuncts to the general administration, but they are mostly hampered in their work for want of sufficient funds. May I, as a representative of some of these local bodies, venture to express the hope that before Your Honour lays down your high office it may be your proud privilege to redress this wrong to the province which Your Honour has been called upon to govern.

"As regards the various expenditure they, as a rule, follow the receipts, and I do not consider it necessary to dwell upon them very minutely. I, however, regret to find that the wholesome provision made last year for an Additional Judge in the High Court for inspection work has been eliminated from the present Budget. I should have liked to know what agricultural improvements Government contemplates to undertake with its improved allotment under the present settlement and what provision has been made in the Budget for that purpose. Out of Rs. 2,62,000 provided under Land Records and Agriculture, Rs. 1,67,000 have been specially allotted for the maintenance of the records in Orissa and Sambalpur and Rs. 27,000 for superintendence. With the small balance thus left for district charges, it may still be possible to initiate some agricultural improvements, notably the establishment of a few experimental farms for the cultivation of cotton in selected areas within the Province and the distribution of cotton and other seeds among bond fide cultivators. It appears that provisions that have been made in the Budget for the division of one of the bigger Divisions and one of the bigger Districts into two. This was precisely one of the methods suggested by the public and the press for the relief of the Government of Bengal; but the proposal which apparently then failed to carry weight with the Government seems now to have found favour with it; so that now that the Partition of the Province has been effected, the partition of the Divisions and of the Districts has quietly begun.

"Another point to which I would draw Your Honour's attention is the water-supply and sanitation of the Province. I am far from suggesting that the matter has never received the attention of Government, for it has from time to time made grants for drainage works and also advanced special grants for water-supply in urban areas. There are several such grants in the present Budget also. What I contend for is that the subject should form one of the chief planks in our Budget programme, and not confined to mere spasmodic efforts of a desultory character. If Government is really anxious for the well-being of the people committed to its charge, as I trust it really is, it cannot be satisfied with simply throwing these burdens on crippled District Boards on the one hand and on strained and unsympathetic zamindars on the other. Strangely enough the rivers of a deltaic Province are visibly deteriorating and the mortality among men and cattle increasing. A thorough investigation ought to be made into the subject. The causes should be thoroughly diagnosed and the proper remedies laid down to be applied in a systematic manner. It is only then and not till then that the Government can successfully cope with the increasing scarcity of water-supply and increasing insanitation of rural Bengal. The attention of Your Honour's Government was also drawn to the Railway embankments and the reckless bridging of water channels by the Railway Department. Sir, it may be easy to silence people with laconic replies, but surely they cannot be expected to satisfy them. There may or may not be any real connection between the development of railways and the development of malaria and the scarcity of water; but as there are so many striking coincidences, something more than the ipsi dixit of railway engineers would be required to reject the popular theory altogether. I find that the question which was raised in this Council was incidentally referred to by one of the Hon'ble Members at the Budget discussion in the Supreme Council, while Your Honour is reported to have said that the Government of Bengal may be relied upon to give an adequate consideration to the subject. I take it therefore that the assurance which Your Honour's Government lately gave in this very Council, that it is looking forward to an expert investigation into the matter, may prove to be the inauguration of real sanitary improvement in this Province.

"Turning to education, it is no doubt satisfactory to observe that the expenditure under this head has been yearly increasing; but it has to be noticed that the grants-in-aid have been reduced by Rs. 50,000 from the revised estimate, and that while the lump provision in the preceding Budget for Primary Education was Rs. 10,00,000, the provision in the present estimate for Primary Education and other educational schemes amounts to only Rs. 2,97,000. There is no increase in the allotment for University Education, while the allotment for Direction shows an increase to the extent of nearly Rs. 10,000, although it cannot but be admitted that the Director of Public Instruction in Bengal also has had his fair share in the relief which has been brought about by the partition. Provision has been made in the Budget for an additional Professor of Sanskrit in the Presidency College. Nothing, however, is said as to the nature of the work which this Professor will be required to perform. It was rumoured at first, and is practically admitted to-day in Council, that this additional Professor will be a European and not a native of India. If the object be to impart classical knowledge of the Sanskrit language I cannot conceive of a more grotesque idea than this. What would have been thought of a proposal for the appointment of a Indian Professor to teach either English or Latin in the University of London, although "Babu English" may not be half so ridiculous as "Shahebi Bangalee" or "Shahebi Sanskrit"? Besides, a country that has produced Sanskrit scholars like the Rev. Dr. K. M. Banerji, Dr. Rajendra Lala Mitra, Pundit Iswar Chandra Vidyasagar and Professor Krishnakamal Bhattacharya, not to speak of the host of erudite Pundits of the old school, may not be unreasonably curious to know what European savant could be obtained on Rs. 500 a month to teach Sanskrit better than my esteemed friend Professor Kali Prosono Bhattacharji or Mohanohopadhyaya Hara Prasad Shastri? European articles are not so cheap—no, not even of Manchester. If, however, the object be to open something like a chair for Sanskrit researches, I would hail the project with all the warmth I possess, although I must confess that even in that case I would find that warmth somewhat damped by the inadequate provision made for the purpose. Sir, before leaving the question of education, I feel constrained to make one observation with regard to the latest development of the Educational policy of Government. The circular recently issued by Sir Alexander Pedler, which aims at complete subordination of the Educational officers to the executive authority, is a distinct retrograde step in the history of the Educational administration of this Province. The stock argument of increased interest and improved efficiency, which has been so frequently used in carrying out retrograde measures, has been the burden of Sir Alexander's plea for this dangerous innovation. He admits that "as education becomes more and more developed and technical, as has been the case in Bengal, there is more need of more expert supervision of the purely educational aspect of school work. Hence the details of courses to be studied and the critical inspection of the work of the schools must remain with the expert educationist." But, says Sir Alexander, at the same time the more general aspect as to distribution of grants and prizes and the general arrangement would in his opinion "be best controlled by the local executive authorities." Now to those of us who have not had the benefit of Sir Alexander Pedler's instructions, education has always had but one aspect, and that aspect is educational and educational only. Sir Alexander Pedler has however just realised that there is another aspect of it which he guardedly calls the "general aspect." But he has evidently overshot himself; for his elaboration of this aspect and the laboured defence he has put forward for executive control in matters of education leave little room for doubt that, paraphrased into plainer language, that aspect means nothing but a political aspect. Is there any single instance on record where our Inspectors of Schools have failed to control the general arrangements for Primary or Secondary Education, or to justify the assumption that the District Magistrates are better qualified than the Inspectors of Schools to control the arrangements of the Educational institutions? Sir Alexander was himself an Inspector before he became Director. Did the present revelation dawn upon him at any time previous to the eve of his own retirement? The Civil Service may be good for anything in this world, but I frankly confess that I am unable to appreciate how inexperienced Civilians are better qualified to control education than expert educationists. It is a curious irony of fate that while the people have been crying hoarse for the separation of the Judicial from the Executive functions, Government is step by step tightening the hold of the latter over almost all departments of the State. Ere this we have had a circular emanating from this Secretariat which has taken away the independence of the Judges and subordinated the Judicial to the Executive officers, and now we have a further usurpation by the latter in the domain of education. Octopus-like the executive function is spreading its tentacles to seize and swallow every branch of the administration. The direction of education has passed on to the Civil Service, and probably it is in the fitness of things that the minor concerns of education should also be transferred to that service. Sir, a recent Government circular, directed towards preventing school and college students from participating in political demonstrations, laid it down that the schools and colleges should not be permitted to become the "centres of political activity." Sir Alexander Pedler has anticipated the people and has converted the Government schools into political nurseries though of an opposite creed placed under the fostering vigilance of the local officers of the Executive Government. Sir Alexander Pedler has rendered his last service to Government; but I am afraid it will prove a positive disservice not only to the cause of education which he has so long represented in this Province, but also to that great department in which he passed his whole career and to which he may be said to owe his greatness. Sir Alexander has verily kicked the ladder behind him. Idle curiosity may still be tempted to look for an explanation why the learned Director, who was leaving the country so shortly, could not leave such an unpleasant matter for his successor-designate? Whatever that explanation may be, opinion will not be wanting to associate this innovation, rightly or wrongly, with the change that has lately been introduced in the Direction of Public Instruction in this Province.

"Sir, there are two points, however, in this Budget upon which I am glad to be able to congratulate Government. These are the abolition of the Zamindari Dakh cess and the provision for the establishment of a Technical Institute in Bengal. As regards the first, I have only to observe that it was not only an anachronism, the zamindars having been long relieved of their postal duties, but in its actual operation this tax was a fruitful source of hardship and oppression upon them. Repeatedly had its abolition been pressed both in this Council as well as in the Press; but the prayers then made fell upon heedless ears. The credit now belongs to the Government of His Excellency, the Earl of Minto, to remove this long-standing grievance, and I am glad that both Your Honour as well as the Hon'ble Mr. Hare were in full sympathy with the long-deferred relief granted to the landed interests. As regards the Technical Institute, it has also been a crying demand of the people for a long time, and the Government must be congratulated upon the wise step it has taken not to be left behind by that people. One word, however, has to be said as regards the allotment. In Bombay, where the textile industry has already made some progress, the Government of India has allotted Rs. 1,67,000, while in Bengal, where a beginning has to be made, the grant is not more than Rs. 35,000. I do not grudge Bombay her good fortune; but I cannot refrain from saying that the arrangement looks somewhat like carrying coal to Newcastle. I am glad Your Honour's Government has supplemented this small grant with an allotment of a lakh of rupees from the Provincial revenues. It has, however, to be noticed that while provision has been made as regards Bengal, the new Province of Eastern Bengal and Assam, which is said to be on an equal footing with the sister-province of new Bengal, has been wholly ignored. Probably it may be said that here Bengal still continues to be undivided, and the school at Serampore may be taken to serve the purposes of both the peoples so long as some circulars or resolutions may not ordain otherwise. The difference and disparity between the two Administrations have long been anticipated by the people. They have already manifested themselves in more directions than one; and as time passes on they must be more and more marked and felt by the people.

"Sir, one point more and I have done. The Partition is said to have relieved the Government of Bengal. May I inquire if this does not include the Bengal Secretariat also? If the relief to the Lieutenant-Governor means anything, it must mean the reduction of works in the Secretariat. I do not understand why the Revenue Department of the Secretariat cannot now be amalgamated with the Board of Revenue. The Board of Revenue in Bengal is a fossilized institution which should have been long extinct like the Dodo. In Bombay and Madras, which are temporarily-settled Provinces, they are well able to manage with either the Revenue Commissioners or the Revenue Board; but in Bengal, which is a permanently-settled country, both these costly subinfeudations of the Revenue Department are being maintained at the cost of the tax-payer. And as fate would have it, this has been again reproduced in the new Province. If relief was needed for the Government, was no relief due to the people also? Then with a civilian Director of Public Instruction, the General Department of the Secretariat is almost sure to be reduced to a mere Post Office in matters educational. The partition has opened a vast new pasture for the Civil Service; and can we not trust it with the generosity of parting with at least one of the fat berths upon which it has fed so long? Government is said to be anxious for economy. True economy lies here and not in the reduction of petty establishments of clerks and peons and in cutting down contingencies for goose-quills and blotting papers. I hope Your Honour will see the justice and fairness of reducing at last one of the Secretaries of your Government.

"Your Honour, I have so long mainly indulged in the criticism of the Budget, although that criticism has been directed more to its general policy than to its actual details with the corrections of which none of us I suppose can have any quarrel. I am, however, anxious that I may not be taken to be wholly insensible of the many good points in the budget. I have already referred to some of them, while many more have been pointed out by those of my colleagues who have preceded me. The tact and ability with which the Hon'ble Mr. Shirres has handled a difficult Budget under exceptional circumstances are truly admirable, and I yield to no one in this Council in my sincere appreciation of his great achievement."

The Hon'ble Mr. C. G. H. ALLEN said:—"Your Honour—I must express my regret at the absence of the Hon'ble Mr. Nalin Behari Sircar who represents the Corporation upon this Council, but I am not sorry that the intervention of the Hon'ble Babu Bhupendra Nath Basu gives me an opportunity of repeating in public, what I have more than once ventured to tell him in private, and that is, Sir, that a satisfactory solution of the Municipal problems of Calcutta is not likely to be attained without the co-operation of the best of her citizens. Sir, I have no hesitation in saying that the Hon'ble Member would be better employed, in assisting in the deliberations of the Corporation than in criticising them in this Council. So long as Achilles sulked in his tent, we are not told that he was allowed to take part in the councils of war, and we may easily guess the sort of reply he would have received from Agamemnon had he ventured in the Council Chamber to criticise the conduct of the siege. Far better would it be for the rate-payers were the Hon'ble Member to come forth from his tent and help us in the battle we are waging against dirt and disease.

"In answering the Hon'ble Member, Sir, I cannot help feeling struck by the inutility of discussing Corporation matters in a Budget debate in this Council Chamber. Here we are condemned to an academic and infructuous discussion, whereas in the Corporation suggestions are translated into motions and oratorical displays lead to resolutions. No doubt a budget debate affords the only opportunity for criticising the administration of the Local Government, but Municipal affairs are discussed ad nauseam in open meetings and it seems, therefore, to me wanton cruelty to weary this Council with a rechauffé of our interminable debates.

"I shall follow the Hon'ble Member's example in passing rapidly over the subjects of water-supply, lighting, conservancy and road repairs. I am satisfied that steady progress towards improvement is being made in all these matters, and the note of humorous exaggeration in the Hon'ble Member's remarks renders it unnecessary for me to examine his observations in detail.

"The drainage of the fringe area is a need of long standing and one which is admitted by the Corporation, though the Hon'ble Member's description of the heavy comparative mortality of this tract is scarcely borne out by the facts. Thus, for the five years ending in 1904, the average mortality in the fringe area was 38 per mille as compared with 37.5 in the town proper and 36.2 in the Suburbs. Similarly, the rate of mortality from fever was 6.7 per mille in 1905 in the fringe area as compared with 6.8 in the Suburbs and 4.3 in the town, while dysentery and diarrhoea were little more fatal in the fringe area than in the town proper, the recorded mortality being equivalent to 2.8 per mille in the fringe area as compared with 2.3 in urban Calcutta and 5.9 in the suburbs. A scheme has been prepared by the Engineers for draining this area on a combined system, but this project is very costly (the estimate exceeding Rs. 30 lakhs) and the Government has now been asked either to admit overflows from the new sewers, or the storm water from this area, into the canal. I understand that the Bengal Government has appointed a committee to consider this question from a sanitary point of view. If one of these alternative courses is approved by Government, it will be possible to pass the sewage into the Circular Road sewer and the cost of the scheme will then be reduced within practicable limits.

"The Hon'ble Member has asked me to consider whether a lower rate of percentage should not be allowed to residents in the fringe area. Under section 151, proviso 3, the Chairman is authorised to take a lower percentage in the case of buildings occupied by the owner under such exceptional circumstances as to render a valuation of 5 per cent. on the cost of construction excessive. I do not think that general insanitary conditions would be a legitimate reason for taking a lower percentage.

The Hon'ble Member argues that the levy of court fees upon appeals in the Small Cause Court against assessments results in the virtual denial of justice to the poorer ratepayers. The figures do not support the Hon'ble Member's contention, and there is no evidence to show that the scale of fees has affected the number of appeals.

"The Hon'ble Member has drawn attention to the method of assessment of residential houses in Calcutta. The reason why a different principle was introduced in assessing residential houses from that followed in the case of rented houses, is that it was found in practice impossible to determine in the case of a large number of residential houses, what the proper letting value should be. The proportion of residential houses is about 40 per cent. of the whole number of houses in Calcutta, and the Indian community are opposed to living in rented houses, with the result that in the case of those houses which are leased out, rents run extremely low. Consequently, prior to 1888, residential houses in Calcutta were under-assessed to such an extent, as, in the opinion of Sir Henry Harrison, to constitute a grave scandal, the annual value frequently representing as little as 2 per cent. upon the cost of construction. As Mr. Baker observed in Council during the debate upon the Bill which is now the Calcutta Municipal Act, 'it was a scandal that the class of houses owned by many of the wealthiest members of Calcutta Society and by a large number of middle class people, and by hardly any of the poorer class, should be habitually under-assessed.' The present method of assessment of residential houses at a percentage of the cost of construction was adopted in 1888, to remove this scandal.

"The Hon'ble Member is of opinion that we spend too much money on supervision, but this is not a topic which can be dealt with usefully by general assertion. It is a matter for detailed consideration of the quantity and quality of the supervising staff in each branch of the administration, and no such examination can be attempted in this Council Chamber. I can assure you, Sir, that I am fully alive to the financial danger of swollen Establishments, and am constantly on the watch for opportunities to effect savings in this direction. The recent elections have drawn further observations from the Hon'ble Member. I am personally of opinion that the machinery for the registration of voters' names has been made too difficult and I am proposing a simplification of the procedure. This does not involve the amendment of the law, but merely the modification of a schedule by a notification of Your Honour's Government.

"To me, Sir, the horizon looks brighter. The anticipations of the critics of the present Municipal Act that the Corporation would exercise no authority and would enjoy no power, have been falsified in a remarkable degree. The complaint now appears rather to be that Municipal work is too engrossing. The business is of a character to give scope for the highest ability and energy, and those who possess these qualities and yet refuse their assistance in the conduct of affairs must be prepared for the criticism that they are failing in their duties of citizenship.

"The Hon'ble Mr. Nimmo refers to the valuation of vacant lands in Calcutta which he thinks are not assessed at proper rates. The Hon'ble Member has been kind enough to forward for my consideration particulars of two cases upon which he relies in support of this view, and I have examined them carefully. I venture to think that the Hon'ble Member's complaint arises from a misconception of the law under which unoccupied lands are assessed. In one of these cases for instance, a piece of unoccupied land had changed hands for Rs. 68,000, and the Assessor had valued it at Rs. 1,728 only. The Hon'ble Mr. Nimmo is of opinion that the land should be valued at not less than 5 per cent. of the market value, and he draws the inference that the assessment in question is only about half what it should be. Under section 151 (a) of the Municipal Act, however, the annual value of land is the gross annual rent at which the land might reasonably be expected to let from year to year. Now, while it may be admitted that 5 per cent. upon the market price of land would be a reasonable rent to charge a lessee for a long lease which would enable him to utilise the land to the best advantage, it is clear that the rent so calculated would be excessive if the land were leased only from year to year. A tenant holding under such conditions would not be able to put up any substantial building upon the land and could not, in fact, utilise it to the best advantage. In such cases the value of the land is practically the rent which the owner of a bustee can hope to recover from the tenant who builds a hut upon it. I have not considered the further point as to whether any amendment of the law is desirable, for I do not understand that the question is raised by the Hon'ble Member.

The Hon'ble Mr. RICHARDSON said:—"I am fresh to this Council and have only recently taken over charge of the appointment which I have the honour to hold. I do not propose therefore to detain the Council long and trust that Hon'ble Members will forgive any deficiencies in what I am about to say.

"Turning first to the Judicial Department I think that the most important question which has been raised relates to the conditions under which officers of the Subordinate Judicial Service hold their posts. The question has been referred to incidentally by the Hon'ble Babu Ambika Charan Mazumdar and with greater emphasis by the Hon'ble Babu Jogendra Nath Mukerjee and the Hon'ble Mr. Syed Shurfuddin. I may remind Hon'ble Members that the Subordinate Judicial Service was reorganized in respect of its grading so recently as the year 1902, and that additions to the staff of Subordinate Judges and Munsifs, both temporary and permanent, have from time to time been made as necessity arose, at the instance of the High Court. It has not always been possible for the Government to meet every requisition for an increase in the staff with an easy affirmative, but proposals made by the High Court have always been carefully, respectfully and sympathetically examined and what could be done has been done. I do not quite follow the Hon'ble Babu Ambika Charan Mazumdar when he speaks of the 'promised increase of Munsifs.' I do not think any promise was held out last year. In view of the concessions made in 1902, at an annual cost of about one lakh of rupees, it has been considered that the time is not ripe to approach the Government of India in regard to the pay to which Munsifs in the different grades are entitled, but as I intimated in answer to a question which was put at the last meeting of this Council the Government has under its consideration certain proposals for improving the conditions of service as regards the rules, regulating leave and pension. Enough has been said to show that the interests of the Subordinate Judicial Service have not been forgotten. I cannot admit that the body of Munsifs are dejected, or that if there is any feeling of dejection among individuals the feeling is justified. I may add that a Munsif who shows ability and capacity in the discharge of his duties has now the prospect not only of being appointed in due course a Subordinate Judge but of entering the ranks of the Provincial Civil Service and holding a district charge in a capacity to which as I conceive very important and responsible duties are attached.

"In regard to the Hon'ble Mr. Shurfuddin's suggestion that the system of trial by jury should be extended to other districts in Bihar besides Patna, I am not prepared on behalf of the Government to give any pledge. The proposal is one which would require mature consideration before it was adopted, and as at present advised the Government do not think that it would be advisable further to extend the jury system in Bihar.

"The cry that the Judicial Branch of the Civil Service to which I belong has been subordinated to the Executive Branch is in my humble opinion a factious one which has grown stale by much repetition. Till recently I was a District Judge and speaking in that capacity, I have never felt that my independence of mind and judgment was fettered or interfered with in any way. Outside the sphere of their judicial duties, Judges in India as in other countries must necessarily be very much in the same position as their fellow citizens. They can hardly claim to be above the law and the constitution. Nothing to my knowledge has been done which encroaches on the powers, privileges and immunities of judicial officers as such under the law.

"The same Hon'ble Member, and I think others, have tracked the Executive monster of their imagination into the Education Department. I should have thought that a closer connection with education and educational aims and ideals would tend to soften the harsh and rugged features of the District Officer, as he has been depicted:

"Before leaving the judicial aspects of administration I should like briefly to refer to the creation during the year of the Darbhanga Judgeship, and to the provision now annually made in the Budget for residences for Munsifs (Rs. 50,000 last year and Rs. 40,000 this year). The provision of houses for the District Judges of Gaya and Darbhanga was, in the opinion of the Government, justified by the necessities of the situation in those districts. The investments as the Hon'ble Mr. Chaudhuri is aware are not unprofitable.

"The allotment in the Budget for Civil Works for the current year includes a lakh of rupees for the extension of the High Court.

"Turning to education, it is a source of gratification that the provision made in the Budget for Educational purposes has been so well received. The generosity of the provision cannot be denied. The revised estimates show an expenditure of Rs. 31,17,000 from Provincial revenues and Rs. 12,20,000 from District Funds, or a total of Rs. 43,37,000 on Education in the past year. The Budget for the current year is 53 lakhs, including 12 lakhs, from District Boards, but not including the special grant of Rs. 6,35,000 for the construction of a Model and Engineering College at Ranchi.

"Exception has been taken to the reduction which the figures seem to show in the amount allotted for grants-in-aid. But in point of fact there is no reduction. The provision of Rs. 8,20,000 made in the Budget for 1905-06 was for undivided Bengal. The sanctioned estimate for Bengal proper was Rs. 7,27,548. The revised estimate appears to include expenditure which has been met from other sources, including a grant of Rs. 30,000 from Imperial funds for Colleges. The budget provision for the current year may be taken to represent the normal provision under this head (seven lakhs) together with a grant from Imperial Funds for Colleges amounting to Rs. 80,000.

"There is also some misapprehension as to the savings effected last year in respect of funds marked for Education. The figures appear to show, as one Hon'ble Member has said, that the savings aggregate 9½ lakhs. But the figures are misleading, for the reason that a considerable portion of the ten lakhs grant for primary education has been expended through the medium of the District Boards on grants for primary school buildings. For account purposes this expenditure has not been shown as provincial but as local.

"The reduction in the corresponding grant for the current year, as shown in the budget (from ten lakhs to Rs. 2,97,000) is again only apparent. A new settlement has been made with the Government of India. A portion of the original grant (Rs. 3,33,000) has been transferred to the new Province. As to the balance, that has been included in the total assignment for education under the new settlement. The grant in other words has been incorporated in the settlement.

"As to the expenditure of these grants or a portion of them on school buildings, I think that the Hon'ble Mr. Chaudhuri has failed to appreciate the many advantages, moral and physical, social and sanitary, which substantial and well-ventilated schools are likely to confer.

"It is a pleasure to find that the scheme for establishing a Weaving School at Serampore for the furtherance of technical education has been welcomed with a chorus of approval. The Government of India have agreed subject to the consent of the Secretary of State to bear the recurring charges for this institution amounting roughly to Rs. 35,000 per annum, and the Local Government has been able to provide the lakh of rupees required for non-recurring expenditure. The Government originally contemplated that the money required for the latter purpose should be raised by public subscriptions, but endeavours to obtain funds in this way proved infructuous. An Hon'ble Member has compared the grant from Imperial funds for the current year with the grants made from the same source to certain institutions in Bombay. But in the first place, so far as I am aware, the Bombay grants are lump sums and not recurring grants, and in the second place Hon'ble Members must bear in mind that the Weaving Institution about to be started is a new departure on experimental lines. It is hoped that it will receive sufficient support and encouragement from the public to make it a success and that it will lead to greater things. But I do not think that the Government can do more than act as a pioneer in this matter. Much remains for private liberality and I was glad to hear of the scheme foreshadowed by the Hon'ble Mr. Chaudhuri. I may refer to the fact that during the year a new scheme of Commercial Education has been introduced into the Presidency College, Calcutta.

"Important questions affecting rural and primary education will, it is anticipated, shortly come before the Government. The Hon'ble Mr. Shurfuiddin may rest assured that the report of the Committee of which he was a Member has not been lost sight of.

"The Hon'ble Babu Jogendra Nath Mukherjee has drawn attention to the large grants for College education, general and technical. The grants include one lakh for the Patna College scheme and Rs. 75,000 for establishing a Training College at Bhagalpur. In connection with his general remarks, while I sympathise with them so far as I can follow their drift, I can only say that I think it will be for the people of this country to use the educational facilities placed at their disposal to the best advantage. The spirit of self-help and the capacity of combining for commercial purposes are products of time and it is unwise to attempt to force the pace too much. The question is one of moral and material progress.

"I agree so far with the Hon'ble Mr. Shurfuddin that education is, if not the most important, at any rate one of the most important functions of a modern Government, following close behind such functions as the defence of the country from external enemies and the maintenance of law and order within its borders, so that life and property shall be secure. But it is well not to lose sight of the prime necessity for that security. We are all of us so much accustomed to peace and order that they are sometimes taken for granted.

"I think that much has been done in the cause of education since the British came to the country. Large schemes like free primary education which come easily from the lips, are at present impracticable. They cannot be introduced without increasing taxation to an extent for which the country in the present stage of its industrial growth would not be prepared.

"As regards the agency by which education is conducted, I think the Hon'ble Babu Bhupendra Nath Basu could hardly deny the necessity under existing conditions for a European staff, and that being so, as a question of business, you must arrange for terms which Europeans will accept. After all their number is not large, and after all education in this country has been nursed and fostered into vitality by Europeans. The question of the Sanskrit chair in the Presidency College with which I dealt in answer to a question, has been referred to again, and I understand dissatisfaction has been expressed at the possibility of a scholar coming out from Europe. But I thought I heard something said about the Republic of Letters, and the cosmopolite character of the scholars profession.

"The interests of the Provincial and Subordinate Educational Services have not been forgotten. The scheme for improving those services has been sanctioned by His Majesty's Secretary of State and will involve an additional annual cost of about two lakhs of rupees. This Government is now in correspondence with the Government of Eastern Bengal and Assam in reference to certain details. It is hoped that it will be found possible to introduce the scheme at an early date. The question of the date from which the scheme should take effect, is under consideration. While on the subject of establishment, I may mention that proposals to strengthen the inspecting staff, superior and subordinate, are being considered, and that Sub-inspectors of Schools have been transferred from the control of District Boards to the Education Department:

"A proposal to restore the value of senior and junior scholarships to the amounts at which they previously stood, was last considered in 1904. The proposal was vetoed for want of funds but the matter will no doubt receive the attention of the Director of Public Instruction, though on the materials before me I can make no promise on behalf of the Government.

"Attention has been paid during the year to the condition of Students' hostels and messes and a new plan is being tried in Calcutta. A number of houses have been hired and placed under the supervision of an Inspector of Messes. The Government is doing what it can to encourage the growth of the residential or hostel system.

"As to the Oriental Library at Bankipore, a grant for the cost of printing the first volume of the catalogues of Arabic and Persian manuscripts, estimated at Rs. 2,500, has been met from the educational budget for last year. Scholarships have also been given to the Muhamadan scholars who are engaged in compiling the catalogue.

"I have nothing more to say except that I hope that as much progress will be made in the year just opened, as in the year which has just closed."

The Hon'ble Mr. INGLIS said:—"Your Honour—I wish to offer only a few remarks on some of the questions and arguments which have been brought forward in this debate relating to the departments which I have the honour to represent.

"The Hon'ble Babu Jogendra Nath Mukerjee has put to us the question whether, if irrigation brings certain evils in its train and if the Railways and raised roads all over the country restrict the waterways and interfere with the drainage, is it not the plain duty of Government to work out a scheme which will remedy these evils. Well, Sir, here of course everything hinges on that little word "if." With respect to irrigation, in my opinion it is undoubtedly the case that where, as on the Sone Canals, rice has taken the place of other crops requiring less water or not requiring irrigation at all, there is some increase in sickness which we call in a general way malarial fever. This may be due to a rise in the level of the sub-soil water or to other causes, but whatever the cause I believe it to be a fact that you cannot have a purely artificial cultivation of rice on a large scale without some bad effect on health. This question has been fully dealt with in Italy, where canal irrigation has been practised for centuries. Legislation restricting rice cultivation goes back to 1575, when it was altogether prohibited within certain distances of inhabited places. There has been much further legislation, an account of which is given in Colonel Baird Smith's work on Italian Irrigation. It seems hopeless to find any hard-and-fast solution. Colonel Baird Smith wrote:—"The agricultural proprietors are in direct opposition to the Government. Means are invariably found first to evade all the rules the latter may issue and in the end to compel the regulating authority to recognise such evasions by sanctioning what it has proved incompetent to prevent. The cultivators of rice have, with every new law, secured the occupation, as it were, of a new province; and the whole history of the progress of the sanitary legislation of irrigation in Northern Italy has been a record of successful encroachment on one side and vain efforts at repression on the other." As far as I can judge, if we were to try to restrict by law the extent of artificial rice cultivation in Bihar, our experience would be much that of Italy. The cultivation is valuable and certain, and the desire for gain, which we all share, is stronger than the desire for health when coupled with want. In Orissa, where there has been no material change in the nature of the cultivation, irrigation does not appear to have had any bad effect on health. The matter of percolation from the canals is one which has received attention, but which perhaps deserves more, and it may be practicable by a system of open drains to reduce the water-logging, of which there is in places a certain danger. I do not mean to say that I think that the irrigated tract on the Sone Canals is particularly unhealthy, but it is right that we should keep in mind the dangers to health which must attend an artificial wet cultivation. On the other hand, the canals give a good supply of drinking water, and by some this is held to be of more importance than drainage in combating malaria. Turning to the question of railway and road banks, I here challenge the "if" by a direct negative. I say that there is no general interference with the drainage by roads or railways. I do not say that there may not be in some cases local interference. Where there is, it is not a difficult matter to put right if specific facts are brought forward; but a sweeping indictment that the works of irrigation and railways constructed by the State divert and interfere with the natural drainage of the country and the outflow of its waters generally, can only be met by contradiction and does little to help to do what we all desire, which is to put right such isolated cases as there may be of interference with drainage.

The Hon'ble Member is pleased to describe the Magra Hât drainage scheme as a comparatively small project. Well, Sir, as it provides for the drainage of 280 square miles of country and will cost about 20 lakhs, I cannot, while welcoming this large-minded view of local works and local responsibilities, but wonder what sort of drainage scheme would satisfy the Hon'ble Member on the score of extent and cost.

The Honourable Mr. Chaudhuri has said that in last year's debate on the financial statement, I advocated a policy of inaction in dealing with the Rivers of Bengal. He expresses his astonishment, but he is however good enough to say that, as I no doubt said what I did in a moment of temporary aberration, he will not deal too severely with me. Well, Sir, this is very kind of the Honourable Member, and I am much obliged to him, but at the same time I am afraid I must state that I adhere to the views I expressed last year, which were not formed in a moment of indiscretion or aberration, but deliberately and after much consideration. With your permission, Sir, I will repeat the brief remarks I made on this subject last year. I said: "the Honourable Mr. Chaudhuri has drawn attention to the necessity for works of sanitary drainage. He has particularly drawn attention to the necessity for removing shoals at the heads of dead or dying rivers, so as to cause the flow from the parent stream to again enter on them. I think, Sir, we are all agreed that this is an ideal to be desired. I am, however, afraid that in the vast majority of cases it must remain an ideal. In dealing with rivers, such as the Ganges and the Brahmaputra, we are dealing with forces of nature on a vast scale. The beds and banks of these rivers are of an extremely changeable nature. It is almost impossible, except at an enormous outlay, to hold permanently any fixed position. If, owing to the action of natural forces which are beyond our control, a parent river chokes up the head of one of its branches and opens out another in a different part of the country, we may endeavour to remove the shoal at the head, but we have, I think, no guarantee that we shall be able to prevent that shoal reforming almost at once."

"Now this deals only with one phase of the treatment of the rivers, viz., with attempts to alter the course of nature. Speaking very generally, the position, as I conceive it, is much as follows: The Ganges having done a certain work in the formation of that part of its delta in which Calcutta is situated, by means of the Bhagirathi or other similar channels, moved further east, and in conjunction with the Brahmaputra is now performing a similar work in the direction of Chittagong. The consequence is that the original outlet channels from the Ganges to the sea situated to the west of the Gorai have more or less closed up and only now carry water in the flood season. In the course of time, when sufficient work has been done in the formation of land at the east of the delta, outlet channels in the west will doubtless again open. What I said last year and what I say now is that, if we try to alter the course of nature, we have very little idea what the result of our operations may be. Take the case of the Bhagirathi. It is of course quite possible to excavate a channel in its bed by means of large and expensive dredging plant. But what will be the result? Will this channel remain as we make it? Will it at once close up again and leave us to reopen it every year, or will nature accept our lead and, taking matters out of our hands, enlarge the channel we have started to an extent we never contemplated? Such things have, I believe, happened in other places. If it does and if the accumulated sand in the bed of the Bhagirathi comes into the Hooghly and into the Port of Calcutta, and if the Bhagirathi brings down more water than that the Hooghly at Calcutta can carry, I ask what will then happen? I think it is only a very bold or a very rash person who will venture on any prediction. I therefore say that great caution is necessary in attempting such a scheme. It is fairly safe to assume that, when problems, such as the relief from devastation by flood of the country between the Damoodar and the Roopnarain, and such as the reopening of the Bhagirathi, which have been considered time after time for many years, remain unsolved, it is because they are very difficult if not incapable of satisfactory solution. I do not say, and I never have said, that we should do nothing, but I do say that before we start operations we require to know with some precision what it is we hope to effect. I am not usually by any means a pessimist, but I think that the question of the improvement of our natural waterways is more difficult than is generally assumed. It is a common place to talk of the magnificent waterways of Bengal, but this always seems to me to be the language of exaggeration. The Ganges is a river with numerous shoals with a moving bed and with unstable banks, and for nearly the whole of its course without a stone or pebble to build with. Still there is doubtless much that can be done if money is spent. The canal from the Bidyadharee to the Hooghly must, I think, come. Here we know exactly what we want to do, and it is a mere question of £ s. d. Again it is comparatively simple to dredge through the shoals of the low water channel of the main Ganges, and we may have a moderate hope of being able to maintain a channel in the dry season for inland vessels either in the Bhagirathi or the Jellinghee. Such measures will be useful for navigation. I do not think that they can have the good effect on sanitation, which the Honourable Mr. Chaudhuri seems to expect. I speak subject to correction, but I imagine that at present there is always sufficient water in the beds of the Nadia rivers to provide a supply for drinking to the people on their banks, and the drainage of the country will not be affected in any way.

"The Honourable Mr. Nimmo urges the importance of cheap transport. I may say that on the Orissa Canals and on the Orissa Coast Canal we have, in the last few years, materially reduced the rates of toll with satisfactory results on the volume of traffic. We are just about to reduce the rates on the Nadia rivers, and I hope before long to ask the Lieutenant-Governor to sanction a reduction on the Midnapore Canal. Personally I should like to free the Nadia rivers of tolls altogether, but financial considerations require that this should be done gradually. The question whether waterways generally should be maintained at the cost of the general tax-payer instead of at the cost of that section of the community which makes direct use of them is one which is fast coming to the front. It is an Imperial question, and there will no doubt be a good fight over it. The Railway interest in India is strong and will oppose, and if the general tax-payer realizes that he is asked to pay for facilities of transport to be used by others, he will, I have no doubt, object also.

"The Honourable Mr. Nimmo has suggested that it may be desirable to have a special department for the control and improvement of the rivers. I am entirely in agreement with the suggestion. I think that there should be a special corps for this work under the Government of India. The question both in its engineering and financial aspects should be viewed from an Imperial rather than from a Provincial standpoint. It is quite impossible for the local staff employed on the ordinary duties of the Irrigation Department to give proper attention to the rivers, and our present cadre is too small to admit of our detaching officers to make the special inquiries, which are the essential preliminaries of any practical scheme. If I may add a small suggestion on my own account, it is that the river development should come under the Department of Commerce and Industry. I take it that the Department of Revenue and Agriculture is the right one to deal with irrigation, which is an adjunct to Agriculture, and that the Department of Commerce and Industry should deal with all transport problems, whether by land or water.

"The Honourable Member has referred to two matters connected with the Port of Calcutta, with respect to which I have a few words to say. The first is with reference to the Hospital Port dues. I am authorised to say that this due has been reduced, with effect from the 1st of the present month, from 9 pies per ton to 6 pies per ton, or by one-third. This will give relief to the shipping to the extent of from Rs. 45,000 to Rs. 50,000 a year, and will bring the receipts approximately into equilibrium with the expenditure.

"The other point is the desirability of a second steam Pilot cruiser. I have only to say that in the Marine Department we consider that the need for this has been fully established in order to improve the efficiency of the service. At the same time financial considerations may not permit us to order the construction of the second cruiser for a little time."

The Hon'ble MR. CARLYLE said:—"Your Honour, attention has been drawn by some Members of this Council to the savings under the head of Police, and it has been assumed that the whole of these savings come out of the provision of 12 lakhs for reforms recommended by the Police Commission. As a matter of fact, this is not the case. In the first place, nearly 3 out of the 12 lakhs properly belonged to districts transferred to the other province but were not taken away by the Government of India. A saving of just over a lakh is due to the fact that no increase of pay has yet been sanctioned by the Secretary of State for the superior cadres consisting of District Superintendents and Assistant Superintendents of Police. A little over Rs. 75,000 could not be spent owing to increments of pay not being given so soon as was estimated in our original forecast. We proposed to recruit 226 Sub-Inspectors, but we were obliged to do so in two batches, and these batches drew only Rs. 25 against Rs. 50 in our estimate. Finally, there was an average of somewhat over 600 vacancies all the year round in the rank of constables. This gave a saving of Rs. 46,800. The savings out of the special grant were unavoidable as we did not receive sanction during the year to proposals which would have enabled us to spend the greater part of the balance. The money that was granted has not lapsed but has been added to the balance at the close of the year and will be available for police buildings or other purposes connected with the police. The Government of India has, in addition to 9 lakhs, the allotment due to this province as now constituted exclusive of the districts transferred to the Government of Eastern Bengal and Assam, allotted this year an additional 4 lakhs, or a total of 13 lakhs. It is proposed this year to increase the cadre of constables by 1,000 at a net cost of Rs. 66,000. It is proposed to add 200 head constables to the cadre at Rs. 15 a month each. The total cost comes to Rs. 36,000. We also propose to increase the cadre of Sub-Inspectors by 100. This will cost Rs. 60,000. We propose to add 20 to the cadre of Inspectors. This will cost approximately Rs. 36,000. The pay of sergeants has been revised, and the cost of the revision of their pay will come to a little over Rs. 7,500. All constables will get an increase of Re. 1 to their pay in first class districts, 1,941 men have already got it and the balance are to get it this year. In the Criminal Intelligence Department, Inspectors, Sub-Inspectors, head constables and constables are to receive an allowance of Rs. 50, 30, 7, and Rs. 3 respectively. The cost is Rs. 16,920. A number of officers are to receive grade promotion at a cost of Rs. 21,600. It is proposed to add 4 officers to the cadre of District Superintendents, to create a grade on Rs. 1,200, and to abolish the Rs. 600 grade, making the minimum pay of the District Superintendents Rs. 700. This will cost Rs. 91,800. A grade on Rs. 500 will be created for Assistant Superintendents. This, with the redistribution among other grades, will cost nearly Rs. 34,500.

"I am glad to be able to inform the Council that we have just received sanction from the Government of India to one of perhaps the most important recommended by the Police Commission, viz., the appointment of Deputy Superintendents of Police. We have got sanction for the immediate appointment of 8 Deputy Superintendents; 4 of these men will be recruited from the ranks of Inspectors, while 4 men will be appointed from outsiders, either from the ranks of men now in Government service as Sub-Deputy Collectors and Deputy Collectors, or from men who have as yet held no Government appointment. This will cost about Rs. 22,500.

"In Calcutta, the changes made in connection with the recommendations of the Police Commission have been as follows:—

"The minimum pay of all Indian constables has been raised from Rs. 8 to Rs. 10, and an increment of Re. 1 has been allowed to all men who have drawn salaries not exceeding Rs. 11 for three years. The minimum pay of head-constables has been raised from Rs. 12 to Rs. 17-8. Inspectors and Sub-Inspectors are now given a conveyance allowance.

"Under Bengal Act VI of 1905, the Superannuation Funds have been closed and no cuttings are now made from the pay of police-officers towards their pensions.

"Some additions have been made to the Suburban thana force and to the Detective Department, and the number of European Sergeants has been largely increased. A good many new head constables are also to be appointed. An Inspector from another province has been brought into the Detective Department. This a matter of some importance in consequence of the number of foreigners in this city; and in course of time other Inspectors will be added to the Detective Department to enable us to deal more readily with criminals coming from other parts of India.

"During 1905-06, over Rs. 13,000 was added to recurring expenditure under the above heads. The increase of recurring expenditure will come this year to about Rs. 1,42,000, as the expenditure will have to be incurred for the whole year and not for a few months only.

"I desire to draw the special attention of the Council to the development during 1905-06, of the Provincial Criminal Investigation Department, the establishment of Constables' Training Schools, and the very successful results of the new system of appointing Sub-Inspectors. As regards the Criminal Investigation Department, it has been in existence in embryo for some time past, but there has been a great development during the past year. As a third Deputy Inspector-General has not yet been sanctioned, Mr. Knyvett, Deputy Inspector-General of Police, was placed on special duty in connection with the Department. It has dealt with gangs which are known to have committed 327 dacoities, 2 robberies, and 211 cases of house-breaking with theft not traced until these gangs were run down. In addition to these, it has dealt with a gang of burglars, a robbery with murder by up-country Banpars, and a very important forgery case. It is probably the most important and most successful prosecution in the case of forgery of promissory notes that has yet taken place in Bengal.

"The development of this department has been extraordinarily rapid and every day brings forward additional evidence that the limits of its activity are not likely to be reached for many years to come. We have at last met the organised efforts of criminals by organised police methods, and I hope that organised crime will now cease to make headway.

"As regards constables' schools, it is the first serious attempt that has been made to give the rank and file of the police some training in their duties before they are turned loose on the public. The results this year have been very successful and give great promise for the future. The schools turned out a well set up and well drilled body of men who appeared to know something of the work expected from them. Ultimately, it is proposed to have three such schools, one for Bengalee speaking districts, one for Hindi speaking districts, and a third at Ranchi which will also be attended by Uriya speaking recruits.

"As regards the system of selecting Sub-Inspectors, the result so far has been completely to justify the departure from the old system. The last batch of recruits included one M.A. and B.L., 27 B.A.'s, 3 of whom were B.L.'s, 86 F.A.'s, and 108 men who have passed the Entrance examination. At the final examination only 12 cadets out of 263 failed to qualify.

"It appears to me that the results already obtained show that we may expect in future very much better educated candidates of higher social position for the appointment of Sub-Inspectors.

"As regards the Agricultural Department, the first point to notice is that the Secretary of State has sanctioned the separation of this Department from that of Land Records by the appointment of a separate Director. Mr. Oldham, who was for several months on special duty in connection with the Department, has been appointed Director since the 3rd of April.

"The expenditure during the year comes to over Rs. 4,69,000, or Rs. 20,000 more than the revised estimate. About 2 lakhs of this sum has been spent on acquiring land for the Agricultural College and Farm near Bhagalpur and for the Experimental Farms at Ranchi and Bankipore. At present, there are 4 Experimental Farms of some importance in Bengal, viz., those at Burdwan, Hatwa, Dumraon, and Cuttack. The three former are maintained at the expense of the Burdwan, Hatwa, and Dumraon Estates respectively. The Burdwan Farm has made very successful experiments with bone meal and it is also experimenting in cotton and jute. The Hatwa Farm will devote great attention to trying to improve the local breed of cattle. In Dumraon some of the most important experiments relate to wheat. Experiments so far not very successful have also been made with cotton. This Government has given Rs. 50,000 for experiments in indigo carried on at Sirsa. These experiments appear to demonstrate the great superiority of Java indigo over all other kinds and to give prospects of the successful competition of natural indigo against the synthetic article. This Government has also given grants for jute and for silk experiments. The grant to the Silk Committee has been raised this year from Rs. 6,000 to Rs. 15,000, and over Rs. 10,000 is being spent also on tussar experiments.

"Another important departure is the despatch of students to foreign countries. The actual expenditure for the year, 1905-06 is Rs. 14,925, on account of four students. Two more students are to be sent this year and the expenditure will be considerably higher.

"Every effort will be made this year to push on the building of the Agricultural College near Bhagalpur to develop the farm in connection with the Agricultural College and to start the experimental farms at Ranchi and Bankipore. Rupees 25,000 has been allotted for assistance to agricultural associations which should at present do some of the work, later on to be done by demonstrative farms. The Secretary of State has so far only sanctioned the appointment of three experts to the Agricultural College, but it is hoped that before the year is over, he will sanction the appointment of other experts.

"The Hon'ble Mr. Syed Shurf-ud-din refers to Mr. Baker's Financial Statement, in which he remarks:—

'The arrangement at which we desire to aim that no local cesses should be imposed on land supplemental to the land-revenue proper except such as are left by or on behalf of local authorities for expenditure by them on genuine local objects.'

"The Hon'ble Member seems to think that, on the principles thus laid down, the abolition of the chauthidari tax is shortly to be hoped for. Here I must join issue. I should be glad to see the day on which the Government of India could supplement our funds to such an extent as to permit the abolition of the chauthidari tax, but it appears to me to be strictly a local cess levied by local authorities for expenditure on genuinely local objects.

"The Hon'ble Member also asks Government to consider the advisability of introducing the provisions of a summary procedure for the recovery of rents. The Hon'ble Member is no doubt aware that the question of amending the Tenancy Act is under consideration and that the Bill to amend the Act has been submitted to the Government of India. I cannot now state the provisions of the Bill, but if it is passed, I hope it will facilitate the collection by zamindars of undisputed rents.

"As regards the separation of the Patna Division, it is proposed to form one Commissionership north of the river with its head-quarters at Muzaffarpur. The other Division will consist of the Patna, Gaya, and Shahabad districts, with its head-quarters at Bankipore.

"The Hon'ble Babu Bhupendra Nath Basu in the course of his speech has again pressed on our attention the claims of the Sub-Deputy Magistrates to higher initial pay. One of his arguments is that Inspectors of Police and Excise who prosecute criminal cases before them, sometimes draw higher pay than the Magistrates who are trying the cases. I notice that another gentleman, the Hon'ble Mr. Sharfuddin has spoken in the same strain of the unduly low pay of Munsifs as well as of Sub-Deputy Collectors. It does not appear to be generally known that so far from the scale of pay of gazetted officers of the Provincial Services and Subordinate Executive Services being extraordinarily low in this country, it is on the contrary high, as compared with most countries. This is well known, however, to all who are acquainted with the pay of Government officials in such countries as France and Italy. Unfortunately, I have only been able to get a few figures, but those that I have been able to obtain are suggestive. An Inspector-General in the office of the Ministry for Foreign Affairs in Italy gets Rs. 5,400 a year, a Director of Division of the first class gets Rs. 4,200 a year, a Director of the 2nd class gets Rs. 3,600 a year. A Secretary of the 1st class gets Rs. 2,400 a year; one of the second class, gets Rs. 2,100 a year; one of the third class, gets Rs. 1,800. A Vice-Secretary gets Rs. 1,500 a year. Now, Italy is not an expensive country to live in but it certainly cannot be contended that it is less expensive than India for an Indian. I have given in the above figures a statement for officials in the first class in the Foreign Office. In the third class, salaries go down as low as Rs. 900 a year, or Rs. 75 a month. These officials are not men who are "failed Entrance" or "failed F. A" or "failed B. A." They have mostly gone through a very long and a very severe University course and have passed a stiff examination at the end of it. The Hon'ble Babu Bhupendra Nath Basu places his appeal on the ground that higher pay is necessary to prevent corruption. I think better of the service than he does. All members of the service have now the prospect of rising to at least Rs. 250, and any who do well may expect promotion to the Provincial Service. It is only in their earliest years they draw the minimum pay of Rs. 100.

"As regards the Hon'ble Mr. Nimmo's speech, the question of River Police is still under consideration. The officer who was on special duty in this connection last year had to be recalled to work in the United Provinces before he could complete his scheme. His services have again been asked for, and I hope it will be possible soon to deal with the matter. The final report on this subject may indicate the possibility of doing something immediately in the way of dealing with traffic on the water-routes. I agree with the Hon'ble Mr. Inglis that probably the control of waterways should be under a special, possibly an Imperial, authority.

"I am gratified to find that the Hon'ble Member attaches such importance, to the reorganisation of the Agricultural Department. I agree with him that here we may hope, in time, for improvements of the greatest consequence to the prosperity of the province and the well being of the poorer classes.

"As regards jute, the question of adulteration is one of great importance, but also one of great complexity, and this Government is awaiting the report of the Bengal Chamber of Commerce before taking any steps in the matter.

"The Hon'ble Member also suggests that we should take action with regard to our fisheries on the same lines as those adopted in Madras. I may explain that this matter has not been lost sight of; it was at first proposed to await the result of the investigations now being carried on in Madras. As, however, it may be some years before a final report is submitted, it has been decided not to await this but to make independent inquiries.

"The question of establishing an aquarium in connection with the Zoological Gardens will be considered.

"I congratulate the Hon'ble Babu Jogendra Nath Mukerjee on the moderation with which he has addressed the Council. His speech is one evidently intended for consideration by the Council and by Government, and not merely for the outside public. I have already explained the failure to spend the full police grant, and I have dealt with the question of the pay of Sub-Deputy Collectors in connection with the speech of the Hon'ble Babu Bhupendra Nath Basu.

"Turning now to the speech of the Hon'ble Raja Ban Behari Kapur, I would notice a suggestion he makes as to the disposal of undrawn sums of money, the accumulation of landlords' fees under sections 13 and 15 of the Bengal Tenancy Act. I have no doubt that after the Bengal Tenancy Act Bill has become law, it will be possible and right for the Board of Revenue to issue a notice to landlords requiring them to withdraw the deposits within a certain time, but Government cannot at present bind itself as to the disposal of the money which may thereafter lapse to its possession.

As regards the Hon'ble Members suggestion that the number of Government khas mahals be increased by a larger area being brought under cultivation in the Sundarbans and in other districts, money at present is being allotted for this purpose, but the whole matter will have to be very carefully considered. Progress must, in the first instance, be slow, as a great many very difficult questions will arise in connection with this settlement. One, not the least serious, is the question of the effect of bunding up reclaimed lands on the course of rivers flowing past them.

"As regards his remarks on the failure of crops, they have not, on the whole, been very satisfactory, but there has been no such failure as to warrant any expectation that there will be any necessity for other districts to provide for distress from local funds. The situation will, of course, be carefully watched, but at present, I see no reason for alarm.

"With regard to the speech of the Hon'ble Asif Kadr Saiyid Wasif Ali Mirza, the only point I need notice is his reference to the chaukidari tax. I have dealt with this before. I would only remark here that the reduction of the tax cannot be effected by Government very easily. The pay of chaukidars for the province come to about Rs. 50,00,000 a year.

"The Hon'ble Mr. J. Chaudhuri objects to Government paying for the housing of its officials. His criticisms are to a certain extent based on imperfect information as to the scheme before Government. It is only proposed to build residences for officials who live permanently in Calcutta, and officials drawing over a certain pay, such as myself, are not included in the scheme. I believe that there can be no more legitimate way of spending money than in ensuring that its officials are properly housed at reasonable rates. Government has to pay heavily for its officers, and it is very expensive economy if they are unable to live in healthy houses. At present Calcutta rates, this is impossible for any except men on high pay.

"As regards the division of Midnapore, the project is one which I consider to be of great urgency. No Collector, however good an officer, can really do there all the work that a Collector should do. The difficulty has existed for many years, and, with the growing complexity of Administration in Bengal, it is getting more and more impossible for one officer to manage the whole district.

"With reference to the Hon'ble Member's remarks regarding Police Reform, I have no intention of following him into the question of the separation of the Judicial and the Executive; this is not the time and place; I have merely to say this, that even if the separation were to be effected, I do not think a pice could or ought to be saved from the expenditure it is now proposed to incur on the police. We want better constables, we want better head-constables, we want better Sub-Inspectors, and we want more men for the ever-growing task of coping with the improved methods of criminal organisation which have come in with our railways.

"The Hon'ble Babu Ambika Charan Mazumdar has entered into a long criticism of the budget. His remarks would be interesting, and might be valuable if he had grasped the figures he was dealing with. I do not propose to discuss these criticisms, as they mainly concern my Hon'ble colleague, the Financial Secretary. I will only deal with one point which does concern me as the Revenue Secretary dealing with the administration of the Land-revenue of this Province. The Hon'ble Member tells us that, in land-revenue, there is an increase in the estimate of 53 lakhs, and this he describes as an over-estimate. I think it is a pity that, before offering such remarks to the Council, the Hon'ble Member did not seek for some assistance in the elementary principles of reading a budget. Apparently, he has overlooked the fact that, except where figures are expressly shown as pertaining to Eastern Bengal, the figures in Appendix A include only the figures of the districts belonging to this Province. The gross land-revenue has thus risen only from Rs. 2,87,82,000 in 1904-05 to Rs. 2,93,61,000 in 1906-07, an increase of less than Rs. 6,00,000. It is quite true that the share of the districts constituting this Province has increased from Rs. 1,23,10,000 to Rs. 1,70,51,000, but this is due to the fact that the whole of the collections from Government estates have now been made Provincial, and that, of the remainder, this Province gets a half instead of a quarter as before the new settlement.

"Another extraordinary misconception on the part of the Hon'ble Babu Ambika Charan Mazumdar is the idea that high Budget estimates involve an increased demand upon those entrusted with the levying and collecting of revenues in districts. Most District Officers, and, I think, 99 per cent. of Deputy Collectors, never even look at the Budget and if they did so, would gain no knowledge from it as to their own districts, as the Budget figures show estimates for the whole province, not district by district. All that the District Officer or Deputy Collector has as a rule in his hands is the average of three years' actual receipts and expenditure under various heads. This he submits at intervals to the Accountant-General, with an estimate of probable receipts and expenditure, but it has nothing to do with the Budget.

"I sympathise with the Hon'ble Member in his disappointment at the failure to spend the full sums for various repairs allotted. As regards the Police, I explained the failure to spend the 7 lakhs when dealing with that department. As regards Deputy Collectors, our proposals for an increase of the cadre went up to the Government of India sometime ago and have now been sent to the Secretary of State so that we may expect early orders.

"As regards agricultural improvements, the Hon'ble Babu Ambika Charan Mazumdar has shown his usual inability to understand the Budget. I have dealt before with the work of the Agricultural Department. All I would notice here is that, under the head of Scientific and Mining Departments, the Hon'ble Member will find that 4 lakhs has been provided for experimental cultivation.

"The Hon'ble Member refers to a circular, generally known by my name, which he alleges takes away the independence of Judges, and subordinates the Judicial to the Executive Officers. I doubt whether the Hon'ble Member has read it from the terms in which he describes it. If he will again read it through, he will see that there is no subordination of the Judicial to the Executive as regards judicial work and the circular only lays down that the senior officer of a division is where such difficulties occur to try to settle matters which must otherwise be brought to the notice of the Lieutenant-Governor of the Province.

"The last suggestion of the Hon'ble Babu Ambika Charan Mazumdar which I will notice is the reduction of a Secretary in the Bengal Secretariat. He suggests that the Revenue Department should be amalgamated with the Board of Revenue or the Board of Revenue with the Secretariat—I am not quite sure which—and a saving effected in the interest of economy. It is impossible at present to tell exactly the effect of the Partition in diminishing work. Besides diminution of work owing to the Partition new methods of work have also been introduced by which a great deal of the former duplication of work between the Board of Revenue and the Secretariat is avoided. On the other hand, there are great developments in various directions. The Agricultural Department will soon add much to the work, Agricultural Banks will, I hope, develop rapidly, the Settlement Department is now doing some of the work formerly done by the Survey Department, and last, but not least, proposals for legislation regarding the continuous maintenance of records in Orissa will shortly be submitted for consideration by the Government of India. All these items, and especially the last, will add greatly to revenue work. I think it is quite possible that it may prove ultimately unnecessary to have three Secretaries, viz., one in the Revenue Department of this Government and two in the Board of Revenue, but the amalgamation, when it takes place, cannot, I think, take the direction of abolishing a Secretary to the Revenue Department. The possibility, however, of reducing establishment in this connection will not be lost sight of.

"YOUR HONOUR—Some of the Hon'ble Members who have addressed the Council to-day have travelled considerably outside the Budget. Government has no ground to object to this as the Budget Debate is the one great opportunity for non-official Members of the Council to state grievances and to make suggestions. Whether some of the Members of this Council have not travelled somewhat beyond the legitimate bounds of discussion to-day is not for me to say.

"I do not propose to follow the Hon'ble gentlemen who have spoken at some length about the Partition. I believe that the Partition was desirable and that in the end both provinces will gain from it. The Hon'ble Members who are so strongly against the Partition are of a different opinion, and we would not come to an agreement, however long we discussed the matter. There are, however, some points in their speeches which should not, I think, be left unnoticed. The Hon'ble Babu Bhupendra Nath Basu and the Hon'ble Mr. J. Chaudhuri have suggested that the Government of this Province proposes to submit the education of this country to police control. We are told that a circular lately issued by the Director of Public Instruction places the control of the education of the country practically in the hands of the District Magistrate. We are told by the Hon'ble Babu Bhupendra Nath Basu that so closely is the District Magistrate connected with the Police that he is looked upon with the same loathing, he also suggests that the District Magistrate will rely on the District Superintendent, that the District Superintendent will rely on the daroga—the Hon'ble Member does not complete the chain, but I presume he wishes to suggest that the village chaukidar will be the foundation of our authority over the schools, and that the result will be that people will remove their children from all State or aided schools, and that the education of their children in the primary stages at least will be entirely in their own hands. Your Honour, I do not share the apprehensions of the Hon'ble Babu Bhupendra Nath Basu. I can scarcely believe he has read the circular he refers to. I have for many years been a District Magistrate and it was not my experience that people looked upon me as merely a glorified police-officer, who, if approached at all, was merely to be approached with a view to propitiation. It is absurd to contend that there are no matters in connection with school education in which District Magistrates cannot be of help.

"As I am dealing with this matter, I will go on to touch on the statement of the Hon'ble Mr. Chaudhuri that there has been altogether too much meddling of the Police with boys. Gentlemen who, I suppose, consider themselves patriots, have made cowardly and mischievous use of school-boys and raw young men by using them as their agency to prevent by illegal means harmless citizens from buying what they please. These mischievous agitators have done the talking, the action which might embroil them with the law, they have left to young men of tender years or even to school-boys, encouraged in too many cases by their teachers who should have been the last to permit lawlessness among the boys entrusted to their care. So far is it from being the case that Government has dealt hardly with these youthful culprits, it was only when reports from many districts showed the wide extent of the mischief that was occurring and the harassment and oppression to innocent purchasers, that Government took any action, and I would challenge the Hon'ble gentlemen to point to any other country where action when taken, would have been so mild and unoppressive. The total number of persons so far sentenced to imprisonment in cases arising out of the Partition agitation comes to exactly two, and the sentences of imprisonment were one day and one month respectively.

"I cannot also leave unnoticed the remarks made by the Hon'ble Babu Bhupendra Nath Basu regarding the closing of the College Square to the public on the occasion of the visit of His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales to the Senate House. Any person not present on the occasion would imagine from the Hon'ble Member's remarks that not only College Square but all the streets leading to it were the silent and desolate aspect of an African desert. Members of the Council know how far this is from being the truth. The streets were crowded and Government desired that the streets should be crowded. Police were posted in the streets, but is there any country in the world where it is unnecessary to post police on the occasion of an enormous congress of people? As regards College Square, surely the Hon'ble Babu Bhupendra Nath Basu knows that it was with the greatest reluctance that it was closed to the public, and that the decision to close it has finally arrived at because an influential and prominent instigator of the more objectionable features of the boycotting movement had suggested that the place should be filled with a crowd of school-boys and young men shouting Bande Mataram. Government was not entitled to expose His Royal Highness to the risk of insult by a crowd of callow youths collected and posted in College Square under such guidance.

"And now leaving aside questions connected with the Partition and the agitation, it is the duty of all Government officers to do what they can to promote a healthier state of feeling in future, and I would ask the Indian Members of this Council who have attacked the Partition with so much bitterness to ask themselves whether the three appointments lately gazetted affecting the Bench, the Bar, and the University indicate a hostile or unsympathetic position towards the educated Indians on the part of the rulers of this province or of the Government of India. Does any one doubt in his heart of hearts that true Swadeshi has a warm friend in the Provincial and Imperial Governments? For one I look forward with great hope to the future. As regards industries, hand-loom may prove a success, I somewhat doubt it, but there appears to me to be the promise, in a few years, of a great development of the mineral resources and, therefore, of the at present latent wealth of Bengal. I also trust that, before many years are over, the Agricultural Department will have become one of the most important in this country and will have contributed in large measure to the well-being of the population whose interests should be and, I believe, are close to the hearts of all the Members of this Council even if we do not always agree as to the best means of securing their happiness."

The Hon'ble MR. SLACKE said:—"I will now, Sir, make some comments with regard to certain remarks that have been made regarding excise, income-tax and ministerial officers.

"The Hon'ble Babu Jagendra Nath Mukherjee maintains that as regards Excise, Government should not raise from that source any revenue which has the result of directly or indirectly encouraging the consumption of stimulants.

"This, so far as I understand the matter, is one of the principles by which Government has for long been guided.

"From the experience I have had of the Excise Department, I cannot see justification for assuming, as the Hon'ble Member appears to be inclined to do, that the increase in the Excise-revenue arises from action stimulating the consumption of intoxicants.

"The main causes for the increase in the revenue are the greater prosperity of the wage-earning portion of the community, the more effective control of the liquor trade under the contract system and the increase in the duty levied on ganja.

"The Hon'ble Babu Anubika Charan Mazumdar has, when commenting on excise, remarked that an excess provision of nearly 3 lakhs over the estimate of the last Budget for undivided Bengal has been provided, and he complains about the overassessment of the excise-revenue.

"As regards the first of these two matters, the Hon'ble Member appears to have overlooked the fact that in 1905-06 but seven-sixteenths was the Provincial share instead of eight-sixteenths as in the current year. Had the Provincial share been in 1905-06 what it is now, the sanctioned estimate under Excise then would have been nearly eleven lakhs higher than it was and the estimate for the present year instead of being nearly 3 lakhs higher than that for the whole Province for 1905-06, would have been slightly over 8 lakhs less.

"As to what the Hon'ble Member has said about the overassessment of the excise-revenue, it appears to me that he has not made allowance for the fact that it is not compulsory on licensees to take out licenses, and consequently there can be no question of overassessment injurious to the real interest of the public.

"In so far as the comments of the Hon'ble Member refer to the estimates being excessive, I would mention that the results of the excise settlements just concluded give no support to that view.

"The same Hon'ble Member has asked to be informed how the contract distillery system, which was introduced last year, has worked and how far it has proved to be an improvement upon the central distillery system.

"The contract distillery system has worked well save in what was the out-still area of the Midnapore district, where much illicit manufacture of pachwa has been going on since the illicit liquor supplied is not so much appreciated by the people as that which they formerly obtained and which was the product of the native pot still. The people like the system as they know exactly what they are entitled to get, but the bulk of the consumers prefer the old kind of spirit.

"As to how far the system has proved to be an improvement upon the central distillery system, the following are the facts which have been noticed. As already mentioned, the people like the system better than what formerly prevailed. The system enables Government to regulate the quality of the liquor supplied, and by cheapening the initial cost of production it affords Government a means for levying a higher rate of duty, as the wholesale price is fixed, and thereby diverting to the public revenues what previously had been intercepted by middlemen.

"I cannot agree with the Hon'ble Mr. Shurfuddin that amongst the Excise staff any general laxity of the rules laid down by the Board prevails. As to the settlements being effected without regard to the provision that revenue is always to be subject to public welfare, it may be that in the past some Deputy Collectors had been overzealous, but this is not likely to occur in the future since Collectors now personally conduct such settlements.

"The Hon'ble Babu Jogendra Nath Mookerjee in connection with the Income-tax appears to consider that the framers of the Budget should ignore the growth of trade, lest overzealous officers should be induced to overlook the real facts in their anxiety to increase the revenue up to the expectations of Government.

"The principle thus advocated is not one which could commend itself, I imagine, to any Government, the solution being found in the checks imposed on assessing officers. This is a matter which the Board has always in view; and apart from the safeguard provided by the system of appeals, District Officers have been required to submit certain statistics with their periodical reports to enable the Board to keep a check on the inclusion of those who were in the

"The suggestion of the Hon'ble Mr. Sharifuddin that in assessing the professions a margin for cost of establishment should be allowed will be considered, and I would be glad if the Hon'ble Member would give me his views on this matter more fully.

"I would now, Sir, refer to the remarks made by the Hon'ble Babu Ambika Charan Mazumdar with reference to the salaries of Ministerial officers. The Hon'ble Member complains that the subject yet suffers from indefinite postponement, and that the provision made in the Budget for the purpose has dwindled from 4 lakhs to Rs. 1,50,000. Both these assertions are not in accord with the facts. The Hon'ble Member has either forgotten or is in ignorance of the fact that last year His Honour appointed a Committee to deal with the matter. That Committee, of which I am the President, hopes to submit its report very shortly, and it will indicate how the sum provided by Government should be distributed.

"Pending the issue of orders on this report and in order to lessen the inconvenience which the Ministerial staff were experiencing, His Honour was pleased in November last to sanction certain temporary increases of pay which will, it is estimated, amount to $1\frac{1}{2}$ lakhs for the past year.

"I was much astonished to hear the Hon'ble Member assert that the sum provided for the purpose in the current Budget has dwindled to Rs. 1,50,000, as I verbally, before the business of this council began, pointed out to him the error into which he had fallen. The Hon'ble Member has omitted to notice that for this purpose a sum of Rs. 2,30,000 has been provided under Land-revenue and Rs. 2,17,000 under Courts of Law, so that in all, Rs. 4,67,000 have been allotted in the Budget for 1906-07 for increasing the salaries of ministerial officers, and I am at a loss to understand the system of arithmetic by which this amount can be called $1\frac{1}{2}$ lakhs."

The Hon'ble MR. SHIRRIES said :—"YOUR HONOUR—I must give my sincere thanks to the Members of the Council for the courteous manner in which they have referred to whatever personal share I had in the preparation of the Financial Statement and the Budget which we are now discussing. The best return I can make is to endeavour to clear away the difficulties which some of the Hon'ble Members have experienced in understanding our financial position. That position is, as I pointed out when laying the Budget on the table, an unusual one, and it is not surprising that misconceptions have arisen; while on the other hand the very fact that the position was unusual made it difficult for me to foresee the points on which explanation would be required.

"The most strenuous financial criticism of the Budget has come from the Hon'ble Babu Ambika Charan Mazumdar. He has, however, misconceived the nature of the new financial settlement which is the basis of the Budget before us. That settlement was not made by dividing between Bengal and Eastern Bengal, the revenue previously common to both. It might have been, but was not, so made. What the Government of India did was to make an entirely fresh estimate of the necessary expenditure of the districts retained under the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal; and they then made over revenues equal to that expenditure. As the calculation was made in a liberal spirit and as a larger share of expanding revenue was given to us the new settlement is, as I stated in my opening speech, much more favourable to us than the old one, and it has not, therefore, been a source of financial embarrassment to this Government. Moreover, there has been no adjustment between Bengal and East Bengal, of the financial liabilities of the two Provinces: and, therefore, no attempt has been made in the Financial statement to explain any such adjustment.

"The Hon'ble Member next proceeds to compare our present revenue and expenditure with the revenue and expenditure which we had before the separation of East Bengal, and is astonished at the result. The figures he gives are correctly quoted and perhaps his astonishment at our finances being so little affected is excusable. The explanation is that the new settlement is a very liberal one, that the year has been a prosperous one, so that there has been a considerable expansion of revenue, and that the revenue from, and the expenditure on, East Bengal have hitherto been both comparatively small. Under the new settlement we get one-half instead of one-fourth of land-revenue, and this change accounts for the increase under that head. So we now get one-half instead of one-fourth of assessed taxes. The explanation of the conundrum about the Excise-revenue which has puzzled the Hon'ble Member is that the Excise-revenue of East Bengal was not one-third, but rather less than one-sixth of the Excise-revenue of the undivided Province.

"The hon'ble gentleman professes himself unable to understand why there should be any normal expansion of revenue, and repeatedly refers to what he calls over-assessments. He says that an over-estimate of its revenues by Government necessarily implies an increased demand upon those who are entrusted with the levying and collection of such revenues, and that experience has shown that such over-estimates have invariably been followed by over-assessments. These statements imply a grave reflection upon the Government and its officers, but I need scarcely say that there is no foundation for them whatsoever. In legal language they have been made without due care and caution. The Hon'ble Member cites the expansion of the Excise-revenue, but a little knowledge of the actual working of the administration would have shown him that there is no opening for such malign influence as he imagines. The revenue is derived partly from license fees and partly from duty such as still-head duty, or ganja duty, which is exactly proportionate to the consumption. The license fees, however, are fixed by auction in the months of February and March before the estimates of the following year are known to the local officers, and it is not in the power of those officers to affect the remainder of the revenue which is in exact proportion to consumption.

"The Hon'ble Babu Jogendra Nath Mukerjee has made a similar allegation with special reference to assessed taxes. He is equally mistaken. The local officers in the ordinary course of their work never consider and do not even know what the Government estimates for their district are. The first consolidated estimate under any head for the whole Province is repeatedly altered before the close of the year in the light of later information, and the figure finally adopted may be much greater or less than the original. But no attempt is made to split up the total finally adopted into figures for each district, and the local officers do not know whether the estimates sent in by them have been accepted or enhanced or reduced. If they use a standard at all to know how their work is getting on, they compare their work with that which they themselves did in the previous year. As a matter of fact, the estimates being cautiously framed are usually considerably less than the receipts, so that if Government officers were influenced by the budget estimates at all, the influence would be in the direction of making them keep down rather than of making them enhance the receipts.

"I now come to deal with the ever-recurring question of water-supply. During the last ten years the matter has been so frequently inquired into and has been so frequently reported on, that no reasonable doubt exists as to what the actual facts are. Throughout nearly the whole of the Province there is a fairly good supply of good drinking water: although no doubt in most places the supply is capable of improvement. In most of the remaining areas there is a supply of water, but it is not good water. There is no doubt also that the remedy chiefly required is the reservation for the purpose of drinking only of selected sources of water-supply. New tanks or wells are rarely necessary and not much expenditure is called for. These being the facts the question is whose duty is it to take action in the matter? The Government has done its part by issuing innumerable circulars on the subject, by offering to contribute towards any expenditure and by placing resources at the disposal of District Boards. The District Boards, however, do not appear to regard the matter as one of urgency and importance and are not keenly interested in it. In these circumstances it seems to me that the Hon'ble Members who wish to agitate on this subject should do so not in this Chamber, but in the villages concerned and in the District Boards with whom the power lies. That, however, is not their opinion. They wish that Government should take a big stick and should go and make those District Boards spend their money on water-supply. Now I would ask the Hon'ble gentlemen themselves, is not their idea of Local Self-Government a very strange one?

"The case of malaria stands on a different footing, for in regard to it there can be no doubt of the reality and magnitude of the evil. The subject is one that has always engaged the attention of Government. A Commission was appointed to inquire into it in 1864, and another in 1881. A third Commission under the presidency of Sir Henry Cotton, inquired into the prevalence of malaria in Shahabad in 1888; and inquiries have also been made by special officers, the most recent being by Major Rogers in Dinajpur. Nor is it fair to say that the sole amount provided in the Budget is the special sum of Rs. 20,000. The whole medical department is maintained for the purpose of combating disease, and malaria is the principal disease to be combated. Moreover, large sums have been and are being spent in the improvement of drainage. Account should also be taken of the expenditure in the quinine factory, the output of which is being largely increased in order to carry out schemes for the wider distribution of quinine.

"The law under which schemes for the Sanitary improvement of drainage have at present to be carried out is the Bengal Sanitary Drainage Act, 1895, but it is impossible to be satisfied with the slow progress of the schemes which have been undertaken under that Act. The matter has been under the consideration of the Lieutenant-Governor who consulted Commissioners of Divisions regarding it. His Honour has now appointed a Committee to further consider the subject with special reference to drainage schemes for the Presidency Division. His Honour's Resolution on the subject was published in a recent issue of the Calcutta Gazette, and has no doubt been seen by Hon'ble Members.

"The Hon'ble Raja Ban Behari Kapur has referred at some length to the proposal for a paying patients' ward for middle class Indian gentlemen at the Medical College Hospital. He suggests that the landlords' fees lying unappropriated at the different treasuries of the Province should be made available for this project. The Hon'ble Babu Ambika Churn Mazumdar at the meeting of this Council on Saturday, the 7th January, 1905, suggested that these lapsed deposits should be made over to District Boards for the purposes of water-supply. That proposal was negatived and the same objections would apply to the present one. The Lieutenant-Governor is, however, entirely in sympathy with the scheme advocated by my Hon'ble friend, and although he is not prepared to adopt the financial expedient suggested, he will find whatever additional funds are necessary for the first experimental introduction of the scheme from other provincial resources.

"In the course of his speech my hon'ble friend Raja Ban Bihari Kapur also threw out the suggestion that Government should set aside annually, a certain sum for the digging and re-excavation of large dighs and tanks not only for drinking water but also as a means of irrigation. This subject was considered by the Irrigation Commission of 1901-1903, in paragraphs 147 to 149 of Part I of their report and they made certain recommendations as to the forms in which the assistance of Government could best be given. Recently, orders have been received from the Government of India accepting and adopting the recommendations in this respect made by the Irrigation Commission.

"The Hon'ble Mr. Chaudhuri refers to the locking up of money in the improvement of Dalhousie Square and in the purchase of land near the Presidency General Hospital. The money for improving Dalhousie Square was, however, paid by the Government of India, and if it had not been spent in that way the saving would not have gone into our pockets. The land in the neighbourhood of the Presidency General Hospital included much besides the site of the Tramway Company's depôt, and the primary purpose of the acquisition of the land was the removal of a very insanitary bustee. What use will ultimately be made of the land I do not know, but meanwhile we lose nothing by our capital being locked up, because if the money were in the Treasury we should not get any interest on it, and for several years to come we must carry forward excess balances in order to provide for the final completion of schemes to which we are already committed.

"The Hon'ble Babu Bhupendra Nath Basu has referred to the subject of septic tanks and has put forward certain suggestions. If, however, he will refer to the Government Resolution on the subject he will find that all the points referred to by him have already received full and careful consideration.

"The Hon'ble Babu Bhupendra Nath Basu has also suggested that an Indian gentleman possessing expert knowledge should be associated with the recently appointed drainage committee, and he suggests the name of Colonel K. P. Gupta. The Committee was kept as small as possible because it will have to move about a good deal at an unhealthy period of the year, but if Colonel K. P. Gupta is willing to give his services for this inquiry the Lieutenant-Governor will be very glad to avail himself of them.

"I think I have now noticed practically all the questions with which I am specially concerned and have only again to thank the Hon'ble Members of this Council for the manner in which they have received the Financial Statement and Budget which I have had the honour to lay before them "

The Hon'ble, THE PRESIDENT, said:—"GENTLEMEN,—I desire first of all to congratulate my friend Mr. Shirres on the manner in which his Budget and his presentation of it have been received. There is no one, even among those who may be regarded as somewhat unfavourable critics of the Government and its policy, who has not shown appreciation of the work of my Hon'ble friend.

"I shall endeavour not to detain the Council very long. It is desirable that there should be as little restriction as possible put upon the speeches of Hon'ble Members in the Budget debate. It is desirable that they should have the opportunity of placing clearly before Government and the public anything that they wish to say in the way of criticism, suggestion or advice, in regard to the income, expenditure and general administration of the province. But while it is most desirable that any difficulties or misunderstandings on any subject relevant to the budget should be dealt with by the responsible officers of Government, it does not seem to me to be necessary that the Government should follow Hon'ble Members on every question to which they choose to refer. I do not propose, therefore, to reply on every question raised.

"One question which I consider it quite unnecessary to discuss is partition. It was not unnatural that some Hon'ble members, opposed to partition, should desire to give expression once more to their views in regard to that question; and while I may regret the "ring of the unreal in the discussion" to which the Hon'ble Babu Bhupendra Nath Basu referred, and the exaggeration of language and misapprehension of certain points into which Hon'ble members have sometimes fallen, it has certainly been very far from my mind to desire to silence them. I do not, however, intend to trouble the Council with my own views on this subject. They are perfectly well known, having been fully set forth in the Blue Book which has been published on the subject. I will only say that I thoroughly believe, and earnestly hope, that time will show this measure to have been a wise one, in the improved administration of both provinces, and especially in the development of the new province, as indicated by my Hon'ble friend Mr. Nimmo this morning.

"There are a number of questions to which reference has been made in regard to each of which it is only necessary that I should say one or two words. They have for the most part been dealt with by the Hon'ble members in charge of the different departments of work under this Government, and hardly require further notice. The matters of malaria, rural water-supply and drainage are receiving attention, and after what has been said to-day I do not think that it will be contended that they are being treated in an inadequate manner. As has been stated by the Hon'ble Mr. Nimmo, whose suggestions are well worthy of attention, the development of railways and of waterways and the improvement of the Port are now receiving earnest attention at the hands of Government and of the Port Commissioners. I sympathise fully with the Hon'ble Member's views about the Sara bridge and railway communication with the tracts north of the Ganges. In the matter of Port dues, to which that Hon'ble Member also referred, action has already been taken. On the question of railway rates I am not prepared at present to enter. But the importance of the question to the interests of Calcutta can hardly be overstated. The Commercial community and the Government are alike concerned; and I thank the Hon'ble Member for drawing my attention to it. It is not a question of which the decision will lie with us; but we ought to be heard on our own behalf, and exercise our due influence on the decision.

"As to the fishery question, the state of the case is this, that the Government of Bengal proposed to make an inquiry in this province, but was deterred from doing so by the fact that a special inquiry was just then started, under the orders of the Madras Government, by Sir Fredrick Nicholson in that province. As it does not appear now, however, that the Madras inquiry will throw any special light on the question as it affects Bengal, this Government has determined to take up the question for itself.

"The Hon'ble Mr. Shurfuddin has urged that the existence of the record-of-rights may seem to justify some simplification of the legal proceedings to be taken for the realisation of rents. This subject has already attracted the attention of the Government; and I hope that it may be found possible to take some such step as has been indicated. For the record-of-rights is an advantage to landlord and tenant alike.

"The urgent necessity for legislation in regard to the adulteration of jute has also been referred to by the Hon'ble Mr. Nimmo. The case has been strongly put before the Government. We sympathise fully with the effort to prevent the dishonesty of middlemen from destroying the cultivation of jute in Bengal, as it may do. We await a final expression of the views of the Bengal Chamber of Commerce on the proposed legislation, which will receive our most earnest and sympathetic attention. It is not an easy matter to deal with; but we shall be glad to assist in framing any practicable measure, and in carrying it through, if possible.

"One other question may be briefly referred to, namely, the appointment of an Additional Judge for purposes of inspection of the mufassal Courts during the cold weather. This could not be very well included in the budget inasmuch as it has not been formally approved by the High Court, nor sanctioned by the Government of India and the Secretary of State; but it is undoubtedly the intention of this Government to press for the appointment; and it is my hope that the arrangement will become a permanent cold weather arrangement. I believe that in this I have the concurrence of the Hon'ble Judges of the High Court. The cost, if the arrangement is sanctioned, will be easily met from savings; and the scheme is one which has been proved by experience to be of very real advantage.

"I should like now to say something on the subject of education. I shall first of all deal with the appointment of Mr. Earle as Director of Public Instruction in succession to Sir Alexander Pedler. I do not consider this to be a matter of high political principle, nor of great importance, in the precise manner in which some Hon'ble Members seem to regard it. But I think it right to state briefly my views on the matter. In the first place, I desire to say that it has been laid down as a principle, which Government cannot for a moment regard as one to be questioned, that the right rests with the Government, after full consideration of all the circumstances of the case, to appoint as the head of any department the man whose appointment will be most in the interests of the public service. It has been distinctly laid down that while it is desirable, other things being equal, to appoint an educational officer to be Director of Public Instruction, the Educational Department has no right to claim the appointment. The discretion lies with the Government in view of all the circumstances of the case. I can assure the Hon'ble Babu Bhupendra Nath Basu that there is not a single officer of the Department whose claims have been overlooked. They have been carefully and anxiously weighed; and the decision has been made in the interest of the cause of education alone. It has been stated that Mr. Earle was appointed to be Director of Public Instruction because it was desired to get rid of him from the Secretariat. If this assertion concerned me alone, I should pass it by in silence. As it concerns Mr. Earle also, I desire to say most emphatically that it is absolutely untrue. Mr. Earle was a most efficient Secretary. It was because he was so efficient, and had devoted himself with so much capacity and zeal and success to dealing with the great administrative questions connected with the Education Department, that I appointed him to be Director of Public Instruction. I do not believe that there are no men in the Educational Department fit for the appointment of Director. I have never believed that, and from the first I have said so. But there was no man on whom I could lay my hand with confidence that, by his training and experience, he had acquired and shown capacity for administering the department as Mr. Earle undoubtedly had. Their experience had been limited to educational work with which the Director has now comparatively little concern; they knew nothing practically of the most pressing problems; and they had had no opportunity of showing capacity for administration. It was otherwise with Mr. Earle. I am glad to hear the testimony borne by the Hon'ble Babu Bhupendra Nath Basu to the experience and resourcefulness and largehearted sympathy of the present Director, of whom "individually" the Hon'ble Member says that "no choice could have been happier." I trust that the officers of the department will not be misled by the mischievous comments that have been made on Mr. Earle's selection into any belief that the department, as a whole, has been slighted, or that its officers will be permanently excluded from what they may well regard as one of its prizes. I anticipate their loyal co-operation with Mr. Earle and marked progress in the work of education in which we are all so deeply interested.

"Another subject connected with education to which, I regret, I must refer, is Sir Alexander Pedler's Circular of the 12th of January last. Unfavourable comments on this Circular have been made by three Indian members of the Council. I cannot understand what I hope I may be permitted without offence to call the grotesque parody of the Circular made by the Hon'ble Babu Bhupendra Nath Basu. He describes it as placing the whole control of education in the hands of the District Magistrate; and then he describes the District Magistrate as looking upon every part of his work as part of his police work. I have been a District Magistrate; and I have known scores of District Magistrates; and I cannot conjure before my imagination any more perfectly inaccurate picture of a District Magistrate than the Hon'ble Member has drawn. There is undoubtedly a great deal more in the mufassal than the ordinary Calcutta man knows; and the life of the District Magistrate among his people, the influence that he has over them, the habit they have of looking to an accessible and sympathetic District Magistrate for guidance in regard to most matters, and the way in which sometimes they are apt to stand aloof from anything of which by his aloofness he seems to indicate disapproval, are well known features of a life which is, in the whole course of a Civilian's career in India, the most interesting and in some respects the most useful. If we turn to Sir Alexander Pedler's Circular, we find that he urges educational officers to take advantage of the local knowledge and influence of executive officers (and also of judicial officers) so as to push forward the cause of education. In no way are the officers of the educational department subordinated to the executive officers, though they are certainly urged to go to them for advice and help. The purely educational work is left entirely in the hands of the educational officers; but they are called upon to take advantage of the local knowledge and experience of the District Officers in deciding about the educational claims or necessities of different localities, and also to take advantage of the influence of the same officers in seeking to make the cause more popular. Sir Alexander Pedler sent me a copy of his Circular; and far from disapproving of it, I circulated it to all Commissioners and District Officers with a request that they would give their heartiest co-operation to the officers of the Educational department in their work.

"It is only because I do not wish to be misunderstood that I go on to refer briefly to two other Circulars which have been referred to by the Hon'ble members. The one is Mr. Carlyle's Circular of the 24th February 1905, a Circular which originated in certain references made to me about social matters, which I thought might well have been disposed of on the spot. The Circular points out that the Commissioner of Division, as senior officer and as an officer selected from amongst his fellows on account of his special capacity for high office, should himself deal with social questions, such as cases of personal misconduct, quarrels between officers, improper treatment of the people and the like, and that such questions should only be referred to the head of the Government when, owing to recalcitrancy of one of the parties, it was impossible to settle it on the spot. It was distinctly pointed out that the greatest care must be taken in the case of judicial officers that no sort of interference should take place in regard to their judicial work. The Circular aimed at a suitable settlement of social questions by an officer of standing on the spot, which is surely a reasonable object. But distinct exception was made in respect of judicial officers in regard to their judicial work, lest there should be any appearance of interference with the judicial by the executive. The character of the Circular is the very opposite of what has been represented this morning. Similarly the object of Mr. Carlyle's Circular of the 16th of October last, in regard to school boys and students, has been grossly misrepresented. These boys were being induced to leave their studies and betake themselves to political work, which in some cases had led to breach of the peace and to acts of violence. It was desired that they should not be dealt with by the police, so as to be carried to the jail or to the whipping triangle, but by the educational authorities themselves, who should exercise proper discipline in the institutions under their control. It is unnecessary for me to say more on this subject. It is as plain as possible. I did not feel, however, that I could pass without notice the remarks which have been made.

"The cause of education does seem to be at present receiving more attention in Bengal than it has done before. I do not claim to myself any credit for this change. There are many causes, some of which have been known to me for years, and some perhaps of which I may even till now be ignorant, which have co-operated to bring about this result. The fact, however, remains: Education in all its branches is attracting more attention from the Government and from the public than in the past. University education is now entrusted to the University of Calcutta. The Syndicate and Senatus of that University must be held in the future to be mainly responsible for the efficiency of collegiate education. Government will give assistance. We have been doing so with no niggardly hand. The public are also assisting. I might give many instances of the improvement of certain colleges, of hostels established in connection with several colleges, of prizes offered for certain subjects, and of interest shown in the education of our young men. There are none more gratifying to me than the co-operation of the public in the establishment of the Ranchi College and hostels which I now expect, with confidence, to see in full working order before I finally leave the province; the interest displayed in the efficiency of the Presidency College; and the earnest efforts which are being made properly to equip the College at Patna also.

"Primary education is receiving very special attention; and I trust that the year upon which we are now entering will see very marked development in respect of it. As some Hon'ble Members are aware, a new departure is being made in regard to female education both in Behar and in Bengal. Technical education is being pushed forward not only in one or two special institutions to which reference has been made, but also over the whole country. The appointment of a special Director of Agriculture will certainly give great impulse to agricultural improvement and to agricultural education; and I am most fortunate in finding for that post an officer of the experience, energy and zeal of Mr. Oldham. To this officer I have also entrusted the inspection of technical schools of all kinds throughout the province; and I am adding to the new Engineering College a good technical school, co-operating in this respect with the Committee which has been established by the people themselves here in Calcutta. Secondary education is also receiving special attention. A model school will be established at Ranchi and every effort will be made, as funds permit, to make existing schools more efficient.

"I have been greatly cheered during the year just passed by the visit that I paid to the Police Training Schools for cadets and for constables at Bhagalpur. I am much gratified by the excellent results which have been secured at both schools. I took note also of the excellent appearance of the cadets, and of the interest with which they listened to an exhortation which I thought fit to address to them regarding their duties in their new career. I was glad to find that we are securing a better class of men as our recruits for the office of Sub-Inspectors. Men of higher education and of better social status are already being enlisted. I am just about to appoint eight Deputy Superintendents. The existence of this new class of officers will no doubt tend to improve the police just as the Provincial Judicial and Executive Services were improved.

"It will interest the Council to know that proposals for a considerable increase in the cadre of the Provincial Service are now before the Secretary of State. We trust soon to have men to carry out the increasing work of the province. I may add that it has been a great pleasure to me to receive from the present Vice-Chancellor of the University of Calcutta an excellent report regarding the educational qualifications and character of the young gentlemen who have been appointed to the Provincial Service under the new rules.

"There is one point to which the Hon'ble Babu Bhupendra Nath Basu referred which I think does demand our attention. I certainly do not accept all he said about the careers which are, or which should be, open to distinguished Indian students. But I sympathise with his suggestion that an Indian who distinguishes himself in his University career and goes abroad to devote himself to scientific pursuits should receive more recognition from the hands of the Government. This matter has attracted my attention and will be borne in mind.

"I do not think that there is anything more which requires special mention from me. There is, however, one remark of the Hon'ble Mr. Syed Shurfuddin to which I should like to refer briefly in conclusion. The Hon'ble Member quoted a remark by my predecessor, Sir John Woodburn, in which he invited suggestions from non-official Members in respect of the administration. The Hon'ble Member pointed out that he did not feel himself in a position to make such suggestions very usefully. He said, "We are in a hopeless minority and cannot vote for any matter connected with the budget. We are never asked anything when the estimates are being prepared. The budget is placed before us cut and dried; and we are asked to carry on a discussion on its merits. And our suggestions can at the very best be utilised in the following year's estimates." I do not think that it is necessary for the purpose of making valuable suggestions to be in a position to enforce them against opposition. It may be that the Government will be willing to accept a suggestion without compulsion. Then again, I do not quite agree with the Hon'ble member in saying that the Government in framing the budget estimates does not get advice. He must not think that the Government officers set to work to frame the budget with a clean sheet before them, and without any preparation except the special calling together of certain clerks with facts and figures. The budget which has been laid before you by the Hon'ble Mr. Shirres contains the results of the thought and experience of the whole of last year and even of years before. The schemes which are being taken up are schemes which have been well thought out, and in respect of some of which, as some of you know very well, a great deal of advice has been taken from people in all parts of the province. Again, the Hon'ble Raja Ban Behary Kapur could tell the Hon'ble member that criticisms and suggestions sometimes do affect the policy even of the year with which the budget under discussion is concerned. By reallocation of funds, suggestions made in the budget debate of to-day may become accomplished facts before next year. All the same, I think that there is something of truth underlying the statement made by the Hon'ble member; and I shall be very glad to endeavour to think out some measure which (with the approval of the Government of India, if necessary) may be introduced for securing the advice of the Councillors of the Government before the budget is presented by the Financial Secretary.

"And now gentlemen I have detained you longer than I have been willing to do. But the matters to which I have referred seemed to me to demand at least a word or two from the head of the Government. I shall now bid you good-bye. I hope earnestly to return to my duty in this province next October, strengthened for its more efficient discharge, and confident of receiving the loyal assistance which I have often received from you, and for which I tender you my hearty thanks. It is a great pleasure to me that His Excellency the Viceroy has appointed to be Lieutenant-Governor during my absence my esteemed friend and colleague, Mr. Hare, than whom, I am sure, there is no man who commands more the confidence of the officers and of the people of Bengal.

The Council was then adjourned sine die.

No. 128 (first publication).—With reference to Notice to Mariners No. 315, dated 7th December 1900, issued by this office, the British Admiralty has given further Notice (No. 246 of 1906) that the search for the Lisatetu rock, off the south-west coast of Bourou island, reported to be situated in lat. $3^{\circ} 39'$ S., long. $126^{\circ} 7'$ E., does not appear to be complete enough to make it certain that this danger does not exist; it has, therefore, been re-inserted on the charts in the above position and marked E. D. as before.

L. Dent, H.M.S. Katoomba, that, on 8th February 1906, his vessel passed the position of the wreck reported to the north-eastward of Bungin point, Java, in approximately lat. $5^{\circ} 49' 30''$ S., long. $107^{\circ} 11' 30''$ E., without seeing it.

In reply to inquiries made at Tanjong Priok, the pilots stated that the wreck was a water-logged derelict, which has since drifted away; it has therefore been expunged from the charts.

This notice affects the following Admiralty Charts :—Eastern archipelago, western portion, No. 941a; Java, western portion, No. 1653 : Also, Eastern Archipelago, part II, 1904, page 94.

CEYLON, WEST COAST—COLOMBO HARBOUR.

Shoal in approach.

No. 130 (first publication).—The British Admiralty has given notice (No. 251 of 1906) of the existence of a rocky ridge, named Onagalla, in the approach to Colombo harbour, with a least depth of $3\frac{1}{2}$ fathoms over its northern end, situated in a position $2\frac{2}{5}$ miles N. 13° W. from the red light on the south-west arm of the breakwater.

Approximate position on chart No. 813, lat. $7^{\circ} 0'$ N., long. $79^{\circ} 50'$ E.

This shoal, which extends about one mile in a S. 13° E. direction from the above head, is about 50 feet broad, and has four other heads with depths over them of from 4 to $4\frac{1}{2}$ fathoms, with from 5 to 7 fathoms between them. To the eastward and westward of the ridge there are depths of from 7 to 8 fathoms, but the lead gives but slight warning of the approach to it.

The cautionary note respecting mines will, for the present, be retained on the charts until it is known that the whole of the coast in this locality is free from these dangers.

This Notice affects the following Admiralty Charts:—Gulfs of Pechili and Liau tong, No. 1256; Kwang tung peninsula, No. 1798: Also, China Sea Directory, vol. III., 1904, pages 592, 594.

SUMMARY OF THE METEOROLOGICAL AND RAINFALL OBSERVATIONS TAKEN IN BENGAL, AND OF THE METEOROLOGICAL OBSERVATIONS TAKEN IN EASTERN BENGAL AND ASSAM, FOR THE MONTH OF MARCH, 1906.

THERE was nothing at all remarkable about the weather of March 1906. It was just what ought to be expected in March—a certain amount of minor unsettledness—characteristic of the transitional period of the year. For about seven days in the middle of the month, there were numerous thunderstorms scattered all over the area giving very heavy downpours of rain. The barometer was constantly higher than usual over the land so that the feeble residual out-flow of air was not quite so feeble as usual and contributed to keeping things considerably cooler than usual by means of a succession of cold waves.

The abnormally vigorous anticyclonic distribution of the last few days of February rapidly flattened out with a steadily rising barometer over Burma and the Bay of Bengal, but the excessive cold associated with its strong northerly winds over the Province only attained its maximum (of 14° below normal) on 1st of March, and declined to -12° on the 2nd, and to -10° on the 3rd. On the 4th the pressure gradient had flattened out to the vanishing point with a barometer about $\frac{1}{16}$ th of an inch above normal. This uniform distribution was only slightly disturbed by the development, during the next few days, of a couple of very shallow depressions. The first of these could be only just traced as it moved in a south-westerly direction over Orissa, surviving for three days only. It was, however, enough to bring about a very rapid rise of temperature over Bengal, to just above normal on the 5th. The second disappeared even more quickly outside the field of barometric record, but its survival in the Himalayas was evidenced in rainfall of the 6th and 7th which though fairly light was very general throughout Bihar, North Bengal and the adjacent parts of Assam. With the disappearance of this depression and the reestablishment of high pressure over Central India temperature fell again rapidly to 8° below normal on the 7th and 8th. But this began gradually to be restored as a large depression advanced from the west, making itself distinctly felt on the morning of the 11th, when the southerly winds had completely restored the temperature to its normal value. The depression gave general though light rain to Bihar on the 12th, and heavier to South-West Bengal and Assam on the 13th, and, after disappearing into the Himalayas, very general rain over all Bengal, Orissa and Assam, and locally very heavy, up to the 19th. During this period the occasions of very heavy rain caused very rapid reductions of the temperature, -10° on the 14th, -8° to -12° on the 16th, -8° on the 18th. On the 20th and 21st there was some more rain in Assam, and the temperature remained below normal all over Northern India, accompanying a state of generally disturbed weather, which was propagated from the north-west. This state of affairs continued up to the end of the month with a minor unsteadiness characteristic of the transition period from the cold to the hot weather.

Summary of pressure.—The barometer remained practically $\frac{1}{16}$ th of an inch above normal from the 1st to the 6th and fell to normal on the 8th, only to rise again to $\frac{1}{16}$ th of an inch higher on the 9th and 10th. The barometer then fell steadily until it was again normal on the 13th and 14th, rose again $\frac{1}{16}$ th of an inch above normal on the 15th, 16th, and 17th, and fell back to normal on the 19th only to rise again immediately $\frac{1}{16}$ th until the 22nd. It remained about $\frac{1}{16}$ th above normal until the 27th and fell a little below normal over the greater part of Bengal and Assam for the first time on the 28th and recovered slowly until it was again $\frac{1}{16}$ th above normal on the last two days of the month.

It will thus be seen that the variations from day to day were practically all on the upper side of the normal, so that the average for the month works out at about $\frac{1}{16}$ th of an inch above normal over the Province and about half as much over the Bay.

Summary of temperature.—Evidently associated in the ordinary way with this excess of pressure was the general defect of temperature, which varied from $2^{\circ}6$ in Assam to $4^{\circ}5$ in South-West Bengal and Chota Nagpur.

The highest temperature for the month was recorded at Outtaok, viz., $103^{\circ}4$. The lowest temperature in the plains— $41^{\circ}7$ —occurred at Motihari.

Summary of rainfall.—Rain was not quite double as much as usual in Chota Nagpur and South-West Bengal. It was in slight excess in Bihar and in large defect in Orissa.

The following table gives the summary of the temperature of each of the seven Meteorological Divisions of the Provinces of Bengal and of Eastern Bengal and Assam, and

The mean pressure, temperature, &c., are deduced from the traces of the Barograph and Thermograph, and from eye observations.

The maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified, and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides, and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected to those of the standard, Newman's No. 86, formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV, and V of the official tables computed in Meteorological Office, and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The directions and the movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.

The mouth of the rain-gauge is one foot above the ground. Rainfall reported on any day is for 24 hours preceding 6 A.M. of that day.

BHAGALPUR,

W. BOOTH,

The 20th April 1906.

Inspector of Schools, Bhagalpur Division.

BIHAR SCHOOL OF ENGINEERING.

PROSPECTUS FOR ADMISSION.

THIS school is under the management of the Principal of the Patna College, assisted by a Board of Visitors. It owes its origin to a fund raised by residents of Bihar to commemorate the visit to India of His Majesty the King when Prince of Wales. The object of the fund was the promotion of technical instruction in Bihar. The school was formally opened on the 11th July 1896 by His Honour the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal.

2. The number of students admitted to the first-year class of each year will be limited to 60. Preference is to be given to Biharis. Failing, however, a sufficient number of Bihari applicants, students who are natives of other provinces may be admitted, preference being given to Bengalis domiciled in Bihar over non-domiciled Bengalis or other applicants.

As far as accommodation is available, students who have passed the final "B" class examination will be admitted to the second-year class, provided they are not over 21 years of age, preference again being given to Biharis and domiciled Bengalis.

3. The school, as at present constituted, is chiefly engaged in training students for appointment as Sub-Overseers and Overseers.

The curriculum includes—

- (1) A sound study of elementary mathematics.
- (2) Careful training in survey work.
- (3) Drawing both free-hand and engineering.
- (4) Elements of road-making and the construction of simple buildings.
- (5) Workshop practice, with hand tools and machinery.

Students are prepared for the Overseer certificate of the Public Works Department. The necessary additional buildings have now been completed; and Government has agreed to reserve one appointment annually for a qualified student from this school, who must be a Bihari by race.

4. The next session will commence on 2nd July 1906.

5. In the Overseer Department, which corresponds to the Apprentice Department of the Sibpur College, the monthly fee is Re. 1-8, except for non-domiciled Bengalis, who shall pay Rs. 3. All scholarship-holders, however, receive free tuition. Government scholarships of the value of Rs. 7 a month, tenable for one year, are awarded each year on the results of the annual examinations, eight being tenable in the second-year class, six in the third-year class, and six in the fourth-year class. Of the scholarships attached to the school, 75 per cent. of them are to be reserved for those students who are Biharis by race. The teaching is in English.

6. Candidates for admission to the Overseer Department must be under 20 years of age, and must have passed one of the tests mentioned below :—

- (1) The entrance examination of an Indian University in English and mathematics.
- (2) Standard VII of the Code of European schools.
- (3) Students who have not passed either of these tests, and who are otherwise eligible, will have to pass an examination in English and mathematics (of about the same standard as the Entrance examination of the Calcutta University in these subjects) to be held by the Principal of the Patna College on the 4th and 5th July, respectively (from 6 A.M. to 9 A.M. each day).

7. Candidates for admission must apply to the Principal not later than the 30th June. Their application must give the following particulars :—

- (a) Name, address, and occupation of father or guardian.
- (b) Race and religion. (A domiciled Bengali must produce evidence to show that his father with his family have taken up their residence in Bihar.)
- (c) A certificate of good moral character from last head-master.
- (d) An attested certificate of age (showing that he is under 20 years of age).
- (e) A medical certificate showing him to be fit for employment in the public service.
- (f) A certificate of having passed either of the first two of the three tests mentioned above, failing which the application will be kept pending till a certificate showing that the candidate has passed the third test is given to the Principal.

8. There is also an Amin class, admission to which may be obtained by students who do not know English. In the Amin class the course of study is for one year, and the monthly fee is Re. 1. An Amin-student is taught elementary surveying with a corresponding amount of mathematics and of geometrical drawing. He will not be admitted to the workshop. A student in the first-year class of the Overseer Department, who fails to pass the examination for promotion to the second-year class, but who has shown an adequate knowledge of elementary surveying and the other subjects taught in the Amin class may, at his option, leave the school with an Amin certificate.

Candidates for Amin class, who have not passed the middle English or middle vernacular examination will be examined at the school on the 4th July; candidates failing at this examination will not be admitted.

9. Except in very special cases, a student will not be admitted to the Amin class for the session that commences from 3rd July 1906, unless application for admission is made before 30th June 1906.

10. All candidates for admission to the school should present themselves personally at the school on the 2nd July.

11. There is a hostel in connection with the school. The fees are Re. 1-8 for room and Re. 1 for light. Students make their own mess arrangements. Students joining the Overseer classes must reside in the hostel unless they are residents with parents or with nearly related guardians whose homes are near enough to enable them to attend the school at the required times. The Principal of the College will decide whether a student should reside in the school hostel, or whether the guardian proposed can be accepted as such.

Dated Calcutta, the 23rd April 1906.

RESOLUTION.

Receipts and Expenditure of the District Road Funds in the districts of Darjeeling, Singhbhum, and Sonthal
Parganas during 1904-1905.

READ—

Annual Reports and Accounts of the District Road Funds in the districts of Darjeeling, Singhbhum, and Sonthal Parganas for the year 1904-1905, received from the Commissioners of Divisions concerned.

Read again—

Annual Reports and Accounts of the District Road Funds in Bengal for the previous year and the review thereof.

REMARKS.—The Bengal Local Self-Government Act of 1885 was in force in 1904-1905 in all the districts of the Province except the following :—

| | | |
|-------------------|--|------------|
| Darjeeling. | | Singhbhum. |
| Sonthal Parganas. | | |

In the Darjeeling district and in the Dhalbhum and Porahat parganas of the Singhbhum district the Cess Act of 1880 was in force during the year under review. It was also in force in certain tracts of the Sonthal Parganas from 1st September, 1901, while the other parganas of the Singhbhum district and other tracts of the Sonthal Parganas district were not under the operation of either of the above Acts.

RECEIPTS.

2. In the Darjeeling district, and in the Dhalbhum and Porahat parganas of the Singhbhum district in which the Cess Act was in force, the cess was levied at the maximum rate allowed by law. In the tracts of the Sonthal Parganas, however, in which the Cess Act was introduced, there were no cess collections during the year. For the portions of the Sonthal Parganas and Singhbhum districts which were not under the operation of the Act, and in which therefore there were no cess collections, funds were provided by grants-in-aid. The receipts for the year 1904-1905, compared with those of the previous year, are shown below:—

3. In the Darjeeling district the increase under the head “VI Provincial Rates—” under “cess on lands” was due to the revaluation of certain estates. The decrease under the head “Grant from Government” was mainly due to the fact that the credit order for the quarter ending 31st December 1904 was not received during the year.

4. In the Sonthal Parganas the increase in the receipts under “Grant from Government” was mainly due to—

(1) Allotment of Rs. 2,000 for agricultural improvements in Government estates.

(2) Re-allotment of Rs. 7,022 which lapsed in the previous year.

The increase was, however, partially counterbalanced by less receipts under “Grant from Forest Revenue” and under “Ordinary grant for Miscellaneous Improvements.” The net increase was only Rs. 6,040.

on repairs to Road-cess bridges in charge of the Executive Engineer, Darjeeling Division, during the year. The sum of Rs. 139 shown in the accounts of the Committee under a separate head, "Signboards," under 45.—Civil Works, represents the amount spent for putting up signboards on some of the road-cess roads. It should have been shown under "Original Works—Communications." In this district the year opened with a balance of Rs. 22,472, but closed with a balance of Rs. 20,283. This closing balance was more than one quarter of the year's receipts of the Committee, that is, above the limit prescribed in paragraph 9 of the Resolution No. 4228R.C., dated 18th December 1885.

7. In the Sonthal Parganas district also the year opened with a cash balance of Rs. 54,727, but it closed with a balance of Rs. 69,940, which was excessive. The cause of this heavy closing balance was mainly due to—

- (a) the delay in completing the Gumra bridge and in getting estimates prepared and sanctioned for two other bridges, and also to the gravel on certain roads not having been consolidated;
- (b) accumulation of funds allotted for expenditure in the Damin i-Koh Government estate owing to the regular executive staff under the District Engineer not being able to ascertain the actual needs of the Damin and to prepare projects for the execution of works to be undertaken in it.

8. Of the total expenditure incurred during the year, Rs. 92,110 was devoted to Civil Works, while the outlay under other sub-heads, exclusive of "Suspense Accounts" was Rs. 27,607 in the aggregate. The distribution of the outlay on Civil Works is as follows:—

In the Darjeeling district the very low percentage is due to the fact that no Engineer was employed: all the works and repairs in the hills of the district and most of those in the Terai were executed by the members of the Committee and other private gentlemen to whom the thanks of Government are due for their assistance. The sum of Rs. 1,043 spent under this head was for the Public Works establishment in the Terai subdivision only. The percentage in the district of Sonthal Parganas is high. In this district the charges for establishment during the year were Rs. 16,856, against Rs. 15,846 of the previous year.

ORDER.—Ordered that a copy of this Resolution, together with the Annual Accounts of the several District Road Funds, and abstracts from the reports of the Chairmen of the several District Road Committees be published in Part II of the Calcutta Gazette.

Ordered, also, that a copy of this Resolution be forwarded for information to the—

Commissioners of the Bhagalpur and Chota Nagpur Divisions;
Superintending Engineers of the Northern and Western Circles;
Accountant General, Bengal;
Board of Revenue, Lower Provinces;
Financial Department of this Government.

The order of the Lieutenant Governor of Bengal,

Abstract of the Report by the Chairman, District Road Committee of Darjeeling, on the operations of the District Road Fund of the District, for the year 1904-1905.

[Vide letter No. 111E.—F., dated 22nd July 1905, from J. H. E. Garrett, Esq., I.C.S., Chairman of the District Road Committee, Darjeeling, to the Commissioner of the Rajshahi Division.]

1. WORKING OF COMMITTEES.—(a). District Road Committee.—There were 18 members of the Committee—5 official and 13 non-official. Four meetings were held during the year. The average attendance was 9, or 50 per cent., at a meeting.

(b). Kurseong Branch Committee.—The total number of members was 8—3 official and 5 non-official. Six meetings were held, including one in which there was no quorum, during the year. The average attendance was 3·6, or 45 per cent., at a meeting.

(c). Terai Branch Committee.—There were 19 members of the Committee—6 official and 13 non-official. Seven meetings altogether were held during the year, in two of which there was no quorum. The average attendance was 4, or 21 per cent, at a meeting.

2. The year opened with a cash balance of Rs. 22,472-0-3 and an outstanding advance of Rs. 1,498-12-11. A sum of Rs. 54,137-7-1 was available for expenditure. The actual expenditure during the year was Rs. 24,070-6-9, excluding Rs. 9,784-3-11 of advance outstanding at the close of the year; the balance on the 31st March 1905 was Rs. 30,067-0-4, including the outstanding advances of Rs. 9,784-3-11. The closing balance was more than one quarter's kist. This is allowed by the Government as per No. 5106R.C., dated 26th September 1902.

RECEIPTS.

3. Provincial Rates.—The road cess was levied in the district at the maximum rate of 6 pies in the rupee during the year. The sum of Rs. 21,213-15-11 was collected during the year on account of cess on lands, against Rs. 20,754-0-1 of the preceding year. The increase was due to the re-valuation of certain estates.

4. CONTRIBUTIONS.—(a). Grant from Government.—Rs. 1,812-15-0 was received under this head, against Rs. 2,842-0-8 of the preceding year. The decrease was mainly due to the fact that the credit order for the quarter ending 31st December 1904 was not received during the year.

(b). Contribution from Darjeeling Improvement Fund.—Rs. 7,000 and Rs. 98 were received from the Darjeeling Improvement Fund, as in the preceding year, on account of contribution towards communications and its share of the cost of the joint cess and tauzi establishment, respectively.

5. Miscellaneous.—A sum of Rs. 41-11-0 was received during the year on account of sale-proceeds of certain old materials, etc.

EXPENDITURE.

6. ORIGINAL WORKS.—Communications.—Though Rs. 6,284 were provided under this head for a bridge over Rongbong Jhora above Namsu and the amount was placed at the credit of the Executive Engineer, Darjeeling Division, as an advance for the work, no account of expenditure was received for adjustment during the year, hence expenditure under this head is nil.

7. Repairs.—The total expenditure under this head, as per details below, was Rs. 11,782-4-11, against Rs. 13,125-13-11 of the previous year, which shows a decrease of Rs. 1,343-9-0. This was mainly due to non-receipt of the account of the expenditure incurred on repairs to road cess bridges in charge of the Executive Engineer, Darjeeling Division, during the year:—

| NAME OF THE COMMITTEE. | Particulars of expenditure. | Amount. | Total. |

8. Three hundred and thirteen miles of unmetalled roads, together with the bridges thereon, were repaired at a cost of Rs. 11,322-9-2, or Rs. 36-1 per mile, and 10 miles of village roads at a cost of Rs. 459-11-9, or Rs. 45-9 per mile. A sum of Rs. 178-1-0 only out of Rs. 11,322-9-2 was spent for the repairs of certain hill bridges under the Darjeeling District and Kurseong Branch Committees. The decrease in the cost per mile of the district roads was due to the circumstances explained in paragraph 7, and the increase in the cost per mile of the village roads was mainly due to the thorough repairs done to road No. 5 (Pulbazar below Dhuteria to Namsu through Dhojia which was in a very bad state. A sum of Rs. 139 was spent for putting up sign-boards on some of the roads under Darjeeling and Kurseong Committees.

9. List of Roads.—The total number of roads under the District Road Committee was 49 and village roads 6.

10. Water-supply.—This is attended to by the Darjeeling Improvement Fund and Government, and therefore there was no expenditure under this head.

11. Loan.—No fresh loan was taken during the year. Rupees 3,842-3-3 and Rs. 3,468-14-5 were paid towards the principal and the interest, respectively, of the loans granted by Government in 1900-1901. The increase in principal and decrease in interest are due to the terms of payment fixed by Government.

12. Public Works Establishment.—No professional Engineer was entertained by the Committee during the year. All the works in the hills and most of those in the Terai were carried out by the Managers of tea-gardens, members of the Committees and other private gentlemen, to whom the thanks of the Committee are due for their assistance. The important bridges under the Committee were repaired by the Public Works Department at the cost of the Committee. An Overseer and a peon were entertained by the Terai Branch Road Committee at Siliguri, at a cost of Rs. 1,042-13-0. The pay of the Overseer was Rs. 80, including the horse allowance of Rs. 20, and that of the peon was Rs. 7 per mensem.

13. Audit of Accounts.—The accounts for the whole year have been audited by the members of the Audit Sub-Committee and those up to May 1901 by the Examiner of Local Accounts, Bengal.

6. Repairs—Communications. Twenty-nine roads were repaired during the year at a cost of Rs. 12,073-14-9. The works chiefly consisted of the annual maintenance of these roads, including repairs to road surfaces, bridges and culverts and easing down the steep approaches to beds of unbridged streams and rivers.

7. Village roads.—There are altogether eight roads aggregating about 39 miles in length, of which 35 miles were repaired and made passable for cart traffic in fair weather.

8. The following statement shows the length of district roads (metalled and unmetalled) and village roads, the amount spent on the maintenance of roads and the cost per mile :—

There are no metalled roads under the management of the District Road Committee of the district.

No roads are maintained by the District Road Committee from Public Works funds.

9. Arboriculture.—Three hundred and thirty-two new trees were planted during the year. These, together with unestablished plants of the previous year, were maintained at a cost of Rs. 354-9-6, the allotment being Rs. 350. The existing trees were reported to be in fair condition.

10. Nursery.—There are four nursery gardens—one at Chaibassa on the south bank of the Jubilee tank containing about 300 plants; one at Boea containing about 70 plants; one at Jorapoker containing 32 plants, and one at Gamaria containing 200 plants. The plants were reported to be flourishing.

11. The following statement compares the cost of maintenance during the year of the several classes of roads with that of the previous year and the average cost per mile:—

IIB.—The increase in average cost per mile is due to some urgent repairs to culverts, bridges and inspection bungalows being taken up during the year.

V.—The increase is due to repairing the damages done to the roads by the heavy rains during the year.

12. No famine relief operations were carried out during the year. A sum of Rs. 185-1, however, was spent in preparing projects for famine relief works.

13. Assistant & Head Clerk, Singbhum R. C. Office.

Vice-Chairman, D. R. C., Singbhum.

Chairman, D. R. C., Singbhum.

Extract from letter No. 504L., dated the 18th August 1905, from D. J. MACPHERSON, Esq., C.I.E., Commissioner of the Bhagalpur Division and Sonthal Parganas, to the Secretary to the Government of Bengal, Public Works Department.

I HAVE the honour to submit herewith a copy of the annual accounts and of the report on the administration of the District Road Committee of the Sonthal Parganas for the year 1904-05.

2. The Committee began the year with an opening balance of Rs. 54,727. Its income from all available sources during the year amounted to Rs. 1,10,091, and the expenditure to Rs. 94,878. There was thus at the close of the year a credit balance of Rs. 69,940, Rs. 2,839 which consisted of deposits which were not at the disposal of the Committee. The above closing balance includes only Rs. 19,343 belonging to the general funds of the Committee: it was mainly due to delay in completing the Gumra Bridge and in getting estimates prepared and sanctioned for two other bridges: also to the gravel on certain roads not being consolidated. A sum of Rs. 47,758 represents accumulated funds allotted for expenditure in the Damin-i-Koh Government estate. * * * *

3. * * * The Chairman explains that the works in the Pakour subdivision were actually completed before the close of the year, and that the payment vouchers have since been submitted by the Subdivisional Officer of Pakour for adjustment after proper check.

5. The principal undertakings were the construction of the Dhobai bridge and a steel joist bridge over the Dhanbhasa river. The actual expenditure on the former work up to the end of the year under review was Rs. 12,202 inclusive of the year's outlay of Rs. 2,640, though the estimated cost of it was Rs. 11,201 only. The estimated cost of the latter work, which was begun during the year, was Rs. 5,070, against which Rs. 3,917 was spent during the year.

6. The expenditure on establishment rose from Rs. 15,846 to Rs. 16,856, owing to the entertainment of a Supervisor on Rs. 120 a month from April 1904 for the preparation of Damin projects which it is most desirable to push on. Owing to the small outlay on works and repairs, this represents a percentage of no less than 28·85 on the expenditure, against Rs. 27·76 in the preceding year. As soon as estimates can be prepared and sanctioned, and a competent and energetic new District Engineer is obtained, the expenditure in this district should become very heavy, and thus reduce the percentage cost of establishment to a reasonable amount.

Abstract of the Report by the Chairman, District Road Committee of the Sonthal Parganas, on the operations of the District Road Fund of the District for the year 1904-1905.

[Vide letter No. 237 P.W., dated 8th June 1906, from C. H. BOMPAS, Esq., I.C.S., Deputy Commissioner and Chairman of the District Road Committee of the Sonthal Parganas, to the Commissioner of the Bhagalpur Division and Sonthal Parganas.]

1. The provisions of the Bengal Cess Act IX of 1880 were extended to certain selected portions of the district under Government Notification No. 4489 R.P., dated the 20th August 1901. There were, however, no cess collections during the year owing to the valuation of the estates borne on the tauzi roll of other districts not having been completed.

2. The Committee consisted of nine members, besides the Chairman. Of these, three were ex-officio and the rest non-official. During the year, the Committee held 18 meetings, against 11 in the previous year. Of these, seven were special and 11 ordinary meetings. Only one meeting had to be adjourned for want of a quorum, against three in the year before. The average attendance of members was 3·55, against 4·00 in the previous year; and the percentage of average attendance 35·55 against 40·00. The percentage for the official members was 75·00 as compared with 9·26 of that of the non-official. It is not to be expected that non-officials will travel distances by road to Dumka to attend meetings which are often formal and in which they are not much interested. When road cess is realized from their estates and spent in those estates, they may take more interest in the matter.

RECEIPTS.

3. The year opened with a cash balance of Rs. 54,727, and the income of the fund from all available sources during the year amounted to Rs. 1,10,091 and the expenditure to

Ra. 94,878. There was thus left a closing balance of Ra. 69,940 at the end of the year, of which Ra. 2,839 represented the outstanding deposits not at the disposal of the Committee.

The cause of this heavy closing balance was mainly due to :—

- (a) Delay in completing the Gumra bridge and in getting estimates prepared and sanctioned for two other bridges ; and also to the gravel on certain roads not being consolidated owing to rains ceasing earlier.
- (b) Accumulation of funds allotted for expenditure in the Damin-i-Koh Government estate owing to the regular executive staff under the District Engineer not being able to ascertain the actual needs of the Damin and to prepare the projects for the execution of the works to be undertaken in it.
- (c) Ill health and death of the late District Engineer, in the middle of the year on account of which the works generally in the Sonthal Parganas suffered grievously.

4. There being no cess collections, the receipts of the year consisted mainly of the Government grants-in-aid. The following table compares the receipts under several heads of the year with those of the previous year :—

| | | 1903-1904. Rs. | 1904-1905. Rs. |

5. XXV.—Miscellaneous.—The income under “Fees, fines and forfeitures” rose from Ra. 35 to Ra. 83, and the increase is due to the unclaimed deposit of Ra. 65 having been credited to the fund and to the forfeiture of the Provident Fund contribution by the late Sub-Overseer of Godda.

6. There was no receipt under “Contribution from private persons” against Ra. 1,350 in the previous year.

7. The increase under “Grant from Government” is due to—

- (a) The assignment of Ra. 2,000 for agricultural improvements in Government estates.
- (b) The re-allotment of Ra. 7,022 which lapsed in the previous year under Bengal Government No. 5514F. of 1st December 1904.

The increase was, however, partially counterbalanced by less receipts under “Grant from Forest Revenue” (from Ra. 15,656 to Ra. 14,860) and under “Ordinary Grant for Miscellaneous Improvements” (from Ra. 10,800 to Ra. 7,847), so that the net increase only mounted to Ra. 6,040.

8. The following table shows the outlay incurred in 1904-1905 compared with that of the previous year :—

9. The total expenditure, under "Land Revenue" was Rs. 16,572, against Rs. 20,573 in the previous year. The decrease is mainly under "Repairs" and "Miscellaneous" and is due in the former case to the lapsing of the allotment for Road repairs assigned to the Sub-divisional Officer, Pakour, and in the latter to the bulk of the expenditure for the Damin bungalows under construction having been incurred in the previous year.

10. The following three classes of experiments were started in the Damin with the money sanctioned for agricultural improvements :—

- (i) On orange plants imported from Assam in Rajmehal Damin,
- (ii) On ground nuts in the Dumka Damin; and
- (iii) with certain seeds in the Godda Damin.

It is too early to pronounce any opinion on the experiments.

11. Civil Buildings.—Rupees 478 were spent in extending the store godown at Dumka, which was found necessary for storage of heavy tools lately purchased for bridge works. No repairs were done to the office buildings, as none required; there was therefore no expenditure under "Repairs."

12. Communications.—

- (a) New works. :—The expenditure had more than doubled that of the previous year, as several important works were carried through during the year, some of which are given in paragraph 15. The construction of new inspection bungalow at Chorekata in the Dumka-Madhupur road was started some time before the close of the year, and will it is hoped be finished ere long.
- (b) Repairs.—The expenditure fell off from Rs. 30,375 to Rs. 27,779. The decrease is due to—
 - (i) Spreading and consolidating of metal not being carried out on the main roads owing to the lateness of the season.
 - (ii) The lapse of the allotments for certain roads in the Pakour sub-division, vide para. 9.

13. The expenditure on "Establishment" rose a little owing to the entertainment of a Supervisor on Rs. 120 per month from April 1904 for Damin projects.

14. The expenditure on tools and plant largely exceeded that of the previous year, as instruments and other tools had to be procured for the Damin Supervisor and Estimator for famine projects.

15. Original Works.—The principal works carried out during the year were—

Land Revenue.

- (1) Construction of corrugated iron pipe culverts for Damin roads in Godda with an expenditure of Rs. 1,332.
- (2) Construction of Gumro bridge with an expenditure of Rs. 558.
- (3) Improvement of Hiranpur and Amrapara basar with an expenditure of Rs. 930.
- (4) Constructing three bridges on 12th mile of Katikund road with an expenditure of Rs. 1,165.

District Road Fund.

- (5) Making approaches and other works for the Dhoboi bridge, at a cost of Rs. 531
- (6) Graveling northern circular road of Doeghur village road, at a cost of Rs. 628

- (7) Improving the wooden bridge on 3rd mile of Dumka-Pakour road, at a cost of Rs. 1,489.
 (8) Graveling Dumka-Pakour road from 7th mile to Brahmani Nadi, at a cost of Rs. 1,489.
 (9) Constructing Dhoboi bridge on road No. 1, at a cost of Rs. 2,640.
 (10) Constructing a steel joist bridge on Dhanbasa river, at a cost of Rs. 3,917.
 (11) Improving Amrapara-Murairi road, at a cost of Rs. 1,838.

16. Repairs. There were no changes in the classification or mileage of the scheduled roads; annual repairs were done to one and each of them, except Kumrad road, which is maintained by a samindar. Special repairs were done to three important bridges in miles 47, 61 and 96 of the Bhagalpur-Suri road.

17. The expenditure on repairs is classified in the following table:—

| DISTRICT. | CIVIL BUILDINGS. | | | COMMUNICATION. | | | | | | | | | | | | | |
|-----------|-----------------------|------------------|------------------|------------------|---------|------------------|------------------|---------|------------------|-------------------|-----------------------------|---------|------------------|------------------|---------|------------------|----------------|

18. During the year 42 scheduled roads, with a total length of 849½ miles, were maintained at a total cost of Rs. 27,007, against Rs. 29,707 in the previous year. Of the total length, 15½ miles were metalled and the rest unmetalled. The cost per mile of metalled roads was Rs. 91.87, and that of unmetalled roads Rs. 30.71. Of the total cost, Rs. 1,421 was spent on the former, and Rs. 25,583 on the latter class of roads.

19. The number of scheduled village roads was the same as in the previous years. Four roads, with a total mileage of 34, were maintained at a cost of Rs. 524, the cost per mile being Rs. 15.41. The sanction to gravel a portion of the Deoghur village roads was accorded at a cost of Rs. 900; the collection was finished before the close of the year, and the spreading and consolidation will be done during the next rains.

20. Railway Feeder Roads.—The construction of new feeder roads was not taken up during the year. The existing ones were improved to a certain extent and maintained in passable condition throughout the year.

21. The receipts and expenditure of the three dāk bungalows under the District Road Committee are compared with those of the previous year in the following table:—

| Names of Dāk bungalows. | Receipts. | | Expenditure. | | REMARKS. |
|-------------------------|------------|------------|--------------|------------|---|
| | 1903-1904. | 1904-1905. | 1903-1904. | 1904-1905. | |
| Dumka ... | 238 | 210 | 152 | 99 | |
| Rajmahal ... | 160 | 144 | 233 | 326 | Rs. 135 spent on repairs to the building. |
| Sahabganje | 54 | 155 | 269 | 405 | Rs. 113 ditto ditto. |

22. Medical.—There were no medical institutions under the Committee, except two new ones proposed for Amrapara and Barhait, the cost of which was to be met out of Estates Improvement Fund grant. There was, however, no expenditure on the above score during the year. The dispensary at Amrapara was started towards the close of the year, and the dispensary building and quarters for the hospital assistant for the Barhait Dispensary are under construction at a total estimated cost of Rs. 1,327.

23. Sanitation.—As usual Rs. 60 was paid to the Sanitation Committee at Rajmahal for sweeping Rajmahal town roads. Rupees 2,126 was spent in excavating tanks and bundhs and sinking wells in the Damin, against Rupees 2,510 in the preceding year. Rupees 7½ spent on vaccination during the year. Small-pox made its appearance in some of the res in the Dumka Damin, and two paid vaccinators were employed for the space of three months to check the spread of the disease by revaccinating the people in the vicinity. They performed 2,637 vaccinations in all, and the disease was successfully brought under.

24. Village sanitation.—The scheme promulgated by Government in Circular No. 10T.M., dated the 30th May 1903, for the improvement of sanitation of villages and rural towns was not tried in this district during 1904-1905.

25. Arboriculture.—Rupees 98 was spent, against Rs. 498 in the previous year, in planting and maintaining trees on road sides, besides Rs. 640 expended towards the wages of 13 malies entertained throughout the year. It is reported that 985 new plants were planted on road sides and within the compound of inspection bungalows during the year, against 1,511 in the preceding year.

26. Water-supply.—There was no outlay incurred on water-supply from the District Road Fund, and the amount spent for the purpose out of the grant for Estate Improvement was Rs. 2,066 in sinking wells and excavating tanks and bundhs in the Damin. It is reported that the supply of water was sufficient throughout the district, and that the existing sources were enough for ordinary purposes. The following statement shows the thana totals of Form No. I prescribed in Government Circular No. 8T.M., dated the 15th May 1896, for several subdivisions:—

Heavy and excessive rain-fall at the ploughing and sowing season caused a large part of the area usually devoted to winter rice to be kept uncultivated and the high flood of September caused still further damage. Hence the difference in the estimated outturn between this and the preliminary forecast.

The increase in outturn at the sadar sub-division is due to good rains.

In Angul some loss was caused by irregular rain-fall and injury by insects.

The yield is more than what was shown in the preliminary forecast because of subsequent, favourable and timely rainfall.

The decrease in the outturn (from the preliminary estimate of 16 acries) is due to excessive and incessant rains. No noticeable change in the outturn of this year as compared with that of the last year.

27. Establishment.—The following table shows the amount spent on establishment and the percentage of its cost on expenditure in Civil Works:—

| YEAR. | Outlay on works and repairs | Outlay on establish- ment. | Percentage. | REMARKS. |
|-----------|-----------------------------------|----------------------------------|-------------|-------------------------------------|
| 1 | 2 | 3 | 4 | 5 |
| | Rs. | Rs. | | Rs. |
| 1903-1904 | 57,071 | 16,846 | 27.76 | (a) Consists of land revenue 16,572 |

| | | | | 58,425 |

The percentage is high, as owing to heavy lapses on Civil Works the expenditure thereon had not been proportionately large enough to keep down the same. The total cost, however falls short of the limit laid down in the Cess Act, i. e., one-fourth of the year's receipt excluding the opening balance thus:—

| | |
|--------------------|---------------|
| | Rs. |
| Administration ... | 1,792 |
| Civil Works ... | 16,856 |
| Total ... | 18,648 |

which is less than one-fourth of Rs. 96,859 being the total receipts of the year.

Visibility of Aden Cape (Ras Marshag) light.

*No. 132 (first publication).—*With reference to Notice to Mariners No. 397, dated 18th October 1905, issued by this Office, the Bombay Government has given further notice (No. 32 of 1906) that information has been received from the Officer in charge, Marine Survey of India, that Aden Cape (Ras Marshag) light is 244 feet above high water, and should therefore be visible in clear weather a distance of 22 miles.

This Notice affects the following Admiralty Charts:—Aden and Adjacent bays, No. 7; Gulf of Aden, Sheet II, western portion, No. 6 B; also sailing directions 'Red Sea and Gulf of Aden Pilot,' page 353; Admiralty List of Lights, Part VI, No. 129, page 21; and List of Light-houses and Light-vessels in British India, No. 129, page 10.

JAPAN—NAIKAI (INLAND) SEA.

Shimonoseki strait—Wrecks dispersed.

*No. 133 (first publication).—*With reference to Notice to Mariners No. 55, dated 10th February 1906, issued by this office, the British Admiralty has given further notice (No. 255 of 1906) that the wreck of the schooner which sank in Shimonoseki strait, at a distance of 4 cables S. 63° W. from Naru se beacon light. has been dispersed, and the spar marking the position withdrawn.

Approximate position, lat. 33° 54½' N., long. 130° 54½' E.

Also, with reference to Notice to Mariners No. 932 of 1905, that the wreck of S.S. Ryōyō Maru, which sank off Shimonoseki, at a distance of 13½ cables S. 18° W. from Moji hill, has been dispersed.

Approximate position, lat. 38° 57½' N., long. 130° 56½' E.

(Variation 4° Westerly in 1906.)

This Notice affects the following Admiralty Charts:—Shimonoseki strait, Nos. 532, 1578. Also, Sailing Directions for Japan, &c., 1904, pages 505, 503.

JAPAN—NAIKAI—BINGO NADA.

Takami shima—Wreck to the south-westward. Sanagi shima—Non-existence of wreck.

*No. 134 (first publication).—*The British Admiralty has given notice (No. 256 of 1906) that the wreck of a vessel lies sunk in Bingo Nada, in a position from which the southern extremity of Takami shima bears S. 83° E., distant 12 cables, and the northern extremity of the same island N. 30° E.

Approximate position, lat. 34° 18½' N., long. 133° 38½' E.

NOTE.—This wreck is believed to be identical with the wreck reported in Notice to Mariners No. 114 of 1906 to have sunk at distance of 1½ miles S. 33° W. from the summit of Sanagi shima. The wreck given in the above notice has therefore been erased from the charts.

(Variation 4° Westerly in 1906.)

As the authority for the existence of this bank is obscure, and as its reported position was passed over several times in 1886 without any sign of its existence being detected, it is considered that it may safely be erased from the charts.

Approximate position, lat. 16° 7' S., long. 146° 3' W.

Soundings of 71, 76, and 110 fathoms were obtained between Fakarava and the supposed position of this bank.

Approximate position on Chart No. 813, lat. $6^{\circ} 59' N.$, long. $79^{\circ} 50\frac{1}{4}' E.$

Approximate position, lat. $12^{\circ} 54\frac{3}{4}' N.$, long. $100^{\circ} 47\frac{1}{4}' E.$

(Variation 2° Easterly in 1906.)

This Notice affects the following Admiralty Charts:—Gulf of Siam, No. 2414; Koh Ta Kut to cape Liant, No. 2720: Also China Sea Directory, Vol. II, 1899, page 363.

Table bay—Wreck no longer dangerous—Lights.

No. 139 (first publication).—The following Notice to Mariners (No. 278 of 1906) issued by the British Admiralty is republished. The following information respecting the wreck and lights in Table bay is taken from the Navigating Officer's Remark Book, H.M.S. Forte, 1905:—

With reference to Notice to Mariners No. 663 of 1903:—

- (a) The wreck of the ship Highfields, which sank in a depth of about 10 fathoms, at a distance of 8 cables N. 40° E. from the end of the north breakwater, is not regarded by the local pilots as dangerous to navigation, as it is supposed to have become embedded in the sand.

The green wreck buoy and the tug have, in consequence, been withdrawn. Vessels are, however, recommended to avoid anchoring over the wreck.

Approximate position, lat. $33^{\circ} 53' S.$, long. $18^{\circ} 25\frac{1}{4}' E.$

With reference to Notice to Mariners No. 365 of 1904:—

- (b) A provisional fixed green light (oil lantern), visible over an arc of about 200° , is shown from the extremity of the breakwater in place of the light washed away.
- (c) The three white fixed lights triangularly placed on the south pier have been discontinued.

(Variation 29° Westerly in 1906.)

This Notice affects the following Admiralty Charts:—Table bay, Nos. 1920 and 123; Also Arrica Pilot, Part II, 1901, pages 329, 330; Supplement, 1905, page 19; and Africa Pilot, Part III, 1905, pages 67, 68.

INDIAN OCEAN—COMORO ISLANDS—MAYOTTA.

Bandeli passage—Depths in.

No. 140 (first publication).—The British Admiralty has given notice (No. 279 of 1906) that a recent survey shows that the depths in Bandeli passage, Mayotta island, are less than those shown on the chart. In the entrance three coral reefs exist, the northernmost of the three reefs is situated on the leading line, and has a depth of $3\frac{1}{2}$ fathoms.

The middle reef has a depth of 4 fathoms over it, and the southern reef depths of from 2 to $2\frac{1}{2}$ fathoms over it, but the latter is well clear of the leading line.

The general shape of the reefs which form the sides of this passage, however, does not differ very much from that shown on the chart.

Approximate position, lat. 12° S., long. $45^{\circ} 17'$ E.

A note that there is a depth of $3\frac{1}{2}$ fathoms in the passage has been placed on the charts, but a new edition of chart No. 2741 will be issued when the result of the new survey has been received.

RESOLUTION ON THE GENERAL ADMINISTRATION REPORT OF THE BURDWAN DIVISION FOR THE QUINQUENNIAL PERIOD 1900-1901 TO 1904-1905.

REVENUE DEPARTMENT—MISCELLANEOUS.

Darjeeling, the 21st April 1906.

RESOLUTION—No. 163T.R.

READ—

The General Administration Report of the Burdwan Division for the Quinquennial period 1900-01 to 1904-05.

Material condition of the people.—The Lieutenant-Governor is glad to note that the quinquennium was, on the whole, a period of very general material prosperity for the people of the Burdwan Division. The only exception is to be found in certain parts of the Burdwan district itself where a protracted break in the monsoon of 1904 caused a failure of the crops in thanas Galsi and Ketugram. In the following year, owing to scanty rainfall and long drought, the paddy crops failed completely, occasioning such distress that the opening of relief measures became necessary. Fortunately, however, the distress was confined to a small area, and the issue of agricultural loans on liberal terms by Government obviated the necessity of relief works on a large scale. But in almost every other part of the Division the condition of the people is reported to be prosperous. In the Raniganj subdivision the coal-mines and factories gave remunerative employment to large numbers of the labouring classes. In Birbhum the population is almost entirely agricultural, and the paddy harvests having been, on the whole, satisfactory, the people are in a flourishing condition. In Midnapore also harvests were good, and the opening of the railway by facilitating export of surplus grain raised prices and enabled the people to realise larger profits. In Hooghly the mills and other industries offered good wages, and the labouring classes are fairly well off. In Howrah a considerable portion of the rural population is also semi-urban, and contributes largely to the artizan class. The cotton and jute mills, the docks, railway stations, brickfields and timber-yards continue to attract a large amount of labour.

Prices of food and labour.—During the period under review there has been a rise in the price of all the cereals as compared with the two previous quinquennia. The rise in the price of rice, which is the staple food of the people in this part of the country, was general throughout the Division. It cannot be ascribed to any local cause, but to the increased general demand throughout the country and improved facilities for export. The average price during the quinquennium was 13 seers to the rupee as compared with 14 seers $4\frac{1}{2}$ chitaks during the previous five years. Salt, owing to the reduction of duty, was cheaper, though unfortunately the poorest classes who purchase this necessary article in very small quantities were not appreciably benefited. There has been a general rise in the price of both skilled and unskilled labour. The construction of new railways and the mills and workshops in the Howrah and Hooghly districts furnish a constant demand for labour, while indigenous day-labourers working in the fields and menial servants also obtain high wages. In the Howrah district labour is more highly paid than in any other mufassal district.

Public Health.—The Lieutenant-Governor regrets that the health of the Division has not been satisfactory. In Burdwan it was considerably worse than in the preceding quinquennium, the average reported annual mortality being 47,070 against 40,709. The most serious outbreak of cholera was in 1900, while it was also prevalent in 1902 in which year fever of a most malignant type occurred to such an extent that scarcely a single village enjoyed immunity from it. In Birbhum the total number of deaths from all kinds of diseases rose yearly during the quinquennium. In Midnapore the average annual mortality was 87,920 against 71,875 for the preceding five years. Fever as usual claimed the largest number of victims, while small-pox was extremely prevalent, the average annual mortality from this disease rising from 829 in the previous quinquennium to 6,059 during the period under report. The increase in mortality in the Howrah district is said to be due to greater prevalence of fever and cholera, the cause of which is attributed to the want of proper drainage and the existence of a very large number of dirty and unhealthy tanks both in the municipal and rural areas of the district. It must be noted in all these cases that fever as reported by the chaukidar includes many diseases, and that, as a rule, the majority of deaths reported as due to fever are probably not due to malaria. It is satisfactory to note that the year 1904 was an exceptionally healthy one in the Hooghly district.

Plague.—Except in the districts of Howrah and Hooghly, plague has made little headway in the Division. In the Hooghly district the number of deaths in 1904 was only 52, being less than in any previous year of the quinquennium. In Howrah the average mortality from plague was 217. With the relaxation of the Plague Regulations, the anxiety of the people has passed away, and cases are more freely reported. The Lieutenant-Governor is glad to learn that the people are more fully appreciating the benefits of cleanliness and disinfection.

Emigration and Immigration.—Burdwan, Bankura and Midnapore are the only districts in which emigrants are registered on a large scale, and in each of them there was a decrease compared with the previous quinquennium, although the figures for Burdwan and Bankura show a revival towards the end of the present quinquennium. In Midnapore, on the other hand, the number gradually decreased, till in 1904-05 it came to nothing, owing to the abolition of the garden sardar and the contractors' systems and the introduction of free recruitment under section 92 of Act VI of 1901, all the emigrants being under this section in this district in 1904-05. From Hooghly and Howrah districts there is no emigration. Immigration takes place to a certain extent owing to the influx of labour for employment in the mills, railways and municipalities.

Manufacture and Mines.—The Burdwan Division is fortunate in the number and variety of its manufactures. Silk and tasser, jute, cotton, molasses, shell-lac, rope, iron, brass, bell-metal and hardware, indigo, paper, pottery and mats are some of the principal. It is satisfactory to note that the silk industry in Burdwan, in spite of outside competition, continues, to a very considerable extent, to hold its own. The manufacture of jute and cotton in the numerous mills of the districts of Hooghly and Howrah is the most important industry in the Division. Rope is manufactured on a large scale in the districts of Hooghly and Howrah, and there was a large increase in the outturn as compared with the previous quinquennium. The iron works of Barakar show a great development, while the pottery works at Raniganj in the concluding year of the period under report turned out articles to the value of Rs. 7,04,906, the highest figure hitherto attained. The chief coal-mines of the Division are in the subdivision of Raniganj where the industry has considerably developed in recent years, the annual average output during the five years under report being 2,823,730 tons against 1,826,844 tons in the preceding quinquennium, and the average number of work-people employed 34,312 against 24,715. Under section 9 (1) of the Indian Mines Act, VIII of 1901, a Mining Board was constituted for the Lower Provinces of Bengal consisting of five members, of whom three, including the Chairman, were appointed by Government and two were nominated by owners of mines or their representatives.

Crime, Police and Criminal Justice.—Each year of the quinquennium shows an increase in the number of cognisable cases reported and investigated by the police. From 24,759 cases in 1900 they have mounted to no less than 28,446 cases in 1904. The increase is partly attributable to the large influx of coolies from up-country who are attracted by labour in the mines and who are often recruited from among the most criminal classes and partly to better reporting and increased vigilance on the part of the police. The cases of non-cognisable crime were considerably less at the close of the quinquennium than at the beginning. The Lieutenant-Governor notes with regret that the number of dacoity cases has increased during the quinquennium, the number of persons brought to trial in 1904 being 283, of whom 134 were convicted, as compared with 156 in 1900, of whom only 39 were convicted. In Midnapore some 70 dacoities were committed by the Lodas, an aboriginal tribe mainly found in the Naraingarh and neighbouring thanas, a gang of 39 of whom was tried and sentenced to terms of imprisonment varying from transportation for life to seven years. The conduct of the police force appears to have been fairly satisfactory in Burdwan, Birbhum and Bankura. In Midnapore, Hooghly and Howrah, however, it left much to be desired. The total number of criminal cases disposed of on an average every year during the quinquennium was 26,456 against 27,621 in the preceding period. The Lieutenant-Governor is glad to observe that useful work continued to be done by Benches and Honorary Magistrates sitting singly. It is unsatisfactory, however, to note that in Bankura the ratio per cent. of witnesses detained over two days to the total number examined was 7·7 against 2·7 in the preceding quinquennium. The total amount imposed as fines was Rs. 6,86,933 showing an increase of Rs. 30,859. The balance outstanding at the close of the five years under review shows a considerable improvement, being only 2·9 per cent. against 4·2 per cent. in the preceding quinquennium.

Wards and Attached Estates.—The Burdwan Raj Estate and the Malighati Estate were released from the Court's management on the attainment of their majority by the wards on October 20th and February 18th, 1902, respectively. The former had been under the Court's management for 18 years and the latter for 21 years. The Nayagram Estate was the only one which remained under the management of the Court during the last year of the quinquennium. The Lieutenant-Governor is glad to note that very great advantages have been derived by the estates from the Court's management, and that these advantages have been fully appreciated.

Railways: Public Works: Communications.—The Burdwan Division is singularly well provided with the means of communication, being traversed by several lines of rail and navigable rivers and canals. In railway communications considerable development has taken place during the last five years. In Birbhum, both the Ondal-Sainthia Chord line of the East Indian Railway and the Murshidabad-Ranaghat branch of the Eastern Bengal State Railway were under construction, while the Jheria extension of the Bengal-Nagpur Railway in Midnapore and Bankura was completed during the quinquennium. The construction of the new railways has made it necessary to build feeder roads, and much has been done in all the districts of the Division in this respect. The rapid development of the East Indian and Bengal-Nagpur Railways, which with the Howrah-Amta and the Howrah-Seakhala Light Railways have their terminus at Howrah, has rendered the enlargement and the improvement of that station an urgent necessity. Much has been already done to cope with the increasing traffic and to provide for the entrance of the Bengal-Nagpur Railway in the way of extending the yards and improving the signalling and other arrangements for the sure and convenient running of trains, the number of which has very largely increased during the period under review. Midnapore is also well provided with main canals to the extent of 113 miles and with 283 miles of distributaries. The Midnapore Canal, of 48 miles in length, is used both for irrigation and navigation purposes. The riparian tracts of the districts of Burdwan, Hooghly, Midnapore and Howrah are served by several lines of steamers.

Education.—The figures with regard to education show a curious variation compared with the figures of the previous quinquennium. The number of schools has fallen during the five years under review from 10,763 to 10,170. The number of pupils also shows a decrease from 322,369 to 320,062. The falling off in the number of schools is chiefly noticeable in the Midnapore district where there was a decrease of no less than 872 schools and 11,470 pupils. In Bankura though there was an increase of 30 schools, there was a decrease of 1,473 in the number of pupils. The very large decrease in Midnapore is largely attributable to the fact that under the improved system of inspection many inefficient and fictitious schools have ceased to be returned. The decrease was also mainly confined to Lower Primary schools many of which were converted into Upper Primary schools. In the number of High Schools and of pupils attending them there has been a marked increase, showing that the advantages of higher education have been appreciated throughout the Division. The Lieutenant-Governor also observes with satisfaction that there has been a very decided advance in female education, the number of girls under instruction having risen from 17,717 in 1899-1900 to 29,031 in 1904-05.

Hospitals and Dispensaries.—It is satisfactory to note that the number of dispensaries in the Division has risen from 56 to 64 during the period under review. The seven new dispensaries opened in the Burdwan district were much needed, and it is reported that they have been thoroughly appreciated by the people in the localities in which they have been started. It is to be regretted, however, that there is a very great reluctance among the people themselves to subscribe towards the cost of starting dispensaries even in those portions of the Division where they are most needed and where many of the people are fully in a position to subscribe. While District Boards have shown their willingness to assist the people in starting and maintaining dispensaries, it is impossible to expect them to start and maintain dispensaries entirely at their own cost and on their own initiative. During the period under report a Lepor Asylum was constructed by the Wesleyan Missionary Society in the town of Bankura to the cost of which Government contributed Rs. 1,000. The institution, which is well appointed and efficiently managed, numbered 85 inmates in the last year of the quinquennium.

FORECAST OF THE RABI CROPS OF BENGAL, 1905-1906.

THE following note is published for general information.

R. W. CARLYLE,

Chief Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

The 21st April 1906.

DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE, BENGAL.

FORECAST OF THE RABI CROPS OF BENGAL, 1905-06.

[On an average of the five years ending 1903-04 the area under summer rice which is included in this forecast in the territory to which it relates has represented some 0·3 per cent. of the total area under rice in British India.]

Explanatory.—The present forecast relates to the Province as now constituted, i.e., including Sambalpur and excluding the fourteen districts transferred to the newly formed Province of Eastern Bengal and Assam.

The forecast furnishes estimates of the area and outturn of the rabi crops other than wheat, cotton, oil-seeds and sugarcane to each of which a separate forecast is devoted. The crops included in this forecast are summer rice, barley, gram, tobacco, poppy and other food and non-food crops such as potatoes and other vegetables, also chillies and other spices, all harvested between February and April.

Rabi crops are grown chiefly in the Patna and Bhagalpur divisions. They are not very important in the Orissa, Chota Nagpur and Burdwan divisions in which the principal crop is winter rice. Some of the districts of the Presidency Division, however, grow a good deal of rabi crops, e.g., Nadia, Jessore and Murshidabad.

2. Character of the season.—The rabi crops are sown in October and early in November. During the first of these months rainfall was generally light all over the Province, while there was practically no rain in November. The weather continued fine up to January when there was generally good rain in Behar. There was, however, some damage from hailstorms in Monghyr, Patna, Sambalpur, Palamau and Darbhanga. In February, too, some injury was done by unseasonable and exceptionally heavy rain. There was four times as much rain in Behar as in a normal year. The rain in March, too, unfavourably affected the outturn. On the whole the season has not been favourable.

3. Area cultivated.—The area reported to have been actually sown in the Province as now constituted was 7,349,000 acres, against 7,239,900 acres of last year, and a normal area of 7,745,100 acres. The dates of sowing were on the whole normal.

4. Outturn.—Only one district, namely Balasore, expects a normal crop, and only one other, Khulna, expects nearly a normal crop. Both these (especially Balasore) are unimportant districts so far as rabi cultivation is concerned. Ten districts estimate an outturn of 80 to 89 per cent. and ten more (including most of the Behar districts) estimate between 70 to 79 per cent.; 6 districts estimate only between 60 to 69 per cent., while the remaining 5 districts, viz., Ranchi, Birbhum, Bankura, Palamau and Nadia estimate between 43 and 51 per cent. only.

According to the estimates of the District officers, the outturn of the crops covered by this forecast for the Province as a whole is 75 per cent. of the normal, against 71 per cent. of last year.

5. Gross outturn of summer rice.—The gross outturn of summer rice for the Province is estimated at 1,093,800 cwts. as compared with 1,123,200 cwts. in the preceding year.

The sowing of the crops is reported to have been normal except at Contal, where it was late. The crops are reported to have suffered by the rainfall in February 1905. This accounts for the low estimate of cotton as compared with the output obtained last year.

The weather is favourable and the general condition of the crop is good. The date of sowing was normal. Tobacco is thriving well, as the rainfall was favourable at the time of plantation. The area under rabi cereals and pulses has been revised by the Subdivisional Officer of Khurda.

Owing to the abrupt cessation of rains before October, the planting out of tobacco was late this year, and this also accounts for the decrease in its area. Cloudy weather attended with hail and rain at harvest time affected the output.

The mean pressure, temperature, &c., are deduced from the traces of the Barograph and Thermograph, and from eye observations.

The maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified, and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides, and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected to those of the standard, Newman's No. 86, formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV, and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office, and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The directions and the movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.

The mouth of the rain-gauge is one foot above the ground. Rainfall reported on any day is for 24 hours preceding 8 A.M. of that day.

BIHAR SCHOOL OF ENGINEERING.

PROSPECTUS FOR ADMISSION.

THIS school is under the management of the Principal of the Patna College, assisted by a Board of Visitors. It owes its origin to a fund raised by residents of Bihar to commemorate the visit to India of His Majesty the King when Prince of Wales. The object of the fund was the promotion of technical instruction in Bihar. The school was formally opened on the 11th July 1896 by His Honour the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal.

2. The number of students admitted to the first-year class of each year will be limited to 60. Preference is to be given to Biharis. Failing, however, a sufficient number of Bihari applicants, students who are natives of other provinces may be admitted, preference being given to Bengalis domiciled in Bihar over non-domiciled Bengalis or other applicants.

As far as accommodation is available, students who have passed the final "B" class examination will be admitted to the second-year class, provided they are not over 21 years of age, preference again being given to Biharis and domiciled Bengalis.

3. The school, as at present constituted, is chiefly engaged in training students for appointment as Sub-Overseers and Overseers.

The curriculum includes—

- (1) A sound study of elementary mathematics.
- (2) Careful training in survey work.
- (3) Drawing both free-hand and engineering.
- (4) Elements of road-making and the construction of simple buildings.
- (5) Workshop practice, with hand tools and machinery.

Students are prepared for the Overseer certificate of the Public Works Department. The necessary additional buildings have now been completed; and Government has agreed to reserve one appointment annually for a qualified student from this school, who must be a Bihari by race.

4. The next session will commence on 2nd July 1906.

5. In the Overseer Department, which corresponds to the Apprentice Department of the Sibpur College, the monthly fee is Re. 1-8, except for non-domiciled Bengalis, who shall pay Rs. 3. All scholarship-holders, however, receive free tuition. Government scholarships of the value of Rs. 7 a month, tenable for one year, are awarded each year on the results of the annual examinations, eight being tenable in the second-year class, six in the third-year class, and six in the fourth-year class. Of the scholarships attached to the school, 75 per cent. of them are to be reserved for those students who are Biharis by race. The teaching is in English.

6. Candidates for admission to the Overseer Department must be under 20 years of age, and must have passed one of the tests mentioned below :—

- (1) The entrance examination of an Indian University in English and mathematics.
- (2) Standard VII of the Code of European schools.
- (3) Students who have not passed either of those tests, and who are otherwise eligible, will have to pass an examination in English and mathematics (of about the same standard as the Entrance examination of the Calcutta University in these subjects) to be held by the Principal of the Patna College on the 4th and 5th July, respectively (from 6 A.M. to 9 A.M. each day).

7. Candidates for admission must apply to the Principal not later than the 30th June. Their application must give the following particulars :—

- (a) Name, address, and occupation of father or guardian.
- (b) Race and religion. (A domiciled Bengali must produce evidence to show that his father with his family have taken up their residence in Bihar.)
- (c) A certificate of good moral character from last head-master.
- (d) An attested certificate of age (showing that he is under 20 years of age).
- (e) A medical certificate showing him to be fit for employment in the public service.
- (f) A certificate of having passed either of the first two of the three tests mentioned above, failing which the application will be kept pending till a certificate showing that the candidate has passed the third test is given to the Principal.

8. There is also an Amin class, admission to which may be obtained by students who do not know English. In the Amin class the course of study is for one year, and the monthly fee is Re. 1. An Amin-student is taught elementary surveying with a corresponding amount of mathematics and of geometrical drawing. He will not be admitted to the workshop. A student in the first-year class of the Overseer Department, who fails to pass the examination for promotion to the second-year class, but who has shown an adequate knowledge of elementary surveying and the other subjects taught in the Amin class may, at his option, leave the school with an Amin certificate.

Candidates for Amin class, who have not passed the middle English or middle vernacular examination will be examined at the school on the 4th July; candidates failing at this examination will not be admitted.

9. Except in very special cases, a student will not be admitted to the Amin class for the session that commences from 3rd July 1906, unless application for admission is made before 30th June 1906.

10. All candidates for admission to the school should present themselves personally at the school on the 2nd July.

11. There is a hostel in connection with the school. The fees are Re. 1-8 for room and Re. 1 for light. Students make their own mess arrangements. Students joining the Overseer classes must reside in the hostel unless they are residents with parents or with nearly related guardians whose homes are near enough to enable them to attend the school at the required times. The Principal of the College will decide whether a student should reside in the school hostel, or whether the guardian proposed can be accepted as such.

Bandéli passage—Depths in.

No. 140 (second publication).—The British Admiralty has given notice (No. 279 of 1906) that a recent survey shows that the depths in Bandéli passage, Mayotta island, are less than those shown on the chart. In the entrance three coral reefs exist, the northernmost of the three reefs is situated on the leading line, and has a depth of $3\frac{1}{2}$ fathoms.

The middle reef has a depth of 4 fathoms over it, and the southern reef depths of from 2 to $2\frac{1}{2}$ fathoms over it, but the latter is well clear of the leading line.

The general shape of the reefs which form the sides of this passage, however, does not differ very much from that shown on the chart.

Approximate position, lat. 12° 53' S., long. 45° 17' E.

A note that there is a depth of $3\frac{1}{2}$ fathoms in the passage has been placed on the charts, but a new edition of chart No. 2741 will be issued when the result of the new survey has been received.

The directions for using this passage given in Africa Pilot, Part III, 1905, page 561, still hold good for vessels of a suitable draught for entering.

On the same date the undermentioned aids to navigation would be temporarily placed to mark the works in progress:—

- (a) A light-buoy exhibiting a red fixed light would be moved 400 feet eastward of the lighthouse constructing.
- (b) A vessel from which rockets will be fired, during thick or foggy weather, would be moored 400 feet southward of the light-buoy.
- (c) A white fixed light would be exhibited from the eastern end of the works whilst the lighthouse is under construction.

No. 128 (third publication).—With reference to Notice to Mariners No. 315, dated 7th December 1900, issued by this office, the British Admiralty has given further Notice (No. 246 of 1906) that the search for the Lisatetu rock, off the south-west coast of Bourou island, reported to be situated in lat. $3^{\circ} 39'$ S., long. $126^{\circ} 7'$ E., does not appear to be complete enough to make it certain that this danger does not exist; it has, therefore, been re-inserted on the charts in the above position and marked E. D. as before.

This Notice affects the following Chart :—Eastern Archipelago, No. 942a : Also Eastern Archipelago, part I, 1902, page 451.

EASTERN ARCHIPELAGO—JAVA, NORTH COAST—BATAVIA APPROACH.

Bungin point—Wreck to the north-east has disappeared.

No. 129 (third publication).—With reference to Notice to Mariners No. 347, dated 13th October 1904, issued by this office, the British Admiralty has given further notice (No. 249 of 1906) that information has been received from Commander D. L. Dent, H.M.S. Katoomba, that, on 8th February 1906, his vessel passed the position of the wreck reported to the north-eastward of Bungin point, Java, in approximately lat. $5^{\circ} 49' 30''$ S., long. $107^{\circ} 11' 30''$ E., without seeing it.

In reply to inquiries made at Tanjong Priok, the pilots stated that the wreck was a water-logged derelict, which has since drifted away; it has therefore been expunged from the charts.

This notice affects the following Admiralty Charts :—Eastern archipelago, western portion, No. 941a; Java, western portion, No. 1653 : Also, Eastern Archipelago, part II, 1904, page 94.

CEYLON, WEST COAST—COLOMBO HARBOUR.

Shoal in approach.

No. 130 (third publication).—The British Admiralty has given notice (No. 251 of 1906) of the existence of a rocky ridge, named Onagalla, in the approach to Colombo harbour, with a least depth of $3\frac{1}{2}$ fathoms over its northern end, situated in a position $2\frac{2}{10}$ miles N. 13° W. from the red light on the south-west arm of the breakwater.

The cautionary note respecting mines will, for the present, be retained on the charts until it is known that the whole of the coast in this locality is free from these dangers.

This Notice affects the following Admiralty Charts:—Gulfs of Pechili and Liau tong, No. 1256; Kwang tung peninsula, No. 1798: Also, China Sea Directory, vol. III., 1904, pages 592, 594.

RESOLUTION ON THE GENERAL ADMINISTRATION REPORT OF THE ORISSA DIVISION FOR THE QUINQUENNIAL PERIOD 1900-1901 TO 1904-1905.

REVENUE DEPARTMENT—MISCELLANEOUS.

Darjeeling, the 28th April 1906.

RESOLUTION—No. 261T.R.

READ—

The General Administration Report of the Orissa Division for the quinquennial period from 1900-01 to 1904-05.

THE Lieutenant-Governor has read with much interest the Administration Report of the Orissa Division for the past five years.

2. Material condition of the people—Weather and Crops—Public Health.—The population of the Division being mainly agricultural, its prosperity is very largely dependent upon the variability of the seasons and the consequent condition of the crops. The record of the five years under review is one of repeated alternations of flood and draught which, although fortunately never of a general character, seriously affected local areas. While in 1900-01 heavy floods in certain districts destroyed a large proportion of the crops, other portions of the Division in 1902-03 suffered to such an extent from scanty rainfall that food supplies threatened to run short, and many persons were reported to be living on the margin of starvation. In spite, however, of these periods of temporary and local distress the material condition of the people, as a whole, has been well maintained. That it shows no very marked advance is largely due to the character of the people themselves. Almost entirely agricultural, they have shown little enterprise in the direction of trade and commerce, which, so far as they exist in the Division, are almost entirely in the hands of foreigners. It is to be regretted that the public health of the Division is reported to be less favourable than during the previous quinquennium, though it is pointed out that this apparently increased unhealthiness is probably, to some extent, due to better reporting. While the year 1901, however, was the most unhealthy during the past decade, the year 1904 was the healthiest on record during the same period. Fever, cholera and dysentery are responsible for the largest number of deaths. Small-pox has shown a marked decrease during the last two years of the quinquennium, while plague has fortunately not yet found a home in the Division, only a few imported cases having been recorded. The marked decrease in the annual death-rate in the town of Puri during recent years is evidence of the effect of sanitary works such as the Puri-Baradanda Drainage Scheme, and the generally improved sanitary conditions brought about by constant and assiduous attention to conservancy on the part of the local authorities.

3. Manufactures and mines.—There are no manufactures of great importance in the Division, although a large number of articles are manufactured locally to supply local wants, such as gold and silver ornaments, tassars and cotton cloth, and brass and bell-metal utensils and ornaments. The filigree work of Cuttack, although not largely exported, has a considerable reputation both within and without the province, and a local exhibitor secured a first prize with a silver medal at the Delhi Durbar Exhibition. Tassar and cotton cloths, once largely manufactured by hand-loom throughout the Division, are now failing to compete with imported machine-made goods, and the industry is consequently on the decline, many of the weavers deserting it for more profitable employment. There are no mines in the Division but laterite and sand-stone are quarried for building and road metalling purposes.

4. Trade and Commerce.—The sea-borne trade of the Division during the five years under review shows, on the whole, a steady recovery from the check which it received from the opening of the railway. The total value of the export trade from Cuttack shows a considerable increase, which is chiefly due to the larger quantities of rice and paddy despatched to foreign ports where there was a steady demand for food-grains. In Balasore, there was a large decrease in the import trade which the railway is gradually appropriating. In Puri, the export trade has been subject to variations owing to the fluctuations in the demand for rice in Colombo and Mauritius, the surplus produce being carried off by rail when there is no demand in those places.

5. Crime—Criminal Justice—Police.—The Lieutenant-Governor is glad to observe that crime in the Division has shown a steady decrease during the five years under review. At the commencement of the quinquennium it had reached the highest point which it has ever attained, having almost doubled during the years 1895—1900. This extraordinary rise was attributable partly to the numerous disputes arising out of the last settlement proceedings which disturbed the relations between landlords and tenants, and partly to the construction of the Cuttack-Calcutta extension of the Bengal-Nagpur Railway which brought a large number of foreigners into the province. The steady and continuous decrease of crime during the last five years would, however, tend to show that the province is once more returning to its normal condition, though criminal statistics for 1905 still show a considerable increase over those of ten years ago. But it is satisfactory to note that serious crime is rare throughout Orissa. The Uriyas are, in general, a peaceful and law-abiding people, and professional criminals are almost unknown in the Division. There has been a slight increase in the number of cases declared false during the quinquennium, and the result of prosecutions in them shows considerable improvement. All cases appear to have been disposed of promptly in Cuttack and Balasore, but in Puri there has again been much delay. The necessity for greater promptness was urged in last year's Resolution and the attention of local officers must again be drawn to the subject. There has been a satisfactory decrease in the number of officers and men of the police force punished during the quinquennium, and the Lieutenant-Governor observes with pleasure that the general conduct and working of the force show considerable improvement throughout the Province. The village Chaukidari Act since its introduction into the Division at the close of the previous quinquennial period, has worked smoothly: The conduct of the chaukidars was generally good.

6. Registration—Land Revenue—Attached and Wards Estates.—The remarkable increase of 72 per cent. in the divisional average number of registrations during the quinquennium is attributed to the last settlement which has made every raiyat fully aware of the position and legal status of his holding. Although the validity of every transfer of land still depends upon the consent of the zamindar, the facilities for transfer afforded by the settlement have led to a very large increase in their number, with a corresponding increase in the receipts and a considerable surplus over expenditure. The total number of estates in the Division was 6,862 at the close of the quinquennium as compared with 6,585 at its commencement. The percentage of current collections on current demand has risen considerably during the period under review, standing at 99·2 in 1904-05. Taking into consideration the large enhancement of revenue at the last settlement, this high percentage of collections is extremely satisfactory and would seem to suggest the view that the settlement record has, in fact, facilitated the collection of rent. It is also satisfactory to note that the percentage of the gross collections on the gross demand of revenue due from estates under direct management, was higher in the last year of the quinquennium than in any previous year of the last decade.

The Kanika and Madhupur estates in the district of Cuttack, and the Rorang Estate in the Puri district, were under the management of the Court of Wards at the commencement of the quinquennium, but were all released on the minor proprietors attaining their majority during 1902-1903. Kanika, which is the premier zamindari of the Cuttack district, was under the management of the Court for nearly forty years, and during that time it has very largely increased in value and importance. Apparently hopelessly involved at the outset, it is now completely freed from debt, while over a lakh of rupees annually has been added to its rent-roll, and nearly a lakh-and-a-half has been handed over as cash balance on release together with Government Promissory notes of the full value of two lakhs and seventy thousand. The result is one which does credit to the management of the Court. Subsequently, the Dompara Estate in the Cuttack district, and the Parikud estate in Puri, came under the Court's management in 1904. There were no Attached Estates under the Court of Wards during the period under review.

7. Railways—Public Works—Communications.—The previous quinquennium was the period of rapid railway extension, and during the last five years the only addition has been a light railway connecting Baripada, the chief town of the Tributary State of Moharbhaj, with the Rupsa station of the Bengal-Nagpur Railway, constructed entirely by the Maharaja of Moharbhaj, though at present worked by the Bengal Nagpur Railway. It specially provides for the conveyance of pilgrims to Puri during the great religious festivals, thus preventing to a very large extent the outbreak and spread of epidemic diseases. In spite of the introduction of the railway, the canals of Orissa are still of great importance to the Division. As a means of navigation they have lost the position they once held and receipts have fallen by nearly 50 per cent. The important goods traffic between Cuttack and Calcutta which formerly passed by way of the canals to Chandbali, and thence to its destination by sea, has now been appropriated by the railway. But as a means of irrigation the canals still play a large part and by ensuring the country against famine and preventing a repetition of the terrible distress experienced in former times of scarcity, they are still of very real service to Orissa. With regard to roads much progress has not been made in Cuttack and Balasore which only have 34 and 37 miles of metalled roads respectively. In Puri, however, which is well supplied naturally with laterite, the mileage was increased by 56 per cent.

The construction and improvement of feeder roads received due attention, the Provincial Government contributing 90,000 rupees to this object.

7. Education.—The Lieutenant-Governor is gratified to note that remarkable progress has been made in education among girls during recent years. This has been particularly marked in Balasore. At the close of the last quinquennium the number of girls under instruction in that district was given as 2,005. In 1904-05 the number had risen to 7,462, or by almost 350 per cent. This large increase among the number of girls synchronises with a considerable decrease in the number of boys under instruction, which fell from 33,230 in 1899-1900 to 28,670 in 1904-05 partly owing to the somewhat injudicious diversion of expenditure from boys' to girls' schools. With larger funds it will now be possible not to stint expenditure on schools for either boys or girls. There were four training schools and ten industrial schools in the Division. The Lieutenant-Governor learns with pleasure that there has been a very noticeable increase in the number of pupils during the past quinquennium.

8. Local Self-Government.—There was no change in the number of District and Local Boards during the period under review. The Lieutenant-Governor notes with satisfaction that distinct progress has been made in Municipal efficiency. The Cuttack Municipality, which met with much adverse criticism during the previous quinquennium, has now established its solvency, and though it still falls short of the average standard of efficiency, hopeful advance has been made, and the Municipal Commissioners show signs of awakening more fully to a sense of their responsibility.

9. Relations between landlords and tenants.—The Lieutenant-Governor is pleased to observe that the relations between landlords and tenants have been, on the whole, satisfactory during the period under review. In certain localities, however, some friction has arisen and instances have been brought to light in which zamindars have endeavoured to realize rent at the old rates instead of at the reduced ones introduced by the new settlement. But these are isolated cases, and systematic oppression of tenants by their zamindars is rare in Orissa. It is satisfactory to note that several of the zamindars of the Division have deserved special mention for their benefactions and humane conduct towards their tenants.

10. Political.—The distribution of the rainfall was very uneven in the district of Angul and the Khondmala, and the crops were considerably affected. The principal crops are paddy, millets, pulses, oilseeds, cotton, tobacco, sugarcane and turmeric. Owing to the variations in the rainfall, the quinquennial average of the rice crop did not exceed 75 per cent. of an average crop. The general health of the district was fairly good throughout the period under review. The number of vaccinations has very largely increased since the introduction of licensed vaccinators. The population consists almost entirely of cultivators and labourers. Such industries as exist are chiefly for local consumption and in most cases fail adequately to supply the local demand. The Agricultural and Industrial Exhibition recently opened at Angul has already produced a perceptible improvement in certain local industries such as pottery, bell-metal, and iron works. The local weavers have felt keenly the effects of competition with cheap imported cloth, and their industry needs every encouragement and support that can be given to it. The chief need of the district is the introduction of the railway without which its full development cannot be attained. At present the nearest railway stations are at Cuttack and Sambalpur, 64 and 106 miles distant from the head-quarters of Angul.

11. Miscellaneous.—There are eleven Co-operative Credit Societies in the Division, which have been started with the object of relieving the indebtedness of the raiyat. It is satisfactory to note that the people appear fully to understand the working of them and to appreciate the benefits they offer. An experimental farm has been started in Cuttack.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

R. W. CARLYLE,

Chief Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

The mean pressure, temperature, &c., are deduced from the traces of the Barograph and Thermograph, and from eye observations.

The maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified, and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides, and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected to those of the standard, Newman's No. 86, formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV, and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office, and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The directions and the movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.

The mouth of the rain-gauge is one foot above the ground. Rainfall reported on any day is for 24 hours preceding 8 A.M. of that day.

The examination will be conducted either at the College, or by an Examiner, Public Works Accounts (including Railway and Telegraph), in Bengal, Assam and Burma only. The examination will be ipso facto vitiated, if it be not held (begun and completed) on the dates fixed; but the officer who will conduct the examination may make his own arrangements, in regard to the place and hour of examination, with the candidates.

Candidates will not be examined in any of the Calcutta offices.

A candidate already in permanent Government employ* may be allowed to compete in

* This term includes employment under Local Boards and foreign bodies, if such is pensionable by the British Government.

the examination, even if he is more than 25 years of age, and may be appointed to an accountantship if he passes it; but if he is not already in pensionable service, he will be eligible only for appointment to the non-pensionable establishment on State Railways.

2. The candidate should apply to an Examiner of Public Works Accounts, not later than 30 days previous to the date fixed for the examination, and obtain his consent to conduct the examination, if examination at the College is not convenient. The application must bear the address of the candidate, must be accompanied by a fee of Rs. 10 and the following certificates, and must be forwarded by him, not direct to the Principal, but through the Examiner.

Certificates may be submitted in original, or true copies attested by an officer of the Engineer or Accounts Branch, but none will be returned:—

(1) Certificate of good character signed by applicant's immediate official superior, or by the instructor under whom he has been educated or by some other superior under whom he may have been brought up or employed, or to whom he may be well known. (This certificate must have special reference to the two years immediately preceding the application.)

(2) Certificate of age (baptismal or birth) not required if the candidate is already in permanent Government employ.

(3) Certificate that the application is in the candidate's hand-writing.

NOTE.—A candidate already in Government service should, in like manner, submit his application through his immediate official superior, to an Examiner of Accounts qualified to hold the particular examination, and should state whether he desires to be examined at the office of the Examiner of Accounts concerned or at the College.

It will rest with the Examiner of Accounts, to whom the candidate submits his application, to decide, on a consideration of the certificates submitted, whether the candidate should be allowed to appear for the examination or whether his application should be rejected. The Examiner of Accounts will then forward to the Principal, for registration, the names of the accepted candidates. The names of these candidates should be entered in a statement showing their ages and their addresses and also showing where each candidate is to be examined, whether at the College or at the office of the Examiner of Accounts. This statement, together with the fees, should be transmitted to the Principal not later than 15 days after the dates fixed in paragraph 2 for the submission of application of candidates.

3. Examination papers that are issued for examination need not be returned.

4. Each examination is complete in itself. A candidate who has failed in an examination, and presents himself for examination on a subsequent occasion, must undergo the full examination and furnish fresh fee and certificates.

5. If from any cause a candidate fails to appear for the examination, the fee paid will not be refunded.

6. Passed candidates should apply, not to the Principal of the College, nor to the Accountant-General, Public Works Department, but direct to the Examiner of Public Works Accounts, in the province or railway under whom they may desire to be employed.

7. It must be distinctly understood that the passing of this examination does not give any claim to an appointment, and that in making appointments, preference will be given to qualified persons who are already employed in the Department.

8. The Civil Engineering College acts solely as an examining body in reference to admission to the 4th grade of Accountants, Public Works Department.

9. Candidates for the 4th grade Accountantship examination, who are not Government servants and over 25 years of age, are allowed to appear at the examination, at the Sibpur College centre only, but, even if successful, they are debarred from employment in the service of Government, and their names will be excluded from the list of passed candidates which is furnished to the Accountant-General, Public Works Department.

10. Candidates over 25 years of age should apply in writing to the Principal of the Civil Engineering College, not later than 30 days previous to the examination; the application to be accompanied by the fee of Rupees ten.

SIBPUR,
The 5th May 1906.

B. HEATON,
Principal, Civil Engineering College.

BIHAR SCHOOL OF ENGINEERING.

PROSPECTUS FOR ADMISSION.

THIS school is under the management of the Principal of the Patna College, assisted by a Board of Visitors. It owes its origin to a fund raised by residents of Bihar to commemorate the visit to India of His Majesty the King when Prince of Wales. The object of the fund was the promotion of technical instruction in Bihar. The school was formally opened on the 11th July 1896 by His Honour the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal.

2. The number of students admitted to the first-year class of each year will be limited to 60. Preference is to be given to Biharis. Failing, however, a sufficient number of Bihari applicants, students who are natives of other provinces may be admitted, preference being given to Bengalis domiciled in Bihar over non-domiciled Bengalis or other applicants.

As far as accommodation is available, students who have passed the final "B" class examination will be admitted to the second-year class, provided they are not over 21 years of age, preference again being given to Biharis and domiciled Bengalis.

3. The school, as at present constituted, is chiefly engaged in training students for appointment as Sub-Overseers and Overseers.

The curriculum includes—

- (1) A sound study of elementary mathematics.
- (2) Careful training in survey work.
- (3) Drawing both free-hand and engineering.
- (4) Elements of road-making and the construction of simple buildings.
- (5) Workshop practice, with hand tools and machinery.

Students are prepared for the Overseer certificate of the Public Works Department. The necessary additional buildings have now been completed; and Government has agreed to reserve one appointment annually for a qualified student from this school, who must be a Bihari by race.

4. The next session will commence on 2nd July 1906.

5. In the Overseer Department, which corresponds to the Apprentice Department of the Sibpur College, the monthly fee is Re. 1-8, except for non-domiciled Bengalis, who shall pay Rs. 3. All scholarship-holders, however, receive free tuition. Government scholarships of the value of Rs. 7 a month, tenable for one year, are awarded each year on the results of the annual examinations, eight being tenable in the second-year class, six in the third-year class, and six in the fourth-year class. Of the scholarships attached to the school, 75 per cent. of them are to be reserved for those students who are Biharis by race. The teaching is in English.

6. Candidates for admission to the Overseer Department must be under 20 years of age, and must have passed one of the tests mentioned below:—

- (1) The entrance examination of an Indian University in English and mathematics.
- (2) Standard VII of the Code of European schools.
- (3) Students who have not passed either of these tests, and who are otherwise eligible, will have to pass an examination in English and mathematics (of about the same standard as the Entrance examination of the Calcutta University in these subjects) to be held by the Principal of the Patna College on the 4th and 5th July, respectively (from 6 A.M. to 9 A.M. each day).

7. Candidates for admission must apply to the Principal not later than the 30th June. Their application must give the following particulars :—

- (a) Name, address, and occupation of father or guardian.
- (b) Race and religion. (A domiciled Bengali must produce evidence to show that his father with his family have taken up their residence in Bihar.)
- (c) A certificate of good moral character from last head-master.
- (d) An attested certificate of age (showing that he is under 20 years of age).
- (e) A medical certificate showing him to be fit for employment in the public service.
- (f) A certificate of having passed either of the first two of the three tests mentioned above, failing which the application will be kept pending till a certificate showing that the candidate has passed the third test is given to the Principal.

8. There is also an Amin class, admission to which may be obtained by students who do not know English. In the Amin class the course of study is for one year, and the monthly fee is Re. 1. An Amin-student is taught elementary surveying with a corresponding amount of mathematics and of geometrical drawing. He will not be admitted to the workshop. A student in the first-year class of the Overseer Department, who fails to pass the examination for promotion to the second-year class, but who has shown an adequate knowledge of elementary surveying and the other subjects taught in the Amin class may, at his option, leave the school with an Amin certificate.

Candidates for Amin class, who have not passed the middle English or middle vernacular examination will be examined at the school on the 4th July; candidates failing at this examination will not be admitted.

9. Except in very special cases, a student will not be admitted to the Amin class for the session that commences from 3rd July 1906, unless application for admission is made before 30th June 1906.

10. All candidates for admission to the school should present themselves personally at the school on the 2nd July.

11. There is a hostel in connection with the school. The fees are Re. 1-8 for room and Re. 1 for light. Students make their own mess arrangements. Students joining the Overseer classes must reside in the hostel unless they are residents with parents or with nearly related guardians whose homes are near enough to enable them to attend the school at the required times. The Principal of the College will decide whether a student should reside in the school hostel, or whether the guardian proposed can be accepted as such.

With reference to Notice to Mariners No. 365 of 1904 :—
